The Gospel of John and Christian Theology Richard Bauckham, Carl Mosser, 2008-02-25 The essays were first presented in 2003 as papers at the first St Andrews Conference on Scripture and Theology held at the University of St Andrews Scotland P x

A Cultural Theology of Salvation Clive Marsh, 2018 Clive Marsh offers a contemporary Christian understanding of salvation He shows how salvation is understood and articulated now when redemption language is widely used outside of Christianity and when redemptive experiences are reported in response to the arts popular culture media and through counselling

The Theology of Suffering and Death Natalie Kertes Weaver, 2013 This book offers a theological foundation for engaging with the realities of suffering and dying Designed particularly for practical theology students and trainee caregivers it introduces the spiritual and theological issues raised by suffering and dying The chapters consider how Christian theology deals with the problem of suffering and how the Bible treats these difficult issues post biblical interpretations of Jesus suffering and the Cross modern instances including ecology poverty discrimination and war comparative religious approaches and the depiction in popular culture Natalie Weaver relates theology to practical issues of caregiving and provides a toolbox for thinking about suffering and death in a creative and supportive way

Atonement and the New Perspective Stephen Burnhope, 2018-08-10 Atonement has been described as the central doctrine of Christianity and yet surprisingly the church has never insisted on a particular understanding of how redemption in Christ was achieved Instead a miscellany of metaphors has been employed each picturing something of Christ s work Recent debate within Reformed Evangelicalism has been characterized by claims for hegemony to be granted to penal substitution versus counter arguments for a kaleidoscopic multi model understanding Notably absent in these discussions however are two considerations One is any common nexus to draw atonement thought together The other is any positive theological contribution deriving from God s preexisting relationship with Israel the presumed role of which has rather been to provide a negative contrast of law versus grace and works versus faith as the dark background against which the light of Christ may shine more brightly Recent scholarship however particularly the new perspective on Paul has comprehensively dismantled the old stereotypes concerning first century Judaism This book asks how differently we might think about the atonement once it is brought into conversation with the new scholarship It concludes by proposing a new perspective on atonement in which Christ is central Israel and Torah are affirmed and the traditional metaphors continue to find their place

A Companion to the Theology of John Webster Michael Allen, R. David Nelson, 2021-06-10 An overview and analysis of John Webster s seminal

contributions to Christian theology At the time of his death John Webster was widely hailed as one of the leading Christian theologians in the world Over the course of three decades he produced groundbreaking studies on the theologies of Eberhard J ngel and Karl Barth and especially since the turn of the millennium numerous books and essays on various themes in Christian dogmatics He then intended to write an encyclopedic systematic theology a project he was unable to complete No substitute is possible for that lost opus but the contributors offer this volume as an homage to Webster and an aid to those who want to learn from him A Companion to the Theology of John Webster begins with an introductory section on Webster s theological development then continues into an extensive overview of Webster s contributions to contemporary discussions of particular doctrines An epilogue suggests how Webster s theology might have unfolded had he lived longer and imagines the continuing influence of his work on the enterprise of Christian dogmatics Readers hoping to understand the legacy of this great theologian and also those eager for fresh insights into the present state and future trajectories of contemporary Protestantism will find much to offer here

Christosis Blackwell,2016 Amid increasing interaction between Eastern and Western theologians several recent biblical interpreters have characterized Paul s soteriology as theosis or deification harking back to patristic interpretations of Paul In this book Ben C Blackwell critically evaluates that interpretation as he explores the anthropological dimension of Paul s soteriology Blackwell first examines two major Greek patristic interpreters of Paul Irenaeus and Cyril of Alexandria to clarify what deification entails and to determine which Pauline texts they used to support their soteriological constructions The book then focuses on Paul s soteriology expressed in Romans 8 and 2 Corinthians 3 5 with excursuses on other passages and explores how believers embody Christ s death and life his suffering and glory through the Spirit Blackwell concludes by comparing the patristic view of deification with Paul s soteriology arising from the biblical texts noting both substantial overlap and key differences

