Mexican Cinema Reflections Of A Society 18962004 3d Edition:

Mexican Cinema Carl J. Mora, 2015-05-07 Mexican filmmaking is traced from its early beginnings in 1896 to the present in this book. Of particular interest are the great changes from 1990 to 2004, the confluence of talented and dedicated filmmakers, important changes in Mexican cinematic infrastructure, and significant social and cultural transformations. From Nicolas Echevarria's Cabeza de Vaca (1991) to the 1992 releases of Hellboy (director Guillermo del Toro) and Cronos (Alfonso Arau), Como agua para chocolate (Alfonso Cuarón), and Y tu mamá también (2001), this work provides a close look at Mexican films that received international commercial success and critical acclaim and put Mexico on the cinematic world map. Arranged chronologically, this edition (originally published in 2005) covers the entire scope of Mexican cinema. The main films and their directors are discussed together with the political, social, and economic contexts of the times. Mex-Ciné

Frederick Luis Aldama, 2013-04-25 Mex Cin offers an accessibly written multidisciplinary investigation of contemporary Mexican cinema that combines industrial, technical, and sociopolitical analysis with analyses of modes of reception through cognitive theory. Mex Cin aims to make visible the twenty-first century Mexican film industry, its blueprints, and the cognitive and emotive faculties involved in making and consuming its corpus. A sustained, free-flowing, book-length meditation, Mex Cin enriches our understanding of the way contemporary Mexican directors use specific technical devices, structures, and characterizations in making films in ways that guide the perceptual, emotive, and cognitive faculties of their ideal audiences while providing the historical contexts in which these films are made and consumed. Contemporary Film Directors Celestino Deleyto, Maria del Mar Azcona, 2010-09-23 This study of Mexican film director Alejandro González Iñárritu explores his role in moving Mexican filmmaking from a traditional nationalist agenda toward a more global focus. In studying the international scope of Iñárritu's influential films Amores Perros, 21 Grams, and Babel, the authors trace common themes such as human suffering and redemption, chance, and accidental encounters. The authors also analyze the director's visual style and his use of multiple characters and a fragmented narrative structure. The book concludes with an interview of Iñárritu that touches on the themes and subject matter of his chief works. Mexican Movies in the United States Rogelio

Agrasánchez, Jr., 2011-06-17 A surge of immigration in the United States in the 1920s coincided with burgeoning developments in entertainment, including cinema. Movie houses sprang up in areas where Latin American populations were concentrated, and the advent of talkies propelled the Spanish-speaking movie industry into high gear. As the U.S. entered World War II, films from Mexico dominated that industry, creating a culture of Mexican cinema that offered entertainment, a reflection of native values and customs, and a link to the homeland. This book is a richly detailed look at Mexican cinema's boom years in the United States, 1920 to 1960. Chapters focus on the appeal of Mexican cinema and the venues that evolved where Hispanic populations were centered: theaters, distributors, audience demographics, popular and critical reception of the films, and stars. All receive attention. Included are lists of theaters in California, Texas, and cities in other states that exhibited

