Braxton,2015-03-15 No Longer Slaves brings the ancient New Testament message into conversation with African American culture Twenty centuries after Paul penned Galatians American culture in general and American Christianity in particular continue to struggle with the problem of race relations Our challenges are not identical to those faced by Paul and the Galatians Yet when one reads Galatians through the lens of African American experience striking similarities emerge In No Longer Slaves Brad Braxton helps us see that race relations is a central issue in Galatians Paul believes that Christ came in order to unite Jews and Gentiles The church was intended to be a multi ethnic community in which persons of different backgrounds co existed harmoniously Any effort to compel Gentiles to live as Jews is an invalidation of the freedom of the Gospel Galatians offers us a portrait of an early Christian leader and community sorting out complex social issues No Longer Slaves explores the concept of liberation in African American experience It entails a discussion of American slavery Rather than depicting African Americans simply as victims of the crimes of slavery and segregation Braxton describes the creative cultural and religious responses of African Americans to their oppression He employs a type of reader response theory that considers the experiences of the reading community as a lens through which texts are read His discussion of methodology exposes the reader to some of the issues in the current debate without becoming burdensome to the non specialist The remainder of the book is an interpretation of Paul s letter to the Galatians Although Braxton takes seriously the original context of Galatians and his exegesis engages the Greek text he offers a contemporary theological reading that privileges the history experiences and concerns of African Americans Those who are concerned about the connection between Christianity and ethnicity will find this interpretation intriguing and challenging Chapters in Liberation and African American Experience are Introduction Liberation Rationales and Definitions Blackness Biology and Ideology and African American Biblical Interpretation Chapters in A Reading Strategy for Liberation are Reader Response Criticism and Black and Womanist Theologies The Bible and Authority in Reader Response Criticism and The African American Christian Interpretive Community Chapters in Galatians and African American Experience are Introduction Historical Overview Interpretations and Conclusion Includes a bibliography Brad Ronnell Braxton PhD is the Jessie Ball DuPont Assistant Professor of Homiletics and Biblical Studies at Wake Forest University Divinity School in Winston Salem North Carolina He is an ordained Baptist minister and for five years served as Senior Pastor of Douglas Memorial Community Church in Baltimore Maryland One Blood John Perkins,2018-04-03 Dr Perkins final manifesto on race faith and reconciliation We are living in historic times Not since the civil rights movement of the 60s has our country been this vigorously engaged in the reconciliation conversation There is a great opportunity right now for culture to change but it cannot be done without the church The church is the heart and moral compass of a nation To turn a country away from God you must sideline the church To turn a nation to God the church must turn first Racism won t end in America until the church is reconciled first Then and only then can it spiritually and morally lead the way In this his crowning work Dr Perkins speaks honestly to the church about reconciliation discipleship and justice and what it really takes to live out biblical reconciliation      Human Behavior Theory and Applications Elizabeth DePoy, Stephen French Gilson, 2011-09-21 In Human Behavior Theory and Applications authors Elizabeth DePoy and Stephen Gilson use a critical thinking approach to engage students to think in depth about theory and its use in social work practice. With a strong focus on diversity, this book expands its theory coverage to include progressive and the most cutting edge contemporary thinking. The authors skillfully introduce theory, critically examine each theory including developmental theories, environmental theories, diversity theories, systems theories, and new and emerging theories, and then apply each theory to social work practice, providing a synthesis of classical and contemporary theory for scholarly analysis and application to professional intellectual and social action.

The Last Stand Michelle Davis, MEd, 2025-01-21 The Last Stand unveils a critical examination of the shift in public education from fostering diverse social backgrounds and academic achievement to the indoctrination of far left ideologies. Long time educator and advocate Michelle Davis delivers a call to action for parents, grandparents, education leaders, and teachers to reclaim control over their local schools and challenge the encroachment of secular influences. In this eye-opening exploration, concerned Christians are urged to engage with their communities, conduct independent research, and organize for change. Davis emphasizes the need for a litmus test to evaluate the alignment of churches and private schools with Biblically based values as pop culture increasingly erodes them. As Christians become the counter culture, it is imperative for parents to shed their blinders and critically analyze the foundational policies of local school districts, discerning the presence of indoctrination and grooming. The Last Stand empowers traditionalists who are committed to safeguarding core Christian values for the sake of our children and the future of this great nation.

The Human Experience Elizabeth DePoy, 2007 The Human Experience examines, analyzes, and applies theories of humans, environments, and human environment interaction to professional thinking and action. The authors highlight tacit values and assumptions that underlie theory generation and application to professional practice and challenge the reader to answer two questions: how do we know and what do we do with our knowledge? Significant critical emphasis is devoted to diversity of humans and environments and the value perimeter in which professionals think and act.

e.g. the conviction of America's unique character and destiny, total war and ethnic cleansing, the dehumanization of Native peoples, patriotism and homeland, the idea of the American Dream. As a whole, this book offers Joshua as a biblical resource for reading the American experience, challenging readers to reflect on how conquest shaped America's identity and how it continues to influence American attitudes and actions.

Racism Thomas Schirrmacher, 2014-01-28 Are white people more intelligent than black people? Are Jews devious and greedy? Intolerance and violence through racism includes slavery, national socialism in Germany, apartheid in South Africa, or the genocides in Rwanda and Bosnia. But racism is not only wrong; theologically, it is not only against the dignity of humans that guarantees their human rights, but newer genetic research also proves that the whole classification into races is without foundation. Biologically speaking, all humans belong to one race. E.g., when you need a blood transfusion, you should not look for a blood donor from your race but someone with the same blood group transcending all races.

Transforming the Church in Africa: Vernon E. Light, 2012-11-26 This book is a must-read for serious Christians hoping to obey the Great Commission to make disciples in Africa. Vernon strikes an admirable balance between academic depth and practical application, helping us to appreciate the interface between the gospel of Jesus Christ and the traditional African worldview. I heartily recommend this book to all thinking Christian leaders in Africa: pastors, teachers, and missionaries.

Kevin G. Smith, DLitt, PhD. Vernon Light wrote this book with an apostolic passion in the way the apostles presented and proclaimed the Gospel to world religions and cultures. It is an exciting study of African traditional religion and its relation to Christianity. It shows that for Christianity to thrive and be relevant biblically and transformationally in Africa, firstly, Christian scholars and theologians are needed who understand and address Africa's traditional heritage and Western modern, postmodern, and pluralistic ideologies, and secondly, the Gospel must be contextually, relevantly, meaningfully, and practically taught through an effective discipleship program. The book, based on extensive research and massive use of resources, is a valuable tool for students, pastors, scholars, and theologians interested in the state of Christianity and religious change in Africa.

Professor Yusufu Turaki, PhD. Much more than being a useful resource, this is a book with a mission. Like Jeremiah of old (Jer 20:9), Vernon is a man with a passion and message from God to the society to which God has called him. Like Jeremiah, Vernon is totally convinced of the absolute truth of his message in the midst of a myriad of conflicting opinions and that his message will change society from disaster to hope. Would that it is heard!

Professor David T. Williams, DTh. The Rev. Vernon E. Light, BSc, BDHons, MTh, is a member of the academic staff at the South African Theological Seminary.
