Robert Capa, 1913-1954 Robert Capa, 1974      Robert Capa Robert Capa, 1969      Robert Capa Richard Whelan, 1994-01-01 The legendary war photographer Robert Capa carried into his personal life the same remarkable vitality that characterizes his pictures Driven from his native Hungary by political oppression he was first recognized for photographing the Spanish Civil War In 1938 he was in China recording the Japanese invasion During World War II he was in London North Africa and Italy and then in France covering D Day on Omaha Beach the liberation of Paris and the Battle of the Bulge When the new nation of Israel was founded in 1948 he was there In 1954 he was in Vietnam taking photographs until the moment he was killed Away from battle Capa gathered about him such famous people as Ernest Hemingway and his wife the war correspondent Martha Gellhorn Gary Cooper Irwin Shaw and Gene Kelly Whelan shows Capa photographing the street life of Paris crisscrossing America on assignment from Life in Russia with John Steinbeck in Italy with John Huston on the Riviera with Picasso and with Ingrid Bergman      Robert Capa, Photographs , 1996 Robert Capa Photographs is the first true retrospective book of one of the century's greatest photographers Drawing upon hundreds of previously unseen images this collection reveals Capa as one of the great poets of the camera Robert Capa demonstrated not only a passionate commitment to improving the human condition but also an unfailing eye for graphic impact Although his photographs remain the definitive visual records of such momentous events as the siege of Madrid the bombing of Hankou and the Allied landings on D Day many of his images have a timeless and universal quality that transcends the specifics of history A Spanish soldier recoils at the impact of a bullet the final instant of his life In a scene of perfect joy a group of Chinese children laugh at the sky as snow begins to fall Four farm workers hauling all the belongings they can manage trudge grimly away from an apocalyptic backdrop of smoke and ruins their war devastated homes      Robert Capa Robert Capa, 1999-11-01 Robert Capa was the most highly acclaimed war photographer of his time and one of the most courageous photojournalist who ever lived His startling often shocking images of the realities of war served to bring home the true horrors of combat while conveying the intense humanity of their creator Capa hated war but he was drawn to it From his earliest pictures of the Republican forces in the Spanish Civil War to the Japanese invasion of China from his work as a war correspondent for Life and Collier covering American conflicts in North Africa and Europe during the second World War to the emergence of the Israeli homeland Capa portrayed the incredible heroism and suffering of the soldiers on the front lines and in the war torn lives of civilians Although his career was cut short when he was tragically killed by a land mine in Thai Binh Indochina Capa remains one of the most celebrated imitated and revered photographers of all the time The more than 100 photos presented in this volume spans the entire spectrum of Capa's varied career including his most legendary Hollywood photos and rare images of post war Germany      Robert Capa Photographs, 1932-54 Philadelphia Museum of Art, 1997      Robert Capa: Death in the Making Robert Capa, 2020-09-29 Once a cult status rarity Capa's classic impassioned Spanish Civil War photobook is available again with new high quality image scans and supplementary research Robert Capa's Death in the Making was published in 1938 as a poignant tribute to the men and women civilians and soldiers alike fighting in Spain against Franco's fascist insurrection. The book included only one year of images from the Republican position but covered the spectrum of emotions of a civil war from the initial excitement to the more harrowing realities of modern warfare. But over time, after World War II and rising anti-communist paranoia in the United States, association with the Spanish Civil War was a liability and the book became obscured. Today, however, Death in the Making has reached cult status, not least because copies are hard to find, particularly ones with Capa's famous Falling Soldier image on the dust jacket. With new scans of all the images, this facsimile of the original edition reproduces the original layout by photographer Andr  Kertesz, the original caption text by Capa, and preface by writer Jay Allen. The muddy 1938 publication is entirely transformed by high quality printing to reflect the beauty and pathos of the original intention. This edition also includes a new essay with new research on the making and the reception of the original book and a complete checklist identifying the author, location, and date of each image. The most important new information is that Robert Capa and Gerda Taro are not the only photographers in the book but also included was work by their good friend and colleague Chim, later known as David Seymour. Born Endre Erno Friedmann in Budapest, Robert Capa (1913-54) spent his early years moving from Hungary to Germany to France and Spain, first to dodge political strife and then to actively follow and document it. From 1936 to 1945, Capa photographed the Spanish Civil War, the Second Sino-Japanese War, and World War II. In 1947, he founded the Magnum Photos agency with fellow photographers Henri Cartier-Bresson and David Chim Seymour among others. Several years later, while documenting the First Indochina War, Capa died when he stepped on a landmine.

Friend of Hemingway, John Huston, and lover of beautiful women, Capa lived a life that was equal parts glamour and danger. He was the best of combat photographers, yet no one knew that Capa was not his real name and that his greatest artistic achievement may well have been himself. Two 8-page photo inserts Robert Capa, 2001 Robert Capa: In the Making Michel Lefebvre, 2024. Iconic and rarely seen images retrace the story of Robert Capa's extraordinary life and work.

