Mapping the Terrain of Education Reform Vicente Chua Reyes, Jr., 2015-06-26. This book envisions the formulation of critical perspectives on education reform using the Philippine experience, recognizing the need to address relevant issues and challenges particularly in an increasingly globalized twenty-first century setting. A specific education reform project, the Leaders and Educators in Asia Programme LEAP, a joint effort between the Philippines Department of Education, the Ateneo de Manila University in the Philippines, the National Institute of Education, Singapore, and Singapore's Temasek Foundation, serves as the analytical focus of how education reform as a globalized movement is implemented, interpreted, and made sense of by stakeholders involved in the reform project. This inquiry proposes to examine the problematique of education reform from a Philippine perspective by focusing on three analytical starting points: 1. describing the most relevant and urgent issues of education reform; 2. diagnosing the causes and consequences of reform failures; and 3. developing critical and contextualized perspectives on reform trajectories. Mapping the Terrain of Education Reforms: Global trends and local responses in the Philippines discusses the following: Challenges against effective education reforms; The oscillation between global and local imperatives; The dissociation between policymakers and practitioners; Education reform aid in the Philippines. This book will be of interest to researchers interested in education policy, politics, and reforms. It will also appeal to scholars examining Asian and particularly Southeast Asian educational systems.

State and Society in the Philippines Patricio N. Abinales, Donna J. Amoroso, 2017-07-06. This clear and nuanced introduction explores the Philippines' ongoing and deeply charged dilemma of state-society relations through a historical treatment of state formation and the corresponding conflicts and collaboration between government leaders and social forces. Patricio N. Abinales and Donna J. Amoroso examine the long history of institutional weakness in the Philippines and the varied strategies the state has employed to overcome its structural fragility and strengthen its bond with society. The authors argue that this process reflects the country's recurring dilemma: on the one hand, is the state's persistent inability to provide essential services, guarantee peace and order, and foster economic development; on the other, is the Filipinos' equally enduring suspicions of a strong state. To many citizens, this powerfully evokes the repression of the 1970s and the 1980s that polarized society and cost thousands of lives in repression and resistance and billions of dollars in corruption setting the nation back years in economic development and profoundly undermining trust in government The book's historical sweep starts with the politics of the pre colonial era and continues through the first year of Rodrigo Duterte's controversial presidency Coming of Age Francesca Purcell, 2005-07-14 In view of the increasing number of Third World countries considering the establishment of women's colleges to meet the demand for the higher education of women presenting a case study of two key women's colleges in the Philippines Within the context of global national and local changes since the fall of Ferdinand Marcos in 1986 academic and administrative leaders at two prestigious women's colleges candidly discuss how their respective institutions adapted to their environments and how the colleges will fare in the future Preferences for large coeducational institutions the emergence of less expensive tertiary institutions and the downward spiral of a weak national economy combined to destabilized the enrollment base of these colleges Factors unique to the Philippines including an increasing number of female overseas contract workers struggles with national language preferences and the growth of feminism also affected the colleges In response the colleges expanded their curricula chose high profile presidents focused on faculty development and acquired technology Decision makers at these colleges will have to continue in their efforts at solidifying their positions in the Philippine higher education system The book that women's colleges worldwide must articulate their unique purposes and collaborate with other institutions to strengthen their organizations Drivers of Corruption Tina Søreide, 2014-10-15 This report provides an overview of arguments explaining the risk of corruption Corrupt acts are subject to decision making authority and assets available for grabbing These assets can be stolen created by artificial shortage or become available as the result of a market failure Assets that are especially exposed to corruption include profits from the private sector revenues from the export of natural resources aid and loans and the proceeds of crime Whether or not opportunities for corruption are exploited depends on the individuals involved the institution or society they are part of and the law enforcement circumstances Corruption usually persists in situations in which players are aware of the facts but nonetheless condone the practice Absence of reaction can result from information asymmetries in which the people who are supposed to act are not aware of the need to act coordination failure patronage determined loyalty and incentive problems at the political level This review of results and insights from different parts of the scholarly literature on corruption focuses on areas where research can guide anticorruption policy The report also describes a number of corruption related challenges in need of more attention from researchers Navigating the Common Good in Teacher Education Policy Nikola Hobbel, Barbara L. Bales, 2018-05-11 Navigating the Common Good in Teacher Education Policy examines the changing relationships between the state and the common or public good Using teacher education policy as the frame of analysis the authors examine history cultural context and lived experiences in 12 countries and the European Union to explicate which notions of justice social inclusion and exclusion and citizenship emerge By situating teacher education policy within a larger philosophical framework regarding the relationship between the state and conceptions of the common good this book analyzes the ideological and political desires of the state how the state understands the common good the future of national identity and to what end schooling is imagined Philippine Politics Lynn White III, 2014-12-17 Philippine political history especially in the twentieth century challenges the image of democratic evolution as serving the people and does so in ways that reveal inadequately explored aspects of many democracies In the first decades of the twenty first century the Philippines has nonetheless shown gradual socioeconomic progress This book provides an interpretive overview of Philippine politics and takes full account of the importance of patriotic Philippine factors in making decisions about future political policies It analyses whether regional and local politics have more importance than national politics in the Philippines Discussing cultural traditions of patronism it also examines how clan feuds localize the state and create strong local policies These conflicts in turn make regional and family run polities collectively stronger than the central state institution The book goes on to explore elections in the Philippines and in particular the ways in which politicians win democratic elections the institutionalized role of public money in this process and the role that media plays Offering a new interpretive overview of Philippine progress over many decades the author notes recent economic and political changes during the current century while also trying to advance ideas that might prove useful to Filipinos Presenting an in depth analysis of the problems and possibilities of politics and society in the Philippines the book will be of interest to those researching Southeast Asian Politics Political History and Asian Society and Culture
