Shattered World The:

The Man with a Shattered World A. R. Luria, 1987-04-30 Luria presents a compelling portrait of a man's heroic struggle to regain his mental faculties. A soldier named Zasetsky, wounded in the head at the battle of Smolensk in 1943, found himself unable to recall his recent past or speak, read or write without difficulty. Woven throughout his first person account are interpolations by Luria himself.

The Shattered World Michael Reaves, 1985-03 A millennium ago magicians fought a war and smashed the world into a thousand pieces. In partial expiation of these same sorcerers cast spells to set the fragments floating about each other in the Abyss to inform them with a proper gravity and to supply them and the space that separates them with an atmosphere that men and beasts may breathe. But that was long ago in a thousand years even sorcerers grow old and so do their spells. Now the doom that was forestalled is at hand. Already pieces of the Shattered World begin to collide. Soon all will meet and coalesce and melt into molten chaos.
