Moore, Victoria N. Seeger, 2010 This title presents a successful approach for motivating students as individual readers while encouraging peer to peer learning By showing how to use retrospective miscue analysis RMA and Socratic circles together the authors help teachers create a sense of community in the classroom and promote achievement for every student The Fiction Gateway Suzanne Eberlé, Noelle Williamson, 2009-04-01 In this guide to children's literature two experienced school librarians set out to answer the question What's a good book for me to read next by providing a selection of books for librarians teachers and parents from which to choose the most appropriate book The Fiction Gateway is an essential resource that supports individual group and social reading programs and provides an instant guide to matching children's interests with suitable reading material Each entry contains Brief synopsis of the plot Publisher details Theme correlations Concepts and reading level Questions for discussion An excerpt Range of post reading activities A Reading Guide to My Side of the Mountain, by Jean Craighead George Jean Craighead George, Hannah Mitchell, 2004 Discusses the writing characters plot setting and themes of this adventure book and includes an interview with the novel's author discussion questions and activities Talking through Reading and Writing Daniel Rose, Christine Walsh, 2020-11-11 In this book you will read many examples of rich literacy conversations between a teacher and his 8th grade students that never would have occurred face to face in the classroom These conversations take place online when 8th graders write to their teacher about the books they're interested in reading and choosing to read independently Students write about what happens when they read or don't read how they feel about reading how they're connecting with characters and ideas why they don't have enough time to read and what their reading goals are And their teacher writes back to them Every week After each conversation you will read some meta talk that shines a light on what the conversation has taught us about this language learner and how this data is informing our beliefs and practices Embedded within the chapters are suggested resources articles book recommendations links websites blogs etc you can follow should you want to read more in that chapter What these students reveal about their own literacy development their successes their challenges their lives and how their teacher nudges them along socially emotionally and academically teach us the value and power of one practical authentic literacy tool the Reading Conversation Journal

Learning Journals in the K-8 Classroom Marcia S. Popp, 2012-11-12 Learning Journals in the K 8 Classroom is the first comprehensive presentation of how to use academic journals effectively for elementary level instruction The text outlines the theoretical foundations for using learning journals and provides step by step suggestions for implementing them in every content area and at all levels of elementary instruction Learning journals provide resources and support for reading aloud independent reading mini lessons cooperative study individual research workshops and the portfolio system The type of interactive writing students do in learning journals helps them explore complex ideas in the content areas using their own strengths of analysis and response the journals then become resources for future learning group discussions individual conferences learning assessment reports and progress Four introductory chapters show teachers how to create their own journals introduce journals to students integrate them with cooperative study and use them for assessment Additional chapters focus on the individual curriculum areas of literature writing mathematics science and social studies The text includes sample entries from student journals at all grade levels and in every content area and appendices of annotated resources to support journaling and interviews with teachers who use journals in their classrooms

Engaging the Eye Generation Johanna Riddle, 2009 This timely book suggests digital curriculum enhancements that range from low to high technology and explains how teachers even those with limited skills can effectively guide students in using technology It thoughtfully explains how technology can add new layers to students comprehension critical thinking and communication skills

Teach the Way the Brain Learns Madlon T. Laster, 2009-06-16 Teach the Way the Brain Learns discusses organizing learning experiences under themes Once the brain has stored basic concepts in the curriculum the storing by association system of the brain attaches new information to those basic concepts building new ones as students have learning experiences that involve them in integrated subject matter Thematic teaching has been around for quite a while stemming from John Dewey and learning by doing Teachers need to return to it in view of the effects of narrowed curricula resulting from nationwide emphasis on testing and on rating schools based on student achievement This book provides ways for teachers to link subjects and areas of learning for various teaching situations and takes readers from simple correlation through using published thematic units now available and on to developing their own interdisciplinary themes or in team efforts with other colleagues
