Royal Canon Of Turin:

The Political Situation in Egypt During the Second Intermediate Period, C. 1800-1550 B.C. K. S. B. Ryholt, Adam Bülow-Jacobsen, 1997 The Second Intermediate Period designates the 250 year period 1800-1550 BC which separates the two glorious periods of the Middle Kingdom and the New Kingdom During the 19th century BC an invasion by Canaanite tribes into the Delta took place Around 1800 BC these people proclaimed their own king and the Delta thus became independent from the rest of Egypt Egypt remained split between the Canaanitic rulers in North and the native Egyptian Kings in the South for the rest of the Second Intermediate Period The division of Egypt brought about an economic decline and the entire period is characterized by a lack of royal monuments This circumstance has greatly hampered any attempts to establish a chronology of the period and as a consequence it has been very difficult to date many sources which are relevant for the social and political situation of the period The Second Intermediate Period has therefore remained one of the most obscure periods of Egypt's ancient history The dissertation is a new attempt to establish a chronology for the Second Intermediate Period and define the different kingdoms their territories and political relations The study consists of four main chapters three appendixes a catalogue of sources bibliography and indices Included is a catalogue of all the historical sources about 1500 known to certify the names of the Egyptian kings of the Second Intermediate Period Each source is described in terms of type origin and present location followed by bibliographical references The Royal Canon of Turin Sir Alan Henderson Gardiner, 1987 The Royal canon of Turin Alan Henderson Gardiner, 1959 Papyrus No. 1874. In Search of History John Van Seters, 1997 The primary concern of the book is to understand the origins and nature of history writing in ancient Israel The investigation is undertaken against the background of history writing in the Near Eastern and classical worlds Professor Van Seters begins with a broad survey of all the historiographic material relevant for the study of Israel's own writing of history He then turns his attention to the question of Israel's historiography by focusing particularly on the Deuteronomistic Historian the first Israelite historian The Royal Canon of Turin Allen Henderson Gardiner, 1953 The Royal Canon of Turin, 1961 Egypt, Trunk of the Tree, Vol. I Simson R. Najovits, 2003 A French specialist in systems of religious belief recounts his exploration of the Egyptian patrimony society from 3100 BC to AD 395 The first volume looks at the matrix from which the Egyptian religion political system and contexts emerged Towards a New History for the Egyptian Old Kingdom Peter Der Manuelian, Thomas Schneider, 2015-10-20 The Pyramid Age represents the first of several highpoints in ancient Egypt's long history But critical questions remain about the period its social structure and economic organization and the long term implications of its artistic achievements On the occasion of the fifth anniversary of the Journal of Egyptian History The University of British Columbia Harvard University and Brill Academic Publishers Boston held a conference at Harvard University on April 26 2012 A distinguished group of Egyptological scholars from around the world gathered to consider new perspectives on the Pyramid Age the results are presented here that veneration of the Sun God Re began during the 2nd Dynasty opinion has changed over the last thirty years evidence for the worship of Re has been found only for the beginning of the 3rd Dynasty The Ancient World Revisited: Material Dimensions of Written Artefacts Marilina Betrò, Michael Friedrich, Cécile Michel, 2024-03-04 Written artefacts are traditionally studied because of their content Material aspects of these artefacts enrich the study of ancient history in many ways Eleven case studies in five sections on the ancient world including the Near East Egypt the Mediterranean China and India demonstrate the impact of a holistic approach that considers materiality and content alike Following an introductory sketch of relevant research the first section Methodological Considerations critically examines the limitations the evidence available imposes on our understanding Early Uses of Writing addresses material and spatial aspects of inscriptions and their communicative functions over the textual ones The third section Material Features deals with clay wooden and papyrus manuscripts and demonstrates the importance of an integrated approach The contributions to Co presence of Written Artefacts take into account that written artefacts come in clusters The final section Cultural Encounters presents studies on the interactions between social strata and ethnic groups challenging previous ideas The volume contributes to the comparative study of written artefacts in ancient history stimulating cross disciplinary and cultural research Silhouettes of Scripture David B. Schreiner, Drew S. Holland, 2023-06-12 The contextual approach and form criticism are two well established methodologies in Biblical Studies but the natural affinities between the two have historically gone under appreciated Yet the substantial reconsideration of classic tenets of form criticism that has transpired in recent memory has further separated these two like minded methods Through a series of case studies that carefully consider certain Old Testament texts contextually Silhouettes of Scripture Considering the Contextual Approach with Form criticism considers important methodological critiques and fuse elements of both methods in order to not only re focus natural affinities but also more precisely define how contextual studies could proceed Initiated by a literary trigger Schreiner and Holland s method navigates between what has been called parallelomania and parallelomania to consider a range of similarities and differences in terms of broad and narrow convergences The result is a work that not only looks upon well known parallels with fresh eyes but also seeks to establish new trajectories Historical Dictionary of Ancient Egypt Morris L.
