Sharing With Renoir:

Sharing with Renoir Julie Merberg, Suzanne Bober, 2005-04-28 Two new board books in this very successful series feature beautiful paintings by Renoir and Seurat The rhyming text links the paintings together in two imaginative stories Sharing with Renoir celebrates the special times between parents and children siblings and friends Sunday with Seurat leads children through a wonderful day that begins at the park moves to the beach and ends at the circus Mists of Regret

Dudley Andrew, 2021-11-09 Just before World War II French cinema reached a high point that has been dubbed the style of poetic realism Working with unforgettable actors like Jean Gabin and Arletty directors such as Renoir Carn Gremillon Duvivier and Chenal routinely captured the prizes for best film at every festival and in every country and their accomplishments led to general agreement that the French were the first to give maturity to the sound cinema Here the distinguished film scholar Dudley Andrew examines the motivations and consequences of these remarkable films by looking at the cultural web in which they were made Beyond giving a rich view of the life and worth of cinema in France Andrew contributes substantially to our knowledge of how films are dealt with in history Where earlier studies have treated the masterpieces of this era either in themselves or as part of the vision of their creators and where certain recent scholars have reacted to this by dissolving the masterpieces back into the system of entertainment that made them possible Andrew stresses the dialogue of culture and cinema In his view the films open questions that take us into the culture while our understanding of the culture gives energy direction and consequence to our reading of the films The book demonstrates the value of this hermeneutic approach for one set of texts and one period but it should very much interest film theorists and film historians of all sorts Representations of Art and Art Museums in Children's Picture Books Perry

Nodelman, 2024-10-17 What happens when the assumptions and practices of museum curators and art educators intersect with the assumptions and practices of publishing for children This study explores how over three hundred children's picture books most of them published in the last three decades in English introduce children to art and art museums It considers how the books emerge from and relate to a range of theories and assumptions about childhood and childhood development children's literature and culture illustration visual art museology and art education As well as examining how these theories and assumptions influence what picture books teach young readers about visiting museums and about how to look at and think about art it examines which artists and artworks appear most often in picture books and offers a survey of different kinds of art related picture books ones that claim to be purely informational ones that make looking at art a game or a puzzle ones in which children visit art museums and many more Since the books all include reproductions of or allusions to museum artworks the study also considers the problems illustrators face in depicting museum artworks in illustrations in a different style Renoir's Dancer Catherine Hewitt, 2018-02-27 Catherine Hewitt's richly told biography of Suzanne Valadon the illegitimate daughter of a provincial linen maid who became famous as a model for the Impressionists and later as a painter in her own right In the 1880s Suzanne Valadon was considered the Impressionists most beautiful model But behind her captivating facade lay a closely guarded secret Suzanne was born into poverty in rural France before her mother fled the provinces taking her to Montmartre There as a teenager Suzanne began posing for and having affairs with some of the age's most renowned painters Then Renoir caught her indulging in a passion she had been trying to conceal the model was herself a talented artist Some found her vibrant still lifes and frank portraits as shocking as her bohemian lifestyle At eighteen she gave birth to an illegitimate child future painter Maurice Utrillo But her friends Toulouse Lautrec and Degas could see her skill Rebellious and opinionated she refused to be confined by tradition or gender and in 1894 her work was accepted to the Salon de la Soci t  Nationale des Beaux Arts an extraordinary achievement for a working class woman with no formal art training Renoir's Dancer tells the remarkable tale of an ambitious headstrong woman fighting to find a professional voice in a male dominated world

Impressionism Nathalia Brodskaya,2014-05-10 I paint what I see and not what it pleases others to see What other words than these of douard Manet seemingly so different from the sentiments of Monet or Renoir could best define the Impressionist movement Without a doubt this singularity was explained when shortly before his death Claude Monet wrote I remain sorry to have been the cause of the name given to a group the majority of which did not have anything Impressionist In this work Nathalia Brodskaya examines the contradictions of this late 19th century movement through the paradox of a group who while forming a coherent ensemble favoured the affirmation of artistic individuals Between academic art and the birth of modern non figurative painting the road to recognition was long Analysing the founding elements of the movement the author follows through the works of each of the artists how the demand for individuality gave rise to modern painting