Mexican films between 1920 and 1960 A Brief History of Mexico Lynn V. Foster, 2009 Praise for the previous editions well researched concise interesting American Reference Books Annual Cinema Studies Susan Hayward, 2022-09-30 Now in its sixth edition this essential guide for students provides accessible definitions of a comprehensive range of genres movements world cinemas theories and production terms This fully revised and updated book includes new topical entries that explore areas such as film and the environmental crisis streaming and new audience consumption diversity and intersectionality questions related to race and representation the Black Lives Matter movement and New Wave Cinemas of Eastern European countries Further new entries include accented exilic cinema border cinema the oppositional gaze sonic sound and Black westerns Existing entries have been updated including discussion of MeToo and more contemporary film examples have been added throughout This is a must have guide for any student starting out on this fascinating area of study and arguably the greatest art form of modern times Commerce in Culture A. Flibbert, 2007-09-03 Commerce in Culture is an innovative study of how states have responded to the globalization of the film sector Concerned with more than film content or substance the book exposes the ongoing political and economic struggles that shape cultural production and trade in the world The historical focus is on Hollywood's engagement with rivals and partners in two leading developing countries Egypt and Mexico beginning with the birth of their national film industries in the late 1920s State and market institutions evolved differently in each context acting like national prisms to mediate international competition and produce distinctive results As filmmaking has become a dynamic focal point in the new economy Commerce in Culture reveals a vital but neglected part of the global terrain LOST KINGDOMS OF CENTRAL AMERICA Norah Romney, 2021-02-12 Thousands of years ago people settled in the part of the world called Mesoamerica This region consists of southern Mexico and most of Central America as it stretches between what is now called the Gulf of Mexico and the Pacific Ocean Although many different countries now exist within this space it was the original home to just one civilisation the Olmec As time advanced other well known groups became dominant in the area These were primarily the Aztecs and the Mayan All these early civilizations that existed from approximately 1200 BCE to 900 CE were steeped with culture tradition commerce and conflict They also offer many mysteries and enigmas to modern understanding These are the things that make people wonder about how the civilisations arose gained such power and why they disappeared Travel back in time to the first days to discover the questions that still exist in the minds of archaeologists historians and others who strive to understand the ancient mysteries of Mesoamerica Lost Civilizations of Mesoamerica Norah Romney, As the Olmec culture developed in the early pre classic period we observe the phenomenon of the Olmec Heads and their Mysterious origins Through ideological management and coercion mechanisms the dominant ruler appears and alludes to forms of government exercised by individuals Massive sculptures and large scale architecture represent the first representations of political power The socio political complex that developed thus encouraged the development of similar forms in other areas of Mesoamerica resulting in the first stratified societies consisting of actual states as seen in Teotihuacan in the Mexican highlands Monte Albán in Oaxaca and the Maya city states during the classical period A corollary of this process was the rise of some post classical societies that reached supra state levels such as the Mexica who settled in the Mexican highlands and established a true pan Mesoamerican empire Following this brief introduction it is time to examine each ancient Mexican society considered the most significant in Mesoamerica's political development

Pushing Past the Human in Latin American Cinema Carolyn Fornoff, Gisela Heffes, 2021-06-01 Pushing Past the Human in Latin American Cinema brings together fourteen scholars to analyze Latin American cinema in dialogue with recent theories of posthumanism and ecocriticism Together they grapple with how Latin American filmmakers have attempted to push past the human and destabilize the myth of anthropocentric exceptionalism that has historically been privileged by cinema and has led to the current climate crisis While some chapters question the very nature of this enterprise whether cinema should or even could actualize such a maneuver beyond the human others signal the ways in which the category of the human itself is interrogated by Latin American cinema revealed to be a fiction that excludes more than it unifies This volume explores how the moving image reinforces or contests the division between human and nonhuman and troubles the settler epistemic partition of culture and nature that is at the core of the climate crisis As the first volume to specifically address how such questions are staged by Latin American cinema this book brings together analysis of films that respond to environmental degradation as well as those that articulate a posthumanist ethos that blurs the line between species

