London Transport's Last Buses Matthew

Wharmby,2016-02-29 The Olympian was Leyland's answer to the competition that was threatening to take custom away from its second generation OMO double deck products. Simpler than the London Transport-centric Titan but unlike that integral model able to respond to the market by being offered as a chassis for bodying by the bodybuilder of the customer's choice the Olympian was an immediate success and soon replaced both the Atlantean and Bristol VRT as the standard double decker of the NBC. It wasn't until 1984 that London Transport itself dabbled with the model taking three for evaluation alongside trios of contemporary double deckers. The resulting L class spawned an order for 260 more in 1986 featuring accessibility advancements developed by LT in concert with the Ogle design consultancy but the rapid changes engulfing the organisation meant that no more were ordered. During the 1990s company ownerships shifted repeatedly as the ethos of competition gave way to the cold reality of big business an unstable situation which even saw London's bus operations broken up. The L class was split between three new companies but the backlog of older vehicles to replace once corporate interests released funding ensured the buses up to a further decade in service. Finally as low floor buses swept into the capital at the turn of the century Olympian operation at last declined and the final examples operated early in 2006. This profusely illustrated book describes the diversity of liveries, ownerships and deployments that characterised the London Leyland Olympians two decades of service.

The London Bendy Bus Matthew Wharmby,2016-03-30 Between 2002 and 2006 six of London's bus companies put into service 390 articulated bendy buses on twelve routes for transport in London. During what turned out to be a foreshortened nine years in service the Mercedes Benz Citaro G buses familiar on the continent and worldwide earned an unenviable reputation in London according to who you read and who you believed they caught fire at the drop of a hat they maimed cyclists they drained revenue from the system due to their susceptibility to fare evasion they transported already long suffering passengers in standing crush loads like cattle and they contributed to the extinction of the Routemaster from frontline service In short it was often referred to as the bus we hated rnrnThis account is an attempt by a long time detractor of the bendy buses to set the vehicles in their proper context not quite to rehabilitate them but to be as fair as is possible towards a mode of transport which felt about as un British as could be Garage Sales & Flea Market Annual Sharon Huxford,Bob Huxford,1999-04 Packed with descriptions and current values for items readily available at flea markets or garage sales this book contains listings for 25 000 collectables representing virtually every collectable category on today s market old books ornaments toys cookie jars and movie memorabilia 750 photos Jane's Urban Transport Systems Mary Webb,Jackie Clarke,2007 Surveys the systems manufacturers and consultants within the global market City by city you can analyse and review both current operations and future plans Provides traffic statistics fleet lists and numbers in service Provides contact details and background of approx 1 500 manufacturers
