Preservation and Protest Ryan Patrick McLaughlin, 2014-11-01 Preservation and Protest proposes a novel taxonomy of four paradigms of nonhuman theological ethics by exploring the intersection of tensions between value terms and teleological terms McLaughlin systematically develops the paradigm of cosmocentric transfiguration arguing that the entire cosmos shares in the eschatological hope of a harmonious participation in God's triune life With this paradigm McLaughlin offers an alternative to anthropocentric and conservationist paradigms within the Christian tradition an alternative that affirms both scientific claims about natural history and the theological hope for eschatological redemption Protecting Nature,

Introduction to Wolfhart Pannenberg's Systematic Theology Gunther Wenz, 2012-11-21 As one of the great thinkers of our time Wolfhart Pannenberg has influenced the history of Christian theology and philosophy of religion since the second half of the 20th century His Systematic Theology and many of his other works have become classics in the theological science In this introduction Gunther Wenz examines the main pillars of Pannenberg s theology the self manifestation of God the Trinitarian God the creation of the world Christology anthropology pneumatology eschatology and ecclesiology The book thereby offers a valuable guide to comprehending Pannenberg s Systematic Theology in the context of his most relevant writings East Contra Costa County Habitat Conservation Plan and Natural Community Conservation Plan ,2006 Digital Preservation Metadata for Practitioners Angela Dappert,Rebecca Squire Guenther,Sébastien Peyrard,2016-12-19 This book begins with an introduction to fundamental issues related to digital preservation metadata before proceeding to in depth coverage of issues concerning its practical use and implementation It helps readers to understand which options need to be considered in specifying a digital preservation metadata profile to ensure it matches their individual content types technical infrastructure and organizational needs Further it provides practical guidance and examples and raises important questions It does not provide full fledged implementation solutions as such solutions can by definition only be specific to a given preservation context As such the book effectively bridges the gap between the formal specifications provided in a standard such as the PREMIS Data Dictionary a de facto standard that defines the core metadata required by most preservation repositories and specific implementations Anybody who needs to manage digital assets in any form with the intent of preserving them for an indefinite period of time will find this book a valuable resource The PREMIS Data Dictionary provides a data model consisting of basic entities objects agents events and rights and basic properties called semantic units that describe them The key challenge addressed is that of determining which information one needs to keep together with one s digital assets so that they can be understood and used in the long term in other words exactly which metadata one needs The book will greatly benefit beginners and current practitioners alike It is equally targeted at digital preservation repository managers and metadata analysts who are responsible for digital preservation metadata as it is at students in Library Information and Archival Science degree programs or related fields Further it can be used at the conception stage of a digital preservation system or for self auditing an existing system Main Challenges for Christian Theology Today Christophe Chalamet,Lit Verlag,2020-10 In this volume on the basis of three consultations which took place in Seoul and Geneva 2016 2017 2018 theologians from Yonsei University s College of Theology in Seoul South Korea and from the Theological Faculty at the University of Geneva reflect together on three of the main challenges facing Christian theology today First questions related to religious pluralism and multiple religious belonging are addressed Second the promise of an enhanced human being through technology and other means is discussed Third the reality of the threat humanity represents to our ecosystem is considered Each of these themes is examined from a Korean as well as from a Western European perspective for Christian theology in our day can no longer afford to remain limited to its own geographical context Bonhoeffer and Climate Change Dianne Rayson,2021-05-25 Where is the voice of theology in the public discourse around anthropogenic climate

In the beginning God created Thus begins the Bible s story of a long conversation between God and creatures one in which humans are often the least edifying contributors They need to learn what it means to confess themselves creatures if they are to begin to understand what it means to be human and how to live Joining Creation s Praise a major statement by a leading Christian ethicist shows how confessing that we are creatures deeply reshapes every aspect of Christian thinking and living Human beings are made to embody Christ s image in the world not as dominators but as conduits of divine life In this comprehensive yet clear volume of theological ethics Brian Brock follows the first few chapters of Genesis in order to discover the things that the sages of Israel took to be crucial for the ethical life of human beings among other creatures in God's world. Informed by theological rigor and careful exegesis, the many ethical reflections in this volume allow an ancient wisdom to shed fresh light on very postmodern ethical questions about conversion, life with God, knowledge and wisdom, dominion, Sabbath, vocation, economics, human dignity, our relationship with the rest of creation, sexuality, marriage, family, sin, death, and politics.

Conservation in Chilean Patagonia Juan Carlos Castilla, Juan J. Armesto Zamudio, María José Martínez-Harms, David Tecklin, 2024-01-03 Chilean Patagonia, located at the southwestern tip of South America, is one of the last regions on earth where highly intact environments predominate. With a coastline that extends along some 100,000 km of fjords, channels, and islands, it has one of the world's most extensive marine-terrestrial interfaces. Local, place-based, and Indigenous cultures and management practices are a vital presence across the region, while the long and rich history of conservation efforts has resulted in officially protected areas covering over 50% of the land and 41% of the coastal marine area. However, Chilean Patagonia is increasingly facing anthropogenic pressures associated with increased infrastructure and access, salmon aquaculture, extractive industries, and the spread of invasive exotic species. Despite widespread recognition that Chilean Patagonia represents a unique global reservoir of socio-natural heritage, to date there has been no region-wide assessment of the scientific evidence of the conservation status of its ecosystems or the priorities for their effective conservation. Conservation in Chilean Patagonia: Assessing the state of knowledge, opportunities, and challenges is the first book to gather and synthesize the available scientific and socio-environmental information related to Patagonian conservation. It presents the collaborative work of 68 researchers and local experts representing a range of specialties and perspectives, including biology, ecology, socio-ecology, fisheries, aquaculture, anthropology, economics, geography, tourism, cryosphere, oceanography, climate, and global change. The book's 18 chapters focus on the status of key ecosystems and conservation tools and provide recommendations toward the construction of a renewed, inclusive, and integrated conservation agenda for the Chilean Patagonian region. It provides an essential primer for anyone interested in the future of this ecologically vital region, as well as lessons on interdisciplinary collaboration and integrated analysis of conservation issues useful for conservation practitioners and scholars. This is an open-access book. This book is a translation of an original Spanish edition. The translation was done with the help of artificial intelligence machine translation by the service DeepL.com. A subsequent human revision was done primarily in terms of content so that the book will read stylistically differently from a conventional translation.

The Greening of Faith John E. Carroll, Paul Brockelman, 2016-10-04 The recent release of Pope Francis's much-discussed encyclical on the environment, Laudato Si', "On Care for Our Common Home," has reinforced environmental issues as also moral and spiritual issues. This anthology, twenty years ahead of the encyclical but very much in line with its agenda, offers essays by fifteen philosophers, theologians, and environmentalists who argue for a response to ecology that recognizes the tools of science but includes a more spiritual approach, one with a more humanistic, holistic view based on inherent reverence toward the natural world Writers whose orientations range from Buddhism to evangelical Christianity to Catholicism to Native American beliefs explore ways to achieve this paradigm shift and suggest that the environment is not only a spiritual issue but the spiritual issue of our time Conservation of Fish, Birds and Game Canada.
