Rivers, Man, and Myths Robert Edward Brittain, 1958 The story of rivers and their relationship to man from the prehistoric era to the Middle Ages Rivers, Man and Myths. From Fish Spears to Water Mills. [With Plates.]. Robert Edward Brittain, 1958 Rivers of the World James Penn, 2001-12-12 Rivers of the World vividly written and meticulously researched is a rich and thorough treatment of some 200 of the world's rivers In this comprehensive treatment of the major rivers of the world author James R Penn's purpose is not just to feature geographic data but to tell a story of historical drama poetic significance and cultural relationships The book shows glimpses of Chairman Mao boosting his image by swimming in the Yangtze Indian middlemen residing on both sides of the Columbia River exacting tolls from travelers like Lewis and Clark and near the Dordogne in southwest France Paleolithic cave art paintings and designs in rock shelters and subterranean caverns which are textbook examples of early human creativity and artistic impulse In nearly 200 entries ranging from a few paragraphs to several pages Rivers of the World covers all of the great rivers of the world including the Nile Niger Amazon and Mississippi as well as smaller waterways that illustrate important themes or represent trends The book includes bibliographies for each river Divinity and Experience : The Religion of the Dinka Godfrey Lienhardt, 1961-01-01

Stronger Than a Hundred Men Terry S. Reynolds, 1983 Like many apparently simple devices the vertical water wheel has been around for so long that it is taken for granted Yet this picturesque artifact was for centuries man's primary mechanical source of power and was the foundation upon which mills and other industries developed Stronger than a Hundred Men explores the development of the vertical water wheel from its invention in ancient times through its eventual demise as a source of power during the Industrial Revolution Spanning more than 2000 years Terry Reynolds's account follows the progression of this labor saving device from Asia to the Middle East Europe and America covering the evolution of the water wheel itself the development of dams and reservoirs and the applications of water power Managing and Transforming Water Conflicts Jerome Delli Priscoli, Aaron T. Wolf, 2010-02-04 What is the one thing that no one can do without Water Where water crosses boundaries be they economic legal political or cultural the stage is set for disputes between different users trying to safeguard access to a vital resource while protecting the natural environment Without strategies to anticipate address and mediate between competing users intractable water conflicts are likely to become more frequent more intense and more disruptive around the world In this book Delli Priscoli and Wolf investigate the dynamics of water conflict and conflict resolution from the local to the international They explore the inexorable links between three facets of conflict management and transformation Alternative Dispute Resolution ADR public participation and institutional capacity This practical guide will be invaluable to water management professionals as well as to researchers and students in engineering economics geography geology and political science who are involved in any aspects of water management An Introduction to the Phenomenology of Religion James Cox, 2010-02-10 In this thoroughly revised edition James Cox provides an easily accessible introduction to the phenomenology of religion which he contends continues as a foundational method for the academic study of religion in the twenty first century After dealing with the problematic issue of defining religion he describes the historical background to phenomenology by tracing its roots to developments in philosophy and the social sciences in the early twentieth century The phenomenological method is then outlined as a step by step process which includes a survey of the important classifications of religious behaviour The author concludes with a discussion of the place of the phenomenology of religion in the current academic climate and argues that it can be aligned with the growing scholarly interest in the cognitive science of religion The Lower Damodar River, India Kumkum

Bhattacharyya,2011-03-29 Interweaving the human aspects of river control with analysis of hydro physical data including historical data over the last few centuries this monograph is a comprehensive evaluation of the Damodar s lower reaches While the Damodar River isn t an exceptional tropical river nor does it feature classic examples of river control structures it is unusual and worthy of study due to the fact that nowhere else in the tropical world have riverine sandbars been used as a resource base as well as for permanent settlements Based on their knowledge of river stages the inhabitants have fine tuned their land use to flood events applying a concept of flood zoning to the riverbed Every available space has been utilized rationally and judiciously This rare human environmental study analyzes the remarkable way in which immigrants unfamiliar with the riverine environment have adapted to the altered hydrologic regime of the river In doing so they have demonstrated a sophisticated understanding of the flood regime and the vagaries of an unpromising environment in their land use cropping and settlement patterns Spurred on by restricted social and economic mobility and sometimes political constraints these self settled refugees have learned to adapt to their environment and live with the floods Bhattacharyya s text is particularly timely as anthropogenic processes of this kind have not been adequately studied by geographers Catalog of Copyright

