Representing Royalty Julia Kinzler, 2018-07-27 Since the early days of cinema filmmakers have been intrigued by the lives and loves of British monarchs The most recent productions by ITV and Netflix show that the fascination with British royalty continues unabated both in Britain and around the world This book examines strategies of representing power and the staging of myths of power in seven popular films about British monarchs that were made after the mid 1990s revival of the royal biopic genre By combining approaches from cultural studies with concepts and theories from the humanities such as film studies and art history it offers a comprehensive understanding of the cinematic portraits of royalty In addition the volume opens up new perspectives on how meaning is generated in films about the monarchy and on the connections between the biographical narratives The introductory chapter to the case studies reviews the different academic positions on representations of royalty provides a toolkit for studying the subject and demonstrates ways to approach the films The book addresses questions of historical context and goes beyond a mere exploration of historical accuracy to reveal the films underlying ideological aims As such it makes a distinctive new contribution to the growing body of interdisciplinary work on the British monarchy in general and its cinematic representations in particular It is the first monograph about representational mechanisms of royal identities and British pasts in royal films such as Elizabeth The Queen and The King's Speech

Global Burnout Pascal Chabot, 2019-01-24 Available for the first time in English and freshly adapted as the acclaimed documentary Burning Out Pascal Chabot's polemic treatise Global Burnout takes the phenomenon we call burnout as not just an individual problem that affects a few exhausted people but rather a disease of civilization connected to concepts of progress technology and desire which are the hallmarks of this era of experimentation First analysing the archaeology of the concept Chabot distinguishes three main types of burnout the first specific to professions who help others appears to be the exhaustion of their humanism the second a trouble of adaptation and perfectionism and the third which is a consequence of the struggle for recognition The philosophical implications of each of these three states is identified allowing Chabot to buck the trend towards a negative nearly fatalistic outlook something not surprising considering the intrinsic gravity of the subject matter
