Rose, Or Rose Thorn? Three Women of Spanish California. (Doña Feliciano Arballo.-Doña Eulalia Fages.-Doña Concepción Argüello.). Susanna Bryant Dakin,1963      Rose, Or Rose Thorn? Susanna Bryant Dakin,1963      Rose, Or Rose Thorn? Susanna Bryant Dakin,1963      Women and the Conquest of California, 1542-1840 Virginia M.

Bouvier,2004-08 Studies of the Spanish conquest in the Americas traditionally have explained European Indian encounters in terms of such factors as geography timing and the charisma of individual conquistadores Yet by reconsidering this history from the perspective of gender roles and relations we see that gender ideology was a key ingredient in the glue that held the conquest together and in turn shaped indigenous behavior toward the conquerors This book tells the hidden story of women during the missionization of California It shows what it was like for women to live and work on that frontier and how race religion age and ethnicity shaped female experiences It explores the suppression of women s experiences and cultural resistance to domination and reveals the many codes of silence regarding the use of force at the missions the treatment of women indigenous ceremonies sexuality and dreams Virginia Bouvier has combed a vast array of sources including mission records journals of explorers and missionaries novels of chivalry and oral histories and has discovered that female participation in the colonization of California was greater and earlier than most historians have recognized Viewing the conquest through the prism of gender Bouvier gives new meaning to the settling of new lands and attempts to convert indigenous peoples By analyzing the participation of women both Hispanic and Indian in the maintenance of or resistance to the mission system Bouvier restores them to the narrative of the conquest colonization and evangelization of California And by bringing these voices into the chorus of history she creates new harmonies and dissonances that alter and enhance our understanding of both the experience and meaning of conquest      Three Decades of Engendering History Antonia I.

Cherny, Mary Ann Irwin, Ann Marie Wilson, 2011-05-01 In 1911 as progressivism moved toward its zenith the state of California granted women the right to vote However women's political involvement in California's public life did not begin with suffrage nor did it end there Across the state women had been deeply involved in politics long before suffrage and although their tactics and objectives changed they remained deeply involved thereafter California Women and Politics examines the wide array of women's public activism from the 1850s to

1929 including the temperance movement moral reform conservation trade unionism settlement work philanthropy wartime volunteerism and more and reveals unexpected contours to women's politics in California The contributors consider not only white middle class women's organizing but also the politics of working class women and women of color emphasizing that there was not one monolithic women's agenda but rather a multiplicity of women's voices demanding recognition for a variety of causes

Private Women, Public Lives Bárbara O. Reyes, 2010-01-01 Through the lives and works of three women in colonial California Bárbara O Reyes examines frontier mission social spaces and their relationship to the creation of gendered colonial relations in the Californias She explores the function of missions and missionaries in establishing hierarchies of power and in defining gendered spaces and roles and looks at the ways that women challenged and attempted to modify the construction of those hierarchies roles and spaces Reyes studies the criminal inquiry and depositions of Barbara Gandiaga an Indian woman charged with conspiracy to murder two priests at her mission the divorce petition of Eulalia Callis the first lady of colonial California who petitioned for divorce from her adulterous governor husband and the testimonio of Eulalia Pérez the head housekeeper at Mission San Gabriel who acquired a position of significant authority and responsibility but whose work has not been properly recognized These three women's voices seem to reach across time and place calling for additional more complex analysis and questions Could women have agency in the colonial Californias Did the social structures or colonial processes in place in the frontier setting of New Spain confine or limit them in particular gendered ways And were gender dynamics in colonial California explicitly rigid as a result of the imperatives of the goals of colonization