Dave Barry Norman Maclean Rudyard Kipling And many more     The Lost Drum James F. Weiner,1995 A fascinating sophisticated anthropological psychoanalytic consideration of certain Papuan myths that deal with lost or detached objects which although destined to complete the missing parts of persons instead elude their control or incorporate the whole person rather than being reincorporated themselves Like sexual organs they have their own embarrassing powers of extensibility intrude themselves into people s desire swallow other objects organs persons and discourses Introduction Paper edition unseen 19 95 Annotation copyright by Book News Inc Portland OR     Just So Stories Rudyard Kipling,2004 Twelve short stories most of which tell how such things as the alphabet the camel s hump and the elephant s trunk came to be     Just So Stories Rudyard Kipling,2018-03-28T20:27:20Z Just So Stories by Rudyard Kipling first published in 1902 is now considered to be a classic of children s literature The twelve tales included are all humorous origin stories purporting to tell how certain animals gained their distinctive features For example The Elephant s Child tells how the elephant gained its long trunk because of a baby elephant having its nose pulled and stretched by a crocodile The stories originated as bedtime tales Kipling invented for his daughter and told to her each night The stories had to be told in exactly the same words each night just so or his daughter would complain Early editions of Just So Stories were illustrated in black and white by Kipling himself which lends the collection a certain charm We have reproduced these illustrations in the Standard Ebooks edition of the book This book is part of the Standard Ebooks project which produces free public domain ebooks     New York Times Saturday Review of Books and Art ,1958     The Canadian Patent Office Record and Register of Copyrights ,1958     The Religious Traditions of Africa Elizabeth Isichei,2004-11-23 This work is a first of its kind historical introduction to the major religions of Africa The vast majorities of Africa s peoples have been Muslim Christian or Traditionalist for a great deal of time making an inclusive study of these religions essential Isichei s work gives equal attention to all three religions and balances the elements of each to construct an easily accessible overview It is also the first book to provide a comprehensive look at the traditional religion in Africa filling the void in the literature on African religious history Written by a pioneering scholar in the African religious experience this volume blends in depth research and personnel accounts to explore the origins and effects of religion in Africa While primarily a work of history this book also incorporates the latest findings while engaging with current issues such as the interface of neo traditional religion and contemporary cultures This work includes four sections each dedicated to a separate religion detailed maps a glossary and a guide to further reading     Chimpanzee Man and Other Stories Dominick Ricca,     Aboriginal Environmental Knowledge Catherine Laudine,2016-09-17 Whilst there are popular ideas about which champion Aboriginal environmental knowledge many of these are based more on romantic notions than on any detailed understanding of what might be the content of this knowledge This book is based on a grounded and broad assessment of less well known details of Aboriginal knowledge and provides both a great deal of detail and a new assessment of rituals and practices Aboriginal environmental knowledge is examined here as an integrated source of both religious and scientific knowledge An important finding is that Aboriginal environmental knowledge also includes knowledge about education for attitudes considered appropriate for survival Though evidence for this is readily available in the literature it has not been part of current depictions of Aboriginal environmental knowledge The Separation of Heaven and Earth Harold W. Montzka, 2010-02-25 Unlike today's world religious views the belief in one Supreme Being was once a widespread phenomenon In The Separation of Heaven and Earth author Harold Montzka provides evidence of this contemporary view with new arguments By studying anthropology and the history of religions Montzka shows evidence for the belief system of the egalitarian hunters who spread across the globe In the Near East the area from the mountains in Turkey to the Persian Gulf people traded freely without evidence of borders or conflict Then social hierarchy became evident in a small area Shortly after this a number of hierarchical sites appeared suddenly and society saw massive buildings city walls ethnic divisions trade to benefit the elites war and instability Developed over forty years The Separation of Heaven and Earth points out that a single cosmological theme was present in ancient literature as well as recent preliterate hierarchies The cosmology justifying the elites in hierarchical societies provided for the society by control of nature Those few groups who have remained egalitarian do not use this cosmology They are not dependent on the rituals of a social hierarchy they depend on the providence of their creator
