where persons who achieved superior positions first could demand presents or tribute from neighboring societies they defeated and then with the assistance of sturdy servants from their own people China was certainly no exception to that principle and one of the first terms for tax was thus gong tribute In China's early feudatory social system tribute was demanded from lower political entities and the mutual political relations were already highly developed during the Zhou dynasty 1045-256 BCE This system of inner Chinese relations became a sort of matrix when China expanded and achieved contact with countries which were more or less independent and thus the tribute system evolved The individual case studies in this volume focus on the latest manifestations of the tribute system in late Imperial China

Majority Voting as a Catalyst of Populism Peter Emerson, 2019-09-25 This timely book presents a critique of binary majority rule and provides insights into why in many instances the outcome of a two option ballot does not accurately reflect the will of the people Based on the author's first hand experience majority voting is argued to be a catalyst of populism and its divisive outcomes have prompted countless disputes throughout Europe and Asia In like manner simple majority rule is seen as a cause of conflict in war zones and of dysfunction in so called stable democracies In order to safeguard democracy an all party power sharing approach is proposed which would make populism less attractive to voters and governments alike In geographically arranged chapters well tested alternative voting procedures e.g. non majoritarian Modified Borda Count are presented in case studies of Northern Ireland Central Europe the Balkans the Caucasus Russia China North Korea and Mongolia

Divination and the Shamanic Story Michael Berman, 2009-03-26 Stories have traditionally been classified as epics myths sagas legends folk tales fairy tales parables or fables However the definitions of the terms have a tendency to overlap making it difficult to classify and categorize material For this reason a case can be made for the introduction of a new genre termed the shamanic story a story that has either been based on or inspired by a shamanic journey a numinous experience in non ordinary reality or one that contains a number of the elements typical of such a journey Other characteristics include the way in which the stories all tend to contain embedded texts often the account of the shamanic journey itself how the number of actors is clearly limited as one would expect in subjective accounts of what can be regarded as inner journeys and how the stories tend to be used for healing purposes Within this new genre it is proposed that there exists a sub genre shamanic stories that deal specifically with divination and examples are presented and analysed to support this hypothesis By means of textual analysis it can be shown they all share certain attributes in common the identification of which forms the conclusion of the work
