Writing Vietnam, Writing Life Tobey C. Herzog, 2009-05 Phillip Caputo, Larry Heinemann, Tim O'Brien, and Robert Olen Butler. Four young midwestern Americans coming of age during the 1960s who faced a difficult personal decision: whether or not to fight in Vietnam. Each chose to participate. After coming home, these four veterans became prizewinning authors, telling the war stories and life stories of soldiers and civilians. The four extended conversations included in Writing Vietnam, Writing Life feature revealing personal stories alongside candid assessments of each author's distinct roles as son, soldier, writer, and teacher of creative writing. As Tobey Herzog's thoughtful interviews reveal, these soldier authors have diverse upbringings, values, interests, writing careers, life experiences, and literary voices. They hold wide-ranging views on, among other things, fatherhood, war, the military, religion, the creative process, the current state of the world, and the nature of both physical and moral courage. For each author, the conversation and richly annotated chronology provide an overview of the writer's life, the intersection of memory and imagination in his writing, and the path of his literary career. Together, these four life stories also offer mini tableaux of the fascinating and troubling time of the 1960s and 1970s in America. Above all, the conversations reveal that each author is linked forever to the Vietnam War, the country of Vietnam, and its people.

The Creative Process Todd Lubart, 2018-08-29 The creative process refers to the sequence of thoughts and actions that are involved in the production of new work that is both original and valuable in its context. This book examines this process across the domains of visual art, writing, engineering, design, and music. It characterizes each domain's creative process based on evidence stemming from creators' accounts of their own activity and a wide range of observational material and theories specific to each field. Results from empirical research are then presented across a set of closely linked chapters using a common set of methodologies that seek to trace the creative process as it unfolds. This highly interdisciplinary edited collection offers valuable insight into the creative process for scholars and practitioners in the fields of psychology, education, and creative studies, as well as for any other readers interested in the creative process. Todd Lubart brings together a group of authors who are themselves actively involved in their respective creative fields and invites readers to adopt a broad perspective on the creative process in order to unravel some of its mysteries.

Delicious Imaginations Sarah Griffiths, Kevin J. Kehrwald, 1998 Interviews with some of America's top literary figures, including Charles Baxter, Donald Revell, Gerald Stern, Sandra Gilbert, Catherine Bowman, Campbell McGrath, and Russell Banks, are anthologized in this collection.

Conversations with American Novelists Kay Bonetti, 1997 Readers of fine novels cherish the opportunity to hear their favorite novelists speak directly without commentary or interpretation about how their lives and concerns drive their fiction writing For twenty years The Missouri Review has brought these readers some of the most compelling and thought provoking literary interviews in print In this collection of fifteen in depth interviews with contemporary novelists the authors discuss the style and themes of their work their writing habits their cultural and social backgrounds and larger aesthetic issues with refreshing insight about themselves and their art Originally conducted for the American Audio Prose Library the interviews were then edited for publication in The Missouri Review Here they are reproduced with an introduction and with a brief biographical and bibliographical headnote for each writer These candid interviews with some of our favorite novelists are sure to delight all readers Authors Interviewed in This Volume Robert Stone Jamaica Kincaid Jim Harrison Tom McGuane Louise Erdrich and Michael Dorris John Edgar Wideman Robb Forman Dew Rosellen Brown Peter Matthiessen Scott Turow Margaret Walker Linda Hogan Robert Olen Butler Jessica Hagedorn Larry Brown Forum, 2003 In Their Own Words Jim McWilliams, 2002 Tin House Special 50th Issue: Beauty Win McCormack, Rob Spillman, Lee Montgomery, Holly MacArthur, 2011-12-13 Tin House is a beautifully designed periodical that features the best writers of our time alongside a new generation of talent poised to become the most important voices of the future For the special 50th issue Tin House has some fun with the idea of beauty providing personal takes on what is beautiful The issue showcases fiction poetry and nonfiction that confront the notions of beauty across cultures economic strata genders and races What is beauty What is art Think of Francis Bacon There is no excellent beauty that hath not some strangeness in the proportion This new issue also includes pieces that look into the marketing of beauty and how notions of beauty are used to create celebrity and at the same time to marginalize and exclude Content includes unique departments such as Lost and Found in which writers review overlooked or underrated books and Blithe Spirits and Readable Feast which present tales and recipes for drinks and food in a literary way The Pleasure of Influence Rob Trucks, 2002 In this collection 11 important male fiction writers in America in 2001 discuss the origin process and achievement of their own fiction Interviewees include Robert Olen Butler Charles Johnson Thom Jones Barry Hannah Stephen Dixon Russell Banks Rick Moody and Chris Offutt Encyclopedia of Contemporary Christian Fiction Nancy M. Tin House: Weird Science Lee Montgomery, Rob Spillman, 2013-08-20 Improbable far fetched real Today's science headlines read like futuristic tales From nanobots and neutrinos to architeuthis the real is often stranger than the most speculative sci fi In that vein the latest edition of Tin House features fiction poetry and nonfiction that go beyond the headlines into current past and future scientific explanations of reality There may even be speculative fiction if there are humans involved Tin House is a beautifully designed periodical that features the best writers of our time alongside a new generation of talent Content includes unique departments such as Lost and Found in which writers review overlooked or underrated books and Blithe Spirits and Readable Feast which present tales and literary recipes for drinks and food

How to Revise a True War Story John K. Young, 2017-01-11 You can tell a true war story if you just keep on telling it Tim O'Brien writes in The Things They Carried Widely regarded as the most important novelist to come out of the American war in Vietnam O'Brien has kept on telling true war stories not only in narratives that cycle through multiple fictional and non-fictional versions of the war's defining experiences but also by rewriting those stories again and again Key moments of revision extend from early drafts to the initial appearance of selected chapters in magazines across typescripts and page proofs for first editions and through continuing post-publication variants in reprints How to Revise a True War Story is the first book-length study of O'Brien's archival papers at the University of Texas's Harry Ransom Center Drawing on extensive study of drafts and other prepublication materials as well as the multiple published versions of O'Brien's works John K. Young tells the untold stories behind the production of such key texts as Going After Cacciato The Things They Carried and In the Lake of the Woods By reading not just the texts that have been published but also the versions they could have been Young demonstrates the important choices O'Brien and his editors have made about how to represent the traumas of the war in Vietnam The result is a series of texts that refuse to settle into a finished or stable form just as the stories they present insist on being told and retold in new and changing ways In their lack of textual stability these variants across different versions enact for O'Brien's readers the kinds of narrative volatility that is key to the American literature emerging from the war in Vietnam Perhaps in this case you can tell a true war story if you just keep on revising it

Midamerica, 1999 How White Men Won the Culture Wars Joseph Darda, 2021-05-25 Reuniting white America after Vietnam If war among the whites brought peace and liberty to the blacks Frederick Douglass asked in 1875 peering into the nation's future what will peace among the whites bring The answer then and now after civil war and civil rights a white reunion disguised as a veterans reunion How White Men Won the Culture Wars shows how a broad contingent of white men conservative and liberal hawk and dove vet and nonvet transformed the Vietnam War into a staging ground for a post-civil rights white racial reconciliation

Conservatives could celebrate white vets as deracinated embodiments of the nation Liberals could treat them as minoritized heroes whose voices must be heard Erasing Americans of color Southeast Asians and women from the war white men could agree after civil rights and feminism that they had suffered and deserved more From the POW MIA and veterans mental health movements to Rambo and Born in the U S A they remade their racial identities for an age of color blindness and multiculturalism in the image of the Vietnam vet No one wins in a culture war except Joseph Darda argues white men dressed in army green
