Ebert, Marc Dando, 2020-12-08 The waters of the northeast Atlantic and Mediterranean Sea are home to an amazing variety of sharks rays and chimaeras This comprehensive and easy to use field guide covers all 146 species found in the Mediterranean the waters of the European Atlantic and Iceland along all the Scandinavian coasts in the Black Sea and as far south as the Canary Islands Detailed species accounts describe key identification features habitat biology and status Every species account comes with a colour distribution map a depth guide at a glance icons and colour illustrations This must have field guide also features illustrated key guides that enable you to accurately identify down to species comparison plates of similar species illustrations of eggcases where known and plates of teeth Theory of Electric and Magnetic Orientation in Sharks and Rays Revisited Adrianus J. Kalmijn, 2024-08-15 The book describes the theory of electromagnetic orientation in sharks and rays The theory evolved from studying the publications of Faraday von Arx and Longuett Higgins Sharks and rays can detect the earth's magnetic field as well as the ambient electric fields utilizing their electrosensory system the Ampullae of Lorenzini Dr Kalmijn provides the physical description of this sensory system in the context of his previously published behavioral studies performed in the laboratory and in natural open ocean settings The book lays bare the physics bedrock of the motional electric fields The physics of the entire sensory environment interacting with these very sensitive organs is made clear step by step so the reader can understand the source of the fields and how the animals detect them Dr Kalmijn analyzes the sensory organs from the perspective of the animal moving through these electric and magnetic fields to arrive at the appropriate relativistic frame to understand how the sensory system works Relying on his thorough understanding of Maxwell Faraday and Einstein he has sought to understand the miraculous abilities of Elasmobranchs The detailed presentation clears away many of the misunderstandings and mistakes of previous researchers Nearly all the mistakes pertain to the underlying physics The existing literature is discussed put in context and corrected This summary and final presentation of Dr Kalmijn's life time study of electromagnetic reception in Elasmobranchs will surely be recognized as the definitive treatise in years to come It gives researchers and students in biology physics oceanography and fisheries a detailed mathematical physics background for the understanding of electroreception in Elasmobranch fishes

Sharks: Conservation, Governance and Management Erika J. Techera, Natalie Klein, 2014-06-05 The key aim of this book is to explore the global conservation and management of sharks There has been a rapid decline in populations of many shark species while new science has emerged of the critical role they play in marine ecosystems However the authors show that conservation law and policy have been slow to develop with only a small number of iconic species being protected worldwide The increase in fishing impact primarily through shark finning and by catch has led to shark conservation receiving greater international attention in recent years The book explores our current knowledge and status of the law and science in relation to sharks with a particular focus on improving frameworks for their conservation and management Recent trends are analysed including shark finning bans that have been put in place in several countries the widening number of nations establishing shark sanctuaries and the growth of shark based tourism The efficacy of current listing processes for endangered species and fisheries regulations is also examined Tourism is explored as an alternative to fishing and the risks and impacts associated with this industry are analysed Contributors include leading authorities from universities and conservation organizations in North America Europe and Australia A common theme is to emphasise the importance of collaborative governance between various interest groups and the need for inter disciplinary research and management approaches that are necessary to address the decline in sharks

The Arabian Seas:

Biodiversity, Environmental Challenges and Conservation Measures Laith A. Jawad, 2021-03-30 The Arabian Seas Marine Region encompasses marine areas from Djibouti to Pakistan including the northern part of Somalia the Red Sea the Arabian Persian Gulf and parts of the Arabian Sea Human pressures on the coastal and marine environments are evident throughout the region and have resulted in harmful environmental effects Oil and domestic urban and industrial pollutants in several areas of this part of the world have caused local habitat degradation eutrophication and algal blooms Further coastal landfill dredging and sedimentation as well as nutrient and sediment runoff from phosphate mining agriculture and grazing and reduction in freshwater seepage due to groundwater extraction are all contributing to the degradation of coastal environments This book discusses aspects not covered in other books on the region which largely focus on marine biodiversity and examines several environmental challenges that are often ignored but which have a significant impact on the environment Evaluating the status quo it also recommends conservation measures and examines the abiotic factors that play a major main role in the environmental changes Lastly the book addresses the biodiversity of the area providing a general context for the conservation and management measures discussed Solitaire Eluned Price, Annual scientific publication from Durrell Wildlife Conservation Trust

Minorities in Shark Sciences Jasmin Graham,Camila Caceres,Deborah Santos de Azevedo Menna,2022-11-10 Minorities in Shark Sciences showcases the work done by Black Indigenous and People of Color around the world in the fields of shark science and conservation Edited by three minority researchers it provides positive role models for the next generation Highlighting new and important research done in the fields of biology ecology and evolution the book places emphasis on scientists with diverse backgrounds and expertise from around the world The heart of this book is that community and minority voices are important and have always been to science regardless of diplomas universities accolades western standards of academia Despite the use of the term Minorities most of the world s population do not identify as white nor male and in fact all minorities together comprise the global majority of humans For those in these historically underserved and underrepresented demographics it is meaningful to be highlighted and be given credit for their contributions This book showcases to the world the many Black Indigenous People of Color and LGBTQ scientists leading marine conservation both in terms of scientific research and science communication It has been shown in the literature that diversity in scientists creates diversity in thought which leads to innovation Strong minority voices are exactly what is needed to bring greater attention to the conservation of sharks and this book illustrates innovative science by people who were historically excluded from STEM It highlights the unique perspectives these scientists bring to their field that allow them to interact with stakeholders particularly in the areas of conservation and outreach As we continue to amplify these often forgotten voices through research outreach and engagement we hope to stimulate innovation and transformative change in the field of shark conservation and marine science

Vincent Serventy Vincent Serventy,1999 Fascinating life story of a naturalist and conservationist extraordinaire Elasmobranch Biodiversity, Conservation and Management Sarah L. Fowler,Tim M. Reed,Frances Dipper,2002 The Darwin Elasmobranch Biodiversity Conservation and Management project in Sabah held a three day international seminar that included a one day workshop in order to highlight freshwater and coastal elasmobranch conservation issues in the region and worldwide to disseminate the result of the project to other Malaysian states and countries and to raise awareness of the importance of considering aspects of elasmobranch biodiversity in the context of nature conservation commercial fisheries management and for subsistence fishing communities These proceedings contain numerous peer reviewed papers originally presented at the seminar which cover a wide range of topics with particular reference to species from freshwater and estuarine habitats The workshop served to develop recommendations concerning the future prospects of elasmobranch fisheries biodiversity conservation and management This paper records those conclusions which highlight the importance of elasmobranchs as top marine predators and keystone species noting that permanent damage to shark and ray populations are likely to have serious and unexpected negative consequences for commercial and subsistence yields of other important fish stocks