The Classical Mexican Cinema Charles Ramírez Berg, 2015-09-01 From the mid 1930s to the late 1950s Mexican cinema became the most successful Latin American cinema and the leading Spanish language film industry in the world Many Cine de Oro Golden Age cinema films adhered to the dominant Hollywood model but a small yet formidable filmmaking faction rejected Hollywood's paradigm outright Directors Fernando de Fuentes Emilio Fernández Luis Buñuel Juan Bustillo Oro Adolfo Best Maugard and Julio Bracho sought to create a unique national cinema that through the stories it told and the ways it told them was wholly Mexican The Classical Mexican Cinema traces the emergence and evolution of this Mexican cinematic aesthetic a distinctive film form designed to express lo mexicano Charles Ramírez Berg begins by locating the classical style's pre cinematic roots in the work of popular Mexican artist José Guadalupe Posada at the turn of the twentieth century He also looks at the dawning of Mexican classicism in the poetics of Enrique Rosas El Automóvil Gris the crowning achievement of Mexico's silent filmmaking era and the film that set the stage for the Golden Age films Berg then analyzes mature examples of classical Mexican filmmaking by the predominant Golden Age auteurs of three successive decades Drawing on neoformalism and neoauteurism within a cultural studies framework he brilliantly reveals how the poetics of Classical Mexican Cinema deviated from the formal norms of the Golden Age to express a uniquely Mexican sensibility thematically stylistically and ideologically

Facing Asymmetry Kryštof Kozák, 2010 The book analyzes the concept of asymmetry in international relations on the example of United States and Mexico This bilateral relation is introduced within wider historical economic and political context It also includes a case study on perceptions of Mexico in U S media The study focuses on critical issues in bilateral relations within the context of asymmetric relations Economic integration under North American Free Trade Agreement extensive migration from Mexico to the U S and the issue of drug trafficking and drug control efforts are analyzed in this respect The concluding chapter uses the findings to conceptualize asymmetric relations and presents possible applications of the key findings to complex bilateral issues Cinema between Latin America and Los Angeles Colin Gunckel, Jan-Christopher Horak, Lisa Jarvinen, 2019-02-08 Historically Los Angeles and its exhibition market have been central to the international success of Latin American cinema Not only was Los Angeles a site crucial for exhibition of these films but it became the most important hub in the western hemisphere for the distribution of Spanish language films made for Latin American audiences Cinema between Latin America and Los Angeles builds upon this foundational insight to both examine the considerable ongoing role that Los Angeles played in the history of Spanish language cinema and to explore the implications of this transnational dynamic for the study and analysis of Latin American cinema before 1960 The volume editors aim to flesh out the gaps between Hollywood and Latin America American imperialism and Latin American nationalism in order to produce a more nuanced view of transnational cultural relations in the western hemisphere Latin American Film Industries Tamara L. Falicov, 2019-06-27 Film production in Latin America is as old as cinema itself but local film industries have always been in a triangulated relationship with Hollywood and European cinema This book situates Latin American film industries within the global circulation of film production exhibition and distribution charting the changes that the industries have undergone from the sound era to the present day Focusing in particular on Argentina Brazil and Mexico Tamara Falicov examines commonalities among Latin American film industries such as the challenges of procuring funding competition from Hollywood state funding battles and the fickle nature of audiences as well as censorship issues competition from television and the transnational nature of Latin American film She addresses production exhibition and distribution contexts and financing and co production with Europe and the United States as well as the role of film festivals in funding and circulating films both within and outside of Latin America Newer trends such as the revival of protectionist measures like the screen quota are framed in contrast to the U S s push for trade policy liberalization and issues of universal concern such as film piracy and new technologies and the role of television in helping and hindering Latin American cinema A2 Film Studies Sarah Casey Benyahia, Freddie Gaffney, John White, 2010-12-14 A2 Film Studies The Essential Introduction gives students the confidence to tackle every part of the WJEC A2 Level Film Studies course The authors who have wide ranging experience as teachers examiners and authors introduce students step by step to the skills involved in the study of film The second edition has been re designed and re written to follow the new WJEC A2 syllabus for 2009 teaching onwards and is supported by a companion website at www.alevelfilmstudies.co.uk offering further advice and activities There is a chapter for each exam topic including The small scale research project The creative

