traces the little known history of an alternative school system erected in Canada by post WWII Dutch Neo Calvinist immigrants. In less than four decades this community established a kindergarten to university education system that extended from Ottawa Ontario to Victoria BC. This remarkable tradition of education imagines the school as a dissident and transformational social institution. While this book offers the narrative of faith based tradition of education, the author makes a strong case that educators from diverse ideological backgrounds can learn important lessons from it about the implementation of an alternative educational vision, teacher led curriculum reform and a self formative pedagogy. To supplement this narrative, the author also provides a separate set of theoretical discussions on key issues in school reform as well as his memoir as an educator and curriculum designer within this tradition. Christianity and Education David Emmanuel Singh, Bernard C. The Oxford Handbook of Music and World Christianities Suzel Ana Reily, Jonathan Dueck, 2016. The Oxford Handbook of Music and World Christianities investigates music's role in everyday practice and social history across the diversity of Christian religions and practices around the globe. The volume explores Christian communities in the Americas, Europe, Africa, Asia, and Australia as sites of transmission, transformation, and creation of deeply diverse musical traditions. The book's contributors, while mostly rooted in ethnomusicology, examine Christianities and their musics in methodologically diverse ways, engaging with musical sound and structure, musical and social history, and ethnography of music and musical performance. These broad materials explore five themes: music and missions; music and religious utopias and other oppositional religious communities; music and conflict; music and transnational flows; and music and everyday life. The volume as a whole then approaches Christian groups and their musics as diverse and powerful windows into the way in which music, religious ideas, capital, and power circulate and change between places now and historically. It also tries to take account of the religious self-understandings of these groups, presenting Christian musical practice and exchange as encompassing and negotiating deeply felt and deeply rooted moral and cultural values. Given that the centerpiece of the volume is Christian religious musical practice, the volume reveals the active role music plays in maintaining and changing religious moral and cultural values in a long history of intercultural and transnational encounters. African Christian Theology, Volume 1, Number 1, March 2024 Joshua Robert Barron, 2024-07-11

Christian Theology and African Traditions Matthew Michael, 2013-05-21. Christian theology is increasingly recognized to be now a non-western enterprise since the high concentrations of Christians in the world are no longer found in the Western societies. Christian Theology and African Traditions takes seriously this present recognition of the southward movement of Christianity from the western world to a non-western setting. It seeks to reposition Christian theology and faith to engage the African traditions in classical categories of theology proper, bibliology, anthropology, Christology, pneumatology, soteriology, ecclesiology, and eschatology, and provides unique insights and problems that these classical and systematic categories poses to African Christianity Similarly it provides theological blueprint for non Africans who are interested in knowing the nature and shape of the Christian theology in non western settings Consequently Christian Theology and African Traditions goes beyond the mere criticism of Western misrepresentation of African traditions to seeing how the Christian theology in its systematic character engages the African traditions With this methodological template the work describes in the space of twelve chapters the different classical teachings of the Christian faith on God scriptures spirits and demons the nature of the human person the persons of Christ salvation the Holy Spirit the church and the future life in dialogue with some specific traditions of the African people minds It has taken Christian theology many years to come to this point and there is no going back Alan Race is an outstanding expert in the interreligious field and has throughout his career and ministry built up a high reputation for understanding and dialogue between faith communities Here he deals with the use of Scripture inclusivism and exclusivism pluralism and particularism mission and dialogue The next phase of Christian thought he argues will be shaped by new appreciation and insight stemming from the fact that Christianity is one religion among many

World Mission Scott N. Callaham, Will Brooks, 2019-06-12 World missions needs a fully biblical ethos This is the contention of the editors of and contributors to World Mission a series of essays aimed at reforming popular approaches to missions In the first set of essays contributors develop a biblical theology of world missions from both the Old and New Testaments arguing that the theology of each must stand in the foreground of missions not recede into the background In the second they unfold the Great Commission in sequence detailing how it determines the biblical strategy of all mission enterprises Finally they treat current issues in world missions from the perspective of the sufficiency of Scripture Altogether this book aims to reform missions to be thoroughly not just foundationally biblical a needed correction even among the sincerest missionaries