Photographer and war reporter Robert Capa (1913-54) is a legend of photojournalism and his work widely recognized and sometimes controversial. Shaped by the history of the medium, born Endre Friedmann to Jewish parents in Budapest, he left Hungary in the early 1930s and took the pseudonym Robert Capa, believing that it was easier to sell his work with an American-sounding name. He went on to cover the major events of the mid-20th century: from the rise of Front Populaire in France to the Spanish Civil War, the Second World War, and Indochina, where he was killed by a landmine. This retrospective uses both iconic and rarely seen images to retrace the story of Capa's life, delving into archives and presenting not only the original photographs but also the magazine features in which they first appeared to offer valuable context and connection.

Charismatic and committed Capa redefined what it was to be a photojournalist and his unforgettable images have lost none of their power to fascinate

Slightly Out Of Focus Robert Capa, 2015-11-06 In 1942 a dashing young man who liked nothing so much as a heated game of poker a good bottle of scotch and the company of a pretty girl hopped a merchant ship to England He was Robert Capa the brilliant and daring photojournalist and Collier's magazine had put him on assignment to photograph the war raging in Europe In these pages Capa recounts his terrifying journey through the darkest battles of World War II and shares his memories of the men and women of the Allied forces who befriended amused and captivated him along the way His photographs are masterpieces John G Morris Magnum Photos first executive editor called Capa the century's greatest battlefield photographer and his writing is by turns riotously funny and deeply moving From Sicily to London Normandy to Algiers Capa experienced some of the most trying conditions imaginable yet his compassion and wit shine on every page of this book Charming and profound Slightly Out of Focus is a marvelous memoir told in words and pictures by an extraordinary man Print Ed

Robert Capa Richard Whelan, 2001-10-10 This is the first book to reproduce the definitive set of 937 rarely seen and classic images by Robert Capa 1913-54 one of the most influential documentary photographers of the twentieth century Capa a founding member of Magnum photographic agency had the mind of a passionate and committed journalist and the eye of an artist His lifework consisting of more than 70 000 negatives constitutes an unparalleled documentation of a crucial 22 year period 1932-54 encompassing some of the most catastrophic and dramatic events of the last century This book represents the most definitive selection of Capa's work ever published 937 photographs meticulously selected by his brother Cornell Capa himself a noted Lifephotojournalist and his biographer Richard Whelan The photographs arranged in chronological order as stories and accompanied by brief commentaries reveal the dramatic shifts in location and subject matter that Capa experienced from day to day from war-torn Israel to Pablo Picasso on a sunny beach in France and from Ernest Hemingway carousing in London to Capa's historic images of the Allied landing on Omaha Beach in Normandy in 1944

Capa in Color Cynthia Young, Robert Capa, 2014 This text looks at Robert Capa's colour photography a little known but important aspect of the great photographer's work and includes many never before published images Capa regularly used colour film from the 1940s until his death in 1954 Some of these photographs were published in magazines of the day but the majority have never been printed seen or even studied Capa in Color presents this work an integral part of his post-war career and fundamental in remaining relevant to magazines

Robert Capa , 1988 Back into Focus Charles R. Herrick, 2024-12-05 This new account carefully details the events surrounding Robert Capa's D-Day adventures using official SHAEF files and a variety of accounts of witnesses Although Capa's Falling Soldier image from the Spanish Civil War has been definitively proven to be a staged propaganda fake no one has applied a similarly critical eye to his later work This book is the first effort to establish the facts behind the fables surrounding his D Day adventures and the images he produced during that period This book examines the fictionalized account Robert Capa penned in his pseudo biography Slightly Out of Focus Written in the hopes of it becoming a movie Capa included many elements which were exaggerated or simply not true while omitting many relevant events As he himself said in the dust jacket for that book Writing the truth being obviously so difficult I have in the interests of it allowed myself to go sometimes slightly beyond and slightly this side of it All events and persons in the book are accidental and have something to do with the truth This new account carefully details the actual events surrounding Capa s D Day adventures using official SHAEF files still and motion picture images taken by other cameramen who were near or with Capa and a variety of accounts of witnesses It examines several aspects of Capa s narrative and reveals the truth behind the fiction he claimed that he landed in the First Wave with Company E in reality he landed almost two hours later in Wave 13 with the regimental commander Analysis reveals how many of his images were presented in a false context and as a result have been misinterpreted for decades Building on Allan Coleman and his team s proof that the bulk of Capa D Day photos could not possibly have been ruined in a darkroom accident this gripping expose details the effects the FORTITUDE deception plans had on censorship and how the censorship system would have retained the images popularly thought to have been lost
