Pretty Pictures Production Design And The History Film:

Pretty Pictures C. S. Tashiro, 1997 Theories of film have traditionally dealt with either narrative or industrial issues with the consequence that the physical content of the graphic frame has often been ignored or relegated to the sidelines By contrast C S Tashiro foregrounds the visual aspect of cinema in this book drawing on his experiences as a designer and filmmaker as well as on contemporary theory to show how production design can support or contradict narrative structure or exist in an entirely parallel realm of meaning Tashiro looks at cinematic production design from a broadly interdisciplinary perspective encompassing art and architecture theory audience reception narrative theory and phenomenology to arrive at a more encompassing definition of the process He builds his argument around studies of several prominent history films since design is central to historical representation and explores the most pertinent issues raised by the topic particularly commodity consumption In his conclusion he also offers possible solutions to some of the social problems raised by design Jacket

Production Design & the Cinematic Home Jane Barnwell, 2022-05-10 This book uses in depth case studies to explore the significance of the design of the home on screen The chapters draw widely upon the production designer's professional perspective and particular creative point of view The case studies employ a methodology Barnwell has pioneered for the analysis of production design called Visual Concept Analysis which can be used as a key to decode the design of any given film Through the nurturing warmth of the Browns home in Paddington the ambiguous boundaries of secret service agent homes in Tinker Tailor Soldier Spy and the singleton space occupied by Bridget Jones Barnwell demonstrates that the domestic interior consistently plays a key role Whether used as a transition space an ideal a catalyst for change or a place to return to these case studies examine the pivotal nature of the home in storytelling and the production designers significance in its creation The book benefits from interviews with production designers and artwork that provides insight on the creative process

Henry Bumstead and the World of Hollywood Art Direction Andrew Horton, 2010-01-01 From a hotel in Marrakech in The Man Who Knew Too Much to small town Alabama in To Kill a

Mockingbird to Mission Control in Space Cowboys creating a fictional yet wholly believable world in which to film a movie has been the passion and life's work of Henry Bumstead one of Hollywood's most celebrated production designers In a career that has spanned nearly seventy years Bumstead has worked on more than one hundred movies and television films His many honors include Academy Awards for Art Direction for To Kill a Mockingbird and The Sting as well as nominations for Vertigo and The Unforgiven This popularly written and extensively illustrated book tells the intertwining stories of Henry Bumstead's career and the evolution of Hollywood art direction Andrew Horton combines his analysis of Bumstead's design work with wide ranging interviews in which Bumstead talks about working with top directors including Alfred Hitchcock George Roy Hill Robert Mulligan and Clint Eastwood as well as such stars as Paul Newman Robert Redford Doris Day Jimmy Stewart Sidney Poitier Bill Cosby Jerry Lewis and James Cagney Numerous production drawings storyboards and film stills illustrate how Bumstead's designs translated to film This portrait of Bumstead's career underscores an art director's crucial role in shaping the look of a film and also tracks the changes in production design from the studio era through location shooting to today's use of high tech special effects

Film Architecture and the Transnational Imagination Tim Bergfelder, Sue Harris, Sarah Street, 2007 Summary Film Architecture and the Transnational Imagination presents for the first time a comparative study of European film set design in the late 1920s and 1930s based on a wealth of designers' drawings film stills and archival documents the book offers a new insight into the development and significance of transnational artistic collaboration during this period European cinema from the late 1920s to the late 1930s is famous for its attention to detail in terms of set design and visual effect Focusing on developments in Britain France and Germany Film Architecture and the Transnational Imagination Set Design in 1930s European Cinema provides a comprehensive analysis of the practices styles and function of cinematic production design during this period and its influence on subsequent filmmaking patterns Publisher description

Critical Approaches to TV and Film Set Design Geraint D'Arcy, 2018-09-25 The analysis of scenic design in film and television is often neglected with visual design elements relegated to part of the mise en scene in cinema or simply as wallpaper in television Critical Approaches to TV and Film Set Design positions itself from the audience perspective to explore how we watch TV and film and how set design enhances and influences the viewing experience By using semiotics history and narratology and adding concepts drawn from art architecture and theatre Geraint D'Arcy reworks the key concepts of set design Looking at the impact of production design on how the viewer reads film and television these updated theories can be applied more flexibly and extensively in academic criticism D'Arcy creates a new theoretical approach representing a significant expansion of the field and filling the remaining gaps This book is ideal for anyone interested in understanding how we can read and interpret design in film and television and should be the primary point of reference for those studying TV and film set design

