Conserving Cultural Landscapes Ken Taylor, Archer St. Clair, Nora J. Mitchell, 2014-09-19 New approaches to both cultural landscapes and historic urban landscapes increasingly recognize the need to guide future change rather than simply protecting the fabric of the past Challenging traditional notions of historic preservation Conserving Cultural Landscapes takes a dynamic multifaceted approach to conservation It builds on the premise that a successful approach to urban and cultural landscape conservation recognizes cultural as well as natural values sustains traditional connections to place and engages people in stewardship where they live and work It brings together academics within the humanities and humanistic social sciences conservation and preservation professionals practitioners and stakeholders to rethink the meaning and practice of cultural heritage conservation encourage international cooperation and stimulate collaborative research and scholarship

Cultural Landscapes Richard W. Longstreth, 2008 Preservation has traditionally focused on saving prominent buildings of historical or architectural significance Preserving cultural landscapes the combined fabric of the natural and man made environments is a relatively new and often misunderstood idea among preservationists but it is of increasing importance The essays collected in this volume case studies that include the Little Tokyo neighborhood in Los Angeles the Cross Bronx Expressway and a rural island in Puget Sound underscore how this approach can be fruitfully applied Together they make clear that a cultural landscape perspective

Vintage Wisconsin Gardens Lee Somerville, 2013-11-06 As Wisconsin's population moved from farmsteads into villages towns and cities the state saw a growing interest in gardening as a leisure activity and source of civic pride In Vintage Wisconsin Gardens Lee Somerville introduces readers to the region's ornamental gardens of the nineteenth and early twentieth centuries showcasing the vernacular gardens created by landscaping enthusiasts for their own use and pleasure The Wisconsin State Horticultural Society established during the mid nineteenth century was the primary source of advice for home gardeners Through carefully selected excerpts from WSHS articles Somerville shares the excitement of these gardeners as they traded cultivation and design knowledge and explored the possibilities of their avocation Women were frequent presenters at the WSHS annual meetings and their voices resonate Their writings and those of their male colleagues are a remarkable legacy we can draw on today learning how Wisconsin's past created and enjoyed their gardens helps us appreciate our own. Filled with period and contemporary images, recommended plant lists and garden layouts, Vintage Wisconsin Gardens will interest those curious about the history of the state's cultural landscape and inspire readers to restore or reconstruct period gardens.

Making Industrial Pittsburgh Modern Edward K. Muller, Joel A. Tarr, 2019-10-22 Pittsburgh's explosive industrial and population growth between the mid nineteenth century and the Great Depression required constant attention to city building. Private profit oriented firms often with government involvement provided necessary transportation, energy resources and suitable industrial and residential sites. Meeting these requirements in the region's challenging hilly topographical and riverine environment resulted in the dramatic reshaping of the natural landscape. At the same time the Pittsburgh region's free market private enterprise emphasis created socio economic imbalances and badly polluted the air, water and land. Industrial stagnation temporarily interrupted by wars and then followed deindustrialization inspired the formation of powerful public private partnerships to address the region's mounting infrastructural, economic and social problems. The sixteen essays in Making Industrial Pittsburgh Modern examine important aspects of the modernizing efforts to make Pittsburgh and Southwestern Pennsylvania a successful metropolitan region. The city building experiences continue to influence the region's economic transformation, spatial structure and life experience.

Cultural Landscapes of South Asia Kapila Silva, Amita Sinha, 2016-10-14 Winner of the Environmental Design Research Association's 2018 Achievement Award. The pluralism of South Asia belies any singular reading of its heritage. In spite of this diversity its cultural traditions retain certain attributes that are at their core: South Asian in their capacity to self organize, enact and reinvent cultural memories and in their ability to retain an intimate connection with nature and landscape. This volume focuses on the notion of cultural landscape as a medium integrating multiple forms of heritage and points to a new paradigm for conservation practices in the South Asian context. Even though the construct of cultural landscape has been accepted as a category of heritage, its potent use in heritage management in general and within the South Asian context in particular has not been widely studied. The volume challenges the prevalent views of heritage management in South Asia that are entrenched in colonial legacies and contemporary global policy frameworks.

American Chinatowns Chuo Li, 2025-05-30 American Chinatowns Race, Identity and Postwar Urban Redevelopment offers a captivating exploration of the vibrant yet contested landscapes of Chinatowns across the United States. Through a critical and nuanced lens, Li examines how postwar urban redevelopment, racial dynamics and identity politics have profoundly transformed these iconic neighborhoods. Blending rich historical research with sharp analysis, this book uncovers the interplay of race, urban planning ideologies and social equity, shedding light on how Chinatowns navigate resilience and reinvention amid shifting urban paradigms. Li's work highlights the tension between cultural preservation and modernization, exploring the built environment alongside community driven spatial activism to reveal how these urban spaces persist as sites of resistance, identity and transformation. American Chinatowns is a compelling study of cultural landscape, urban justice and the politics of city making.

This book is essential reading for scholars urbanists and anyone intrigued by the intersection of race identity and the evolving narratives of America s cities This book invites readers to rethink the meaning of place heritage and equity in the urban fabric      Material Culture in America Helen Sheumaker, Shirley Wajda, 2007-11-07 The first encyclopedia to look at the study of material culture objects images spaces technology production and consumption and what it reveals about historical and contemporary life in the United States Reaching back 400 years Material Life in America An Encyclopedia is the first reference showing what the study of material culture reveals about American society revelations not accessible through traditional sources and methods In nearly 200 entries the encyclopedia traces the history of artifacts concepts and ideas industries peoples and cultures cultural productions historical forces periods and styles religious and secular rituals and traditions and much more Everyone from researchers and curators to students and general readers will find example after example of how the objects and environments created or altered by humans reveal as much about American life as diaries documents and texts      National Register Bulletin ,1994