Cinesonidos Jacqueline Avila, 2019-09-16 During Mexico's silent 1896-1930 and early sound 1931-52 periods cinema saw the development of five significant genres the prostitute melodrama including the cabaretera subgenre the indigenista film on indigenous themes or topics the cine de a oranza porfiriana films of Porfirian nostalgia the Revolution film and the comedia ranchera ranch comedy In this book author Jacqueline Avila looks at examples from all genres exploring the ways that the popular regional and orchestral music in these films contributed to the creation of tropes and archetypes now central to Mexican cultural nationalism Integrating primary source material including newspaper articles advertisements films with film music studies sound studies and Mexican film and cultural history Avila examines how these tropes and archetypes mirrored changing perceptions of mexicanidad manufactured by the State and popular and transnational culture As she shows several social and political agencies were heavily invested in creating a unified national identity in an attempt to merge the previously fragmented populace as a result of the Revolution The commercial medium of film became an important tool to acquaint a diverse urban audience with the nuances of Mexican national identity and music played an essential and persuasive role in the process In this heterogeneous environment cinema and its music continuously reshaped the contested fluctuating space of Mexican identity functioning both as a sign and symptom of social and political change

Iconic Mexico Eric Zolov, 2015-08-26 Going far beyond basic historical information this two volume work examines the deep roots of Mexican culture and their meaning to modern Mexico In this book readers will find rich in depth treatments by renowned as well as up and coming scholars on the most iconic people places social movements and cultural manifestations including food dress film and music that have given shape and meaning to modern Mexico and its people Presenting authoritative information written by scholars in a format that is easily accessible to general audiences this book serves as a useful and thorough reference tool for all readers This work combines extensive historical treatment accompanied by illuminating and fresh analysis that will appeal to readers of all levels from those just exploring the concept of Mexico to those already familiar with Mexico and Latin America Each entry functions as a portal into Mexican history culture and politics while also showing how cultural phenomena have transformed over the years and continue to resonate into today      Making Cinelandia Laura Isabel Serna,2014-03-03 In the 1920s as American films came to dominate Mexico's cinemas many of its cultural and political elites feared that this Yankee invasion would turn Mexico into a cultural vassal of the United States In Making Cinelandia Laura Isabel Serna contends that Hollywood films were not simply tools of cultural imperialism Instead they offered Mexicans on both sides of the border an imaginative and crucial means of participating in global modernity even as these films and their producers and distributors frequently displayed anti Mexican bias Before the Golden Age of Mexican cinema Mexican audiences used their encounters with American films to construct a national film culture Drawing on extensive archival research Serna explores the popular experience of cinemagoing from the perspective of exhibitors cinema workers journalists censors and fans showing how Mexican audiences actively engaged with American films to identify more deeply with Mexico      Childhood and Modernity in Cold War Mexico City Eileen Ford,2018-02-22 Childhood and Modernity in Cold War Mexico City traces the transformations that occurred between 1934 and 1968 in Mexico through the lens of childhood Countering the dominance of Western European and North American views of childhood Eileen Ford puts the experiences of children in Latin America into their historical political and cultural contexts Drawing on diverse primary sources ranging from oral histories to photojournalism Ford reconstructs the emergent and varying meanings of childhood in Mexico City during a period of changing global attitudes towards childhood and changing power relations in Mexico at multiple scales from the family to the state She analyses children's presence on the silver screen in radio and in print media to examine the way that children were constructed within public discourse identifying the forces that would converge in the 1968 student movement This book demonstrates children's importance within Mexican society as Mexico transitioned from a socialist inspired revolutionary government to one that embraced industrial capitalism in the Cold War era It is a fascinating study of an extremely important burgeoning population group in Mexico that has previously been excluded from histories of Mexico's bid for modernity Childhood and Modernity in Cold War Mexico City will be essential reading for students and scholars of Latin American history and the Cold War      Race and Cultural Practice in Popular Culture Domino Renee Perez,Rachel Valentina Gonzalez,2019 This book is an innovative work that takes a fresh approach to the concept of race as a social factor made concrete in popular forms such as film television and music The essays push past the reaffirmation of static conceptions of identity authenticity or conventional interpretations of stereotypes and bridge the intertextual gap between theories of community enactment and cultural representation
