Shortlisted for the Stanford Dolman Travel Book of the Year A masterful and entirely fresh portrait of great hopes and dashed dreams in a mythical city from a major new literary voice Everything that could possibly be wrong with a city was wrong with Calcutta When Kushanava Choudhury arrived in New Jersey at the age of twelve he had already migrated halfway around the world four times After graduating from Princeton he moved back to the world which his immigrant parents had abandoned to a city built between a river and a swamp where the moisture drenched air swarms with mosquitos after sundown Once the capital of the British Raj and then India s industrial and cultural hub by 2001 Calcutta was clearly past its prime Why his relatives beseeched him had he returned Surely he could have moved to Delhi Bombay or Bangalore where a new Golden Age of consumption was being born Yet fifteen million people still lived in Calcutta Working for the Statesman its leading English newspaper Kushanava Choudhury found the streets of his childhood unchanged by time Shouting hawkers still overran the footpaths fish sellers squatted on bazaar floors politics still meant barricades and bus burnings while Communist ministers travelled in motorcades Sifting through the chaos for the stories that never make the papers Kushanava Choudhury paints a soulful compelling portrait of the everyday lives that make Calcutta Written with humanity wit and insight The Epic City is an unforgettable depiction of an era and a city which is a world unto itself

I Strove My Road Ritwik Kumar Ghatak, 2013 Dissevered (Khandita) Samaresh Bose, 2019-07-25 Belonging to what one may best describe as representative of the culture of the urban popular the novella dissevered khandita published seventy years after independence incorporates the birth pangs of a newly emergent nation experienced by the so called gully boys

Gora bias and Sati in a form that presents historical events through the techniques of fiction Its added significance to the modern reader is its prescient quality bringing to the fore dominant questions of nationalism identity crises communal disharmony and citizenship that mark public discourse in the present times In the portrayal of events and personalities which belong to the twin history of the Partition and the birth of a new nation Bangladesh and through a language of the gutters that ironically mimics the mores of civic society The desire for unity of the nation felt by the three disoriented youths is in the realm of the ideal possible This is metaphorically envisioned in the figure of Gandhi in Noakhali and as embodied in the desire for the nomadic female with amputated arms by satu one of the three young men This novella perhaps best illustrates Samarendra Bose s genius as a writer who could translate his experience of historical time in all its multiple complexities without the imposition of any doctrine despite his leftist leanings it remains a unique depiction of the conflicting emotions experienced by ordinary folks on the eve of India s independence