Revelation, Truth, Canon and Interpretation Craig D. Allert,2015-12-22 This volume treats the concepts of revelation truth canon and interpretation as four pillars of early Christian theology Using Justin Martyr as a case study his Dialogue with Trypho is examined with a view toward discerning how a second century Christian father understands and develops these concepts Justin s intellectual background is discussed within the nuanced context of Middle Platonism Particular attention is paid to his use of biblical sources which is grounded in the foundational chapter on revelation in Justin Justin is placed within the wider context of theological developments in pre Nicene Christianity and includes a warning against judging Justin by anachronistic post Nicene developments

The Atonement David L. Allen,2019-04-01 In this accessible resource author David L Allen carefully summarizes the doctrine of the atonement with definitions of key terms discussion of key Old and New Testament texts and a survey of the historical theories of the atonement

The God That the Poor Seek Rupen Das,2022-01-31 The assumption that conversion looks the same regardless of culture or religious context is challenged by a growing number of missiologists both in the Majority World and in the West In this book Rupen Das explores the particularities of conversion for some of the world's poorest populations Sharing the stories of Syrian refugees and Indian slum dwellers Das positions their voices within a missiological framework of contextualization seeking to understand what attracts the marginalized to the gospel of Christ This book is filled with practical insights for those ministering to the world's poor in contexts of missions development or local outreach It also offers a powerful glimpse into the identity of the crucified God who knows human pain and does not turn his back on human suffering

Exploring Christology and Atonement Andrew Purves, 2015-08-05 The Scottish theologians John McLeod Campbell Hugh Ross Mackintosh and Thomas F Torrance were theologians of reconciliation who emphasized the reality of God's redemptive grace in the person and work of Jesus Christ In this magisterial treatment Andrew Purves unfolds the riches of their theology for pastoral ministry today

The Epistle to the Hebrews and Christian Theology Richard Bauckham, Daniel Driver, Trevor Hart, Nathan MacDonald, 2009-06-25 A significant dialogue between biblical scholars and theologians The contributors to this substantial volume examine a number of key theological themes in the letter to the Hebrews the person and nature of the Son his high priestly work cosmology the epistle's theology of Scripture supersessionism the call to faith and more Contributors Edward Adams Loveday Alexander Harold W Attridge Richard Bauckham Markus Bockmuehl Daniel Driver Douglas Farrow Trevor Hart Richard B Hays Stephen R Holmes Morna Hooker Edison M Kalengyo Mariam J Kamell Bruce L McCormack Nathan MacDonald I Howard Marshall R Walter L Moberly Carl Mosser Mark Nanos Nehemia Polen John Polkinghorne Ken Schenck Oskar Skarsaune Daniel J Treier John Webster Ben Witherington Terry J Wright

The Crucified King Jeremy R. Treat, 2014-05-27 The kingdom of God and the atonement are two of the most important themes in all of Scripture Tragically theologians have often either set the two at odds or focused on one to the complete neglect of the other In The Crucified King Jeremy Treat demonstrates that Scripture presents a mutually enriching relationship between the kingdom and atonement that draws significantly from the story of Israel and culminates in the crucifixion of Christ the king As Israel's messiah he holds together the kingdom and the cross by bringing God's reign on earth through his atoning death The kingdom is the ultimate goal of the cross and the cross is the means by which the kingdom comes Jesus death is not the failure of his messianic ministry nor simply the prelude to his royal glory but is the apex of his kingdom mission The cross is the throne from which he rules and establishes his kingdom Using a holistic approach that brings together the insights of biblical and systematic theology this book demonstrates not only that the kingdom and the cross are inseparable but how they are integrated in Scripture and theology

The Christ's Faith Michael Allen, 2009-04-01 The Christ's Faith coheres with orthodox Christology and Reformation soteriology and needs to be affirmed to properly confirm the true humanity of the incarnate Son Without addressing the interpretation of the Pauline phrase pistis christou this study offers a theological rationale for an exegetical possibility and enriches a dogmatic account of the humanity of the Christ The coherence of the Christ's faith is shown in two ways First the objection of Thomas Aquinas is refuted by demonstrating that faith is fitting for the incarnate Son Second a theological ontology is offered which affirms divine perfection and transcendence in qualitative fashion undergirding a Chalcedonian and Reformed Christology Thus the humanity of the Christ may be construed as a fallen human nature assumed by the person of the Word and sanctified by the Holy Spirit The dogmatic location of The Christ's Faith is sketched by suggesting its potential function within three influential theological systems Thomas Aquinas federal theology and Karl Barth Furthermore the soteriological role of the doctrine is demonstrated by showing the theological necessity of faith for valid obedience before God Violence, Hospitality, and the Cross Hans Boersma, 2006-04-01 The cross is central to understanding Christian theology But is it possible that our postmodern setting requires a new model of understanding the cross Hans Boersma's Violence Hospitality and the Cross proposes an understanding of the atonement that is sensitive both to the Christian tradition and to the postmodern critiques of that tradition His fresh approach draws on the rich resources of the Christian tradition in its portrayal of God's hospitality in Jesus Christ

