Robert Irwin: a Selection of Works 1958 to 1970 PaceWildenstein (Firm),1998 Atmospheres of Projection Giuliana Bruno,2022-10-13 Following on the success of Surface Bruno s previous book with us in this new one she explores the act and art of projection in its manifold guises and what those can tell us about how we think and feel and create the world we inhabit This is not just an exploration of the psychological operation of projection the idea that we cast onto others the qualities we refuse to acknowledge in ourselves It is a major work of cultural history and media archaeology As a way to transform space and atmosphere projection has a long history in the arts dating back to shadow plays camera obscuras magic lantern shows and phantasmagoria But the atmosphere of projection is not a thing of the past alone It is alive and well today It continues to fascinate us as screens filled with moving figures pervade the spaces of the art gallery and the museum as well as the environments of our daily lives What is the root of our fascination How does it manifest in contemporary art How do we define atmosphere How is projection an atmosphere Are these two modalities conceptually and historically related and how so Why are artists today so interested in environments and in elements of projection To explain this continual fascination with projection and atmosphere Bruno traverses psychoanalysis architecture the history of science visual art and moving image culture to see how projective mechanisms and their environments have developed over time

Notes Toward a Conditional Art Robert Irwin, 2011 Devoted to the writings of this seminal post war American artist Fully half of these writings which span a period from the mid 1960s through the 1990s are published here for the very first time Dust jacket Hollywood Stunt Performers, 1910s-1970s Gene Scott Freese, 2014-04-04 This biographical dictionary shines the spotlight on several hundred unheralded stunt performers who created some of the cinema's greatest action scenes without credit or recognition The time period covered encompasses the silent comedy days of Buster Keaton and Harold Lloyd the early westerns of Tom Mix and John Wayne the swashbucklers of Douglas Fairbanks Errol Flynn and Burt Lancaster the costume epics of Charlton Heston and Kirk Douglas and the action films of Steve McQueen Clint Eastwood and Charles Bronson Without stuntmen and women working behind the scenes the films of these action superstars would not have been as successful Now fantastic athletes and leading stunt creators such as Yakima Canutt Richard Talmadge Harvey Parry Allen Pomeroy Dave Sharpe Jock Mahoney Chuck Roberson Polly Burson Bob Morgan Loren Janes Dean Smith Hal Needham Martha Crawford Ronnie Rondell Terry Leonard and Bob Minor are given their proper due Each entry covers the performer's athletic background military service actors doubled noteworthy stunts and a rundown of his or her best known screen credits Reluctant Capitalists Laura J. Miller, 2008-09-15 Over the past half century bookselling like many retail industries has evolved from an arena dominated by independent bookstores to one in which chain stores have significant market share And as in other areas of retail this transformation has often been a less than smooth process This has been especially pronounced in bookselling argues Laura J Miller because more than most other consumer goods books are the focus of passionate debate What drives that debate And why do so many people believe that bookselling should be immune to questions of profit In Reluctant Capitalists Miller looks at a century of book retailing demonstrating that the independent chain dynamic is not entirely new It began one hundred years ago when department stores began selling books continued through the 1960s with the emergence of national chain stores and exploded with the formation of superstores in the 1990s The advent of the Internet has further spurred tremendous changes in how booksellers approach their business All of these changes have met resistance from book professionals and readers who believe that the book business should somehow be above market forces and instead embrace more noble priorities Miller uses interviews with bookstore customers and members of the book industry to explain why books evoke such distinct and heated reactions She reveals why customers have such fierce loyalty to certain bookstores and why they identify so strongly with different types of books In the process she also teases out the meanings of retailing and consumption in American culture at large underscoring her point that any type of consumer behavior is inevitably political with consequences for communities as well as commercial institutions
