Landscape Images and Post Dramatic Theatre* Tulsi Gaddam, 2020-10-26 Seminar paper from the year 2019 in the subject Art Installation Action Performance Art Modern Art grade 9-10 University of Groningen Arts course Arts Culture and Media language English abstract This essay will investigate some theatrical aspects of Robert Wilson's work that make up what Lehmann terms Landscape theatre and analyze them according to his concept of Post dramatic theatre articulated in his book Post Dramatic Theatre from 1999. In order to do this first the Post dramatic theory of Lehmann will be examined and the various features that make up Post dramatic theatre will be scrutinized. Next Lehmann's articulation of Landscape theatre along with three important aspects that it comprises will be analyzed as post dramatic performance conventions: the use of images, metamorphoses and the distortion of time. This will be done using predominantly Lehmann's theory as well as input from other theatre scholars and supported by examples from Wilson's performances. A conclusion will be drawn regarding how these conventions work together in Wilson's work to provide the audience with a true Post dramatic theatre experience. Robert Wilson is an internationally acclaimed experimental theatre stage director. His style of theatre is referred to as Theatre of Visuals or Theatre of Images, coined by New York based critic Bonnie Marranca Hurstfield. Since the 1960s Wilson's productions have had a significant influence on the world of theatre and opera. Theatre of Images is Wilson's endeavor at freeing the audience from text-specific interpretations which he found prevalent in Western theatre. He wanted to create theatre where the audience was free to explore individual meanings from his visual and aural experiences. Musicality in Theatre David Roesner, 2016-04-29 As the complicated relationship between music and theatre has evolved and changed in the modern and postmodern periods music has continued to be immensely influential in key developments of theatrical practices In this study of musicality in the theatre David Roesner offers a revised view of the nature of the relationship The new perspective results from two shifts in focus on the one hand Roesner concentrates in particular on theatre making that is the creation processes of theatre and on the other he traces a notion of musicality in the historical and contemporary discourses as driver of theatrical innovation and aesthetic dispositif focusing on musical qualities metaphors and principles derived from a wide range of genres Roesner looks in particular at the ways in which those who attempted to experiment with advance or even revolutionize theatre often sought to use and integrate a sense of musicality in training and directing processes and in performances His study reveals both the continuous changes in the understanding of music as model method and metaphor for the theatre and how different notions of music had a vital impact on theatrical innovation in the past 150 years Musicality thus becomes a complementary concept to theatricality helping to highlight what is germane to an art form as well as to explain its traction in other art forms and areas of life The theoretical scope of the book is developed from a wide range of case studies some of which are re readings of the classics of theatre history Appia Meyerhold Artaud Beckett while others introduce or rediscover less discussed practitioners such as Joe Chaikin Thomas Bernhard Elfriede Jelinek Michael Thalheimer and Karin Beier The Pictures Generation, 1974-1984 Douglas Eklund, 2009 Image art after Conceptualism CalArts Hallwalls and Artists Space The jump appropriation and its discontents His gesture moved us to tears pictures art in a reinvigorated market