Words in Action Richard Briggs, 2004-07-01 How is the biblical text understood and how does it function in the life of the reader today Richard Briggs first provides an illuminating introduction to the nature and claims of speech act theory This seeks to extend our understanding of both spoken and written means of communication by seeing them not as merely representational or reality depicting but as acting or causing acts to be performed through the words themselves Briggs goes on to discuss to what extent the application of speech act theory might be helpful in the interpretation of biblical texts In one of the first book length explorations of this topic he examines in detail several biblical speech acts of particular theological significance including the confession of sin forgiveness and teaching

Through exploring the specific ways in which the reader is drawn into the performative action of the biblical text and how speech act theory forces the reader to look beyond language into the world which gives the language its ability to function speech act theory is shown to offer valuable insights within today's complex hermeneutical debate. A very significant volume. Alan Torrance, Professor of Divinity, University of Andrews. An excellent piece of work which is thoroughly acquainted with speech act theory and takes the debate forward in a variety of creative exegetical and theological ways. Dr Craig

Bartholomew, University of Gloucestershire. Mapping Modern Theology Kelly M. Kapic, Bruce L.

McCormack, 2012-04-01. This textbook offers a fresh approach to modern theology by approaching the field thematically, covering classic topics in Christian theology over the last two hundred years. The editors, leading authorities on the history of nineteenth and twentieth century theology, have assembled a respected team of international scholars to offer substantive treatment of important doctrines and key debates in modern theology. Contributors include Kevin Vanhoozer, John Webster, Veli-Matti Kärkkäinen and Michael Horton. The volume enables readers to trace how key doctrinal questions were discussed, where the main debates lie, and how ideas developed. Topics covered include the Trinity, divine attributes, creation, the atonement, ethics, practical theology, and ecclesiology. Receiving Back One's Deeds Benjamin M. Dally, 2022-11-16. This book investigates the relationship between justification by faith and final judgment according to works as found in Paul's second epistle to the Corinthians within a Protestant theological framework. Benjamin M. Dally first demonstrates the diversity and breadth of mainstream Protestant soteriology and eschatology beginning at the time of the Reformation by examining the confessional standards of its four primary ecclesial theological streams: Lutheran, Reformed, Anabaptist, and Anglican. The soteriological structure of each is assessed, i.e., how each construes the relationship between justification and final judgment, with particular attention given to how each speaks of the place of good works at the final judgment. This initial examination outlines the theological boundaries within which the exegesis of Second Corinthians can legitimately proceed and illuminates language and conceptual matrices that will be drawn upon throughout the remainder of the book. Then, drawing upon the narrative logic of Paul's Early Jewish thought world, Dally examines the text of Second Corinthians to discern its own soteriological framework, paying particular attention to both the meaning and rhetorical function of the judgment according to works motif as it is utilized throughout the letter. The book concludes by offering a Protestant synthesis of the relationship between justification and final judgment according to works in Second Corinthians, giving an explanation of the role of works at the final judgment that arguably alleviates a number of tensions often perceived in other readings devoted to this key aspect of Pauline exegesis and theology. Dally ultimately argues a three-fold thesis: 1. For the believer, one's earthly conduct taken as a whole is best spoken of in the language of inferior, secondary cause and/or basis as far as its import at the last judgment. 2. One's earthly conduct again taken as a whole is soteriologically necessary, not solely but secondarily, nonetheless, and not simply of importance for the bestowal of non-soteriological, eschatological rewards. 3.

There are crucial resources from within mainstream Protestantism to authorize such ways of speaking and to simultaneously affirm these contentions in conjunction with a robust strictly forensic imputational traditional Protestant understanding of the doctrine of justification by faith alone
