Ships Of Heaven Christopher Somerville, 2019-04-11 Somerville is one of our finest gazetteers of the British countryside He brings his formidable knowledge to bear on his personal quest to explore the cathedrals in this entrancing book The Spectator Christopher Somerville author of the acclaimed The January Man pictured cathedrals as great unmoving bastions of tradition But as he journeys among Britain's favourites old and new he discovers buildings and communities that have been in constant upheaval for a thousand years Here are stories of the monarchs and bishops who ordered the construction of these buildings the masons whose genius brought them into being and the peasants who worked and died on the scaffolding We learn of rogue saints exploited by holy sinners the pomp and prosperity that followed these ships of stone the towns that grew up in their shadows Meeting believers and non believers architects and archaeologists the cleaner who dusts the monuments and the mason who judges stone by its taste we delve deep into the private lives and the uncertain future of these ever voyaging Ships of Heaven Somerville paints word pictures of exquisite quality Church Times Galway-Gaillimh Mary Kavanagh, 2000 Irish Travel Writing John McVeagh, 1996 Covering all aspects of travel since the 12th century this guide provides a reference on Irish travel literature The book also examines the tradition and content of tourist guides to Ireland The information included ranges from diary accounts of journeys undertaken through the country and towns of Ireland written for the information of others to private writings such as the 17th century account by Mary Granville of her journey to Galway There are also excerpts from the journals and letters of historical figures such as John Wesley and Mary Wollstonecraft Furthermore the author has added to the bibliographical data for each entry wherever possible indicating the