Popular Front Paris and the Poetics of Culture Dudley Andrew,Steven Ungar,2005 The authors highlight the new symbolic forces put in play by technologies of the illustrated press and the sound film technologies that converged with efforts among writers artists and other intellectuals to respond to the crises of the decade Music and Modern Art James Leggio,2014-07-16 Music and Modern Art adopts an interdisciplinary approach to the relationship between these two fields of creative endeavor

Cinema, Colonialism, Postcolonialism Dina Sherzer,2010-07-05 In this first major study of French colonial and postcolonial cinema Dina Sherzer compiles essays by some of the foremost scholars on the subject who interrogate and analyze the realities behind the images of the nation s past and present Through an examination of France and its colonies multiethnic contemporary France and cinematic discourses which have been and are being produced about France s colonial past these authors explore how the images relay underlying assumptions and their relation to historical and political facts A variety of subjects and viewpoints inform these studies which cover the entire range of films on that topic The authors expound upon the role French and Francophone films are currently playing in reconstructing and imagining France s colonial past Not only do the essays examine how French cinema has represented the encounter of French citizens with individuals from former colonies during the colonial era they examine how French cinema has portrayed and has come to terms with the immigration of former colonial subjects to France In addition the book features another postcolonial facet by analyzing films of directors from the former colonies who give their own representation of colonialism and presentation of their culture This study is a major contribution to postcolonial research Race gender and geography are central themes throughout this book that presents innovative material that contributes to the history of French cinema and emphasizes how cinema participates in and is a part of national culture Impressionist Cats & Dogs James Henry Rubin,2003-01-01 Many Impressionist paintings of modern life and leisure include images of household pets Their appealing presence lends charm to such works while alluding to middle class prosperity and the growing importance of animals as family members In many cases such domestic denizens significantly complement representations of their owners In certain others the devotion of individual artists to their pets symbolically enhances their expressions of artistic identity This enjoyable and informative book focuses on the role of pets in Impressionist pictures and what this reveals about art artists and society of that era James H Rubin discusses works in which artists paint themselves or their friends in the company of their pets including several paintings by Courbet who was fond of dogs and Manet a notorious lover of cats He points out that in some works by Degas dogs contribute to the artist s commentary on psychological and social relationships and that in paintings by Renoir dogs and cats have playful and erotic overtones He also offers a theory to explain why Monet almost never painted pets Drawing on early pet handbooks and treatises on animal intelligence Rubin explores nineteenth century opinions on cats and dogs and compares handbook illustrations to the animals shown in Impressionist works He also provides fascinating information on pet ownership and on the place of Impressionism in the long history of animal painting Scenescapes Daniel Aaron

Corporate Medievalism II Karl Fugelso,2013 In the wake of the many passionate responses to its predecessor Studies in Medievalism 22 also addresses the role of corporations in medievalism Amid the three opening essays Amy S Kaufman examines how three modern novelists have refracted contemporary corporate culture through an imagined and highly dystopic Middle Ages On either side of that paper Elizabeth Emery and Richard Utz explore how the Woolworth Company

White,Cynthia A. White,1965 In the nineteenth century the Acad mie des Beaux Arts and institution of central importance to the artistic life of France for over two hundred years yielded much of its power to the present system of art distribution which is dependent upon critics dealers and small exhibitions In Canvases and Careers Harrison and Cynthia White examine in scrupulous and fascinating detail how and why this shift occurred Assimilating a wide range of historical and sociological data the authors argue convincingly that the Academy by neglecting to address the social and economic conditions of its time undermined its own ability to maintain authority and control Originally published in 1965 this ground breaking work is a classic piece of empirical research in the sociology of art In this edition Harrison C White s new Foreword compares the marketing approaches of two contemporary painters while Cynthia A White s new Afterword reviews recent scholarship in the field