Production Design Jane Barnwell, 2019-07-25 Production Design Architects of the Screen explores the role of the production designer through a historical overview that maps out landmark film and television designs From the familiar environs of television soap operas to the elaborate and disorientating Velvet Goldmine Jane Barnwell considers how themes motifs and colours offer clues to unravel plot character and underlying concepts In addressing the importance of physical space in film and TV the book investigates questions of authenticity in detail props colours and materials The design codes of period drama more playful representations of the past and distinctive contemporary looks are discussed through the use of key examples ranging from musicals of the 1930s to cult films of the 1990s The book also includes interviews with leading production designers and studies of Trainspotting The English Patient and Caravaggio

Heritage Film Belén Vidal, 2012 The British heritage film nation and representation Production cycles and cultural significance a European heritage film Narrative aesthetics and gendered histories renewing the heritage film Afterword tradition and change Eighteenth-Century Fiction on Screen Robert Mayer, 2002-09-26 Eighteenth Century Fiction on Screen offers an extensive introduction to cinematic representations of the eighteenth century mostly derived from classic fiction of that period and sheds light on the process of making prose fiction into film The contributors provide a variety of theoretical and critical approaches to the process of bringing literary works to the screen They consider a broad range of film and television adaptations including several versions of Robinson Crusoe three films of Moll Flanders American British and French television adaptations of Gulliver's Travels Clarissa Tom Jones and Jacques le fataliste Wim Wender's film version of Goethe's Wilhelm Meister's Apprentice Years the controversial film of Diderot's La Religieuse and French and Anglo American motion pictures based on Les Liaisons dangereuses among others This book will appeal to students and scholars of literature and film alike Destination London Tim Bergfelder, Christian Cargnelli, 2008 The legacy of emigrants in the British film industry from the silent film era until after the Second World War has been largely neglected in the scholarly literature Destination London is the first book to redress this imbalance Focusing on areas such as exile genre technological transfer professional training and education cross cultural exchange and representation it begins by mapping the reasons for this neglect before examining the contributions made to British cinema by emigré directors, actors, screenwriters, cinematographers, set designers and composers. It goes on to assess the cultural and economic contexts of transnational industry collaborations in the 1920s, artistic cosmopolitanism in the 1930s and anti-Nazi propaganda in the 1940s. The Routledge Companion to History and the Moving Image Marnie Hughes-Warrington, Kim Nelson, Mia E.M.

Treacey, 2023-11-07 The Routledge Companion to History and the Moving Image takes an interdisciplinary approach to understanding history in moving images. It engages this popular and dynamic field that has evolved rapidly from film and television to digital streaming into the age of user-created content. The volume addresses moving image history through a theoretical lens, modes and genres, representation, race and identity and evolving forms and formats. It brings together a range of scholars from across the globe who specialize in film and media studies, cultural studies, history, philosophy of history and education. Together, the chapters provide a necessary contemporary analysis that covers new developments and questions that arise from the shift to digital screen culture. The book examines technological and ethical concerns stemming from today's media landscape but it also considers the artificial construction of the boundaries between professional expertise and amateur production. Each contributor's unique approach highlights the necessity of engaging with moving images for the academic discipline of history. The collection, written for a global audience, offers accessible discussions of historiography and a compelling resource for advanced undergraduates and postgraduates in history, film and media studies and communications. Both Chapter 17 and the Afterword of this book are freely available as downloadable Open Access PDFs at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com> under a Creative Commons Attribution-NonCommercial-NoDerivatives (CC BY-NC-ND) 4.0 license.

Popularizing National Pasts Stefan Berger, Chris Lorenz, Billie Melman, 2012 Popularizing National Pasts is the first truly cross-national and comparative study of popular national histories, their representations, the meanings given to them and their uses, which expands outside the confines of Western Europe and the US. It draws a picture of popular histories which is European in the full sense of this term. One of its fortes is the inclusion of Eastern Europe. The cross-national angle of Popularizing National Pasts is apparent in the scope of its comparative project as well as that of the longue durée it covers. Apart from essays on Britain, France and Germany, the collection includes studies of popular histories in Scandinavia, Eastern and Southern Europe, notably Romania, Bulgaria, Croatia, Armenia, Russia and the Ukraine, as well as considering the US and Argentina. Cross-national comparison is also a central concern of the thirteen case studies in the volume, which are each devoted to comparing between two or more national historical cultures. Thus temporality, both continuities and breaks in popular notions of the past, its interpretations and consumption, is examined in the long continuum. The volume makes available to English readers, probably for the first time, the cutting edge of Eastern European scholarship on popular histories, nationalism and culture.
