1967 Jim Blake, 2015-08-30 This book looks at an important turning point in the history of the bus industry in Britain 1967 was the penultimate year to the end of an era when private and semi nationalized company s operated the bus networks in this country After 1967 the network was never the same again with the formation of the National Bus Company in 1968 The NBC was a very bland organization compared to the colourful bus companies that had existed before nationalization and many small municipal fleets amalgamated to form Passenger Transport Executives This comprehensive volume covers a large number of the bus companies throughout the country in 1967 and also has a good readable narrative describing Jim Blake s journeys travelling on these services across Britain      Preserved Buses & Coaches Mike Pinder, HB Publications Ltd, 2011 Southdown Buses in Preservation Simon Stanford, 2024-07-15 Rare and previously unpublished photographs celebrating the preserved buses of this iconic operator      Bus Preservation & Rallies Malcolm Batten, 2023-06-30 The preservation of our transport heritage is something that the British excel at The Buses magazine Museum Rally Guide 2020 21 lists forty museums in the United Kingdom plus one in the Republic of Ireland with collections of buses and sometimes trams or trolleybuses amongst their exhibits The rally calendar section lists hundreds of events taking part every year This has all developed since the 1950s Prior to this a few far sighted companies such as The London General Omnibus Company later London Transport had put aside some old vehicles but they were not on regular display Private preservation started in the 1950s and the first clubs for preservationists were established such as the Historic Commercial Vehicle Club in 1958 A few early events were held but the first regular event was the HCVC now HCVS London to Brighton Run which began in 1962 and has continued ever since Museum sites were established in the 1960s The Museum of British Transport opened in stages between 1961 and 1963 and would lead eventually to the London Transport Museum The East Anglian Transport Museum at Carlton Colville and the Sandtoft Transport Centre both opened in the 1960s But it would be the 1970s when the rallies and Open Days we know today really began to take off This book looks back at the formative years to 1980 when the seeds of the preservation and rally movement of today were being sown      London Transport Buses, Trams and Trolleybuses in

Furness, 2014-03-31 The Buses and Coaches of Bristol and Eastern Coach Works outlines the history of Bristol Commercial Vehicles and Eastern Coach Works ECW two manufacturers that together developed some of the most familiar buses and coaches of the twentieth century The book covers the full production histories and specifications for the standard range of models produced from 1936 to 1983 The variety of engines used to power Bristol ECW is outlined and a mechanical specification for each chassis is provided along with a description of the different body styles produced by ECW for each chassis There is also a chapter on owners experiences and advice on buying a bus for preservation

London Transport's Last Buses Matthew Wharmby, 2016-02-29 The Olympian was Leyland's answer to the competition that was threatening to take custom away from its second generation OMO double deck products Simpler than the London Transport-centric Titan but unlike that integral model able to respond to the market by being offered as a chassis for bodying by the bodybuilder of the customer's choice the Olympian was an immediate success and soon replaced both the Atlantean and Bristol VRT as the standard double decker of the NBC It wasn't until 1984 that London Transport itself dabbled with the model taking three for evaluation alongside trios of contemporary double deckers The resulting L class spawned an order for 260 more in 1986 featuring accessibility advancements developed by LT in concert with the Ogle design consultancy but the rapid changes engulfing the organisation meant that no more were ordered During the 1990s company ownerships shifted repeatedly as the ethos of competition gave way to the cold reality of big business an unstable situation which even saw London's bus operations broken up The L class was split between three new companies but the backlog of older vehicles to replace once corporate interests released funding ensured the buses up to a further decade in service Finally as low floor buses swept into the capital at the turn of the century Olympian operation at last declined and the final examples operated early in 2006 This profusely illustrated book describes the diversity of liveries ownerships and deployments that characterised the London Leyland Olympians two decades of service
