by Hahn Moo Sook one of Asia's most honored writers is a story of the resilience in the Korean spirit. It is told through the experiences of Tasan, a high ranking official and foremost Neo Confucian scholar at the beginning of the nineteenth century. Because of Tasan's fascination with Western learning then synonymous with Catholicism, he is exiled to a remote province for 18 years. In banishment, he meets people from various social and religious backgrounds: Buddhist monks, peasants, shamans, whom he would not otherwise have met. The events of Tasan's life are effectively used to depict the confluence of Buddhist, Neo Confucian, Taoist, and shamanistic beliefs in traditional Korea. A subplot involves three young sisters, the daughters of a prominent Catholic aristocrat, and affords the reader vivid glimpses into Yi dynasty women's lives, particularly those of palace ladies, scholars, wives, tavern keepers, shamans, and slaves. In contrast to the long held Confucian stereotype of female subservience, this story illustrates the richness of women's contribution to Korean culture and tradition. Encounter's detailed narrative provides a broad and informed view of nineteenth century Korea, making it a highly useful book for courses on Korean literature and society. It will also be an engaging read for lovers of historical fiction.

Mysteries of the Jaguar Shamans of the Northwest Amazon Robin M. Wright, 2020-04-01. Mysteries of the Jaguar Shamans of the Northwest Amazon tells the life story of Mandu da Silva, the last living jaguar shaman among the Baniwa people in the northwest Amazon. In this original and engaging work, Robin M. Wright, who has known and worked with da Silva for more than thirty years, weaves the story of da Silva's life together with the Baniwa's society, history, mythology, cosmology, and jaguar shaman traditions. The jaguar shamans are key players in what Wright calls a nexus of religious power and knowledge in which healers, sorcerers, priestly chanters, and dance leaders exercise complementary functions that link living specialists with the deities and great spirits of the cosmos. By exploring in depth the apprenticeship of the shaman, Wright shows how jaguar shamans acquire the knowledge and power of the deities in several stages of instruction and practice. This volume is the first mapping of the sacred geography, mythscape of the Northern Arawak speaking people of the northwest Amazon, demonstrating direct connections between petroglyphs and other inscriptions and Baniwa sacred narratives as a whole. In eloquent and inviting analytic prose, Wright links biographic and ethnographic elements, elevating anthropological writing to a new standard of theoretically aware storytelling and analytic power.
