Predicting Sociocultural Change Southern Anthropological Society Proceedings No 13:

Southern Anthropological Society Proceedings Southern Anthropological Society, 1990 Anthropological Contributions to Conflict Resolution Alvin William Wolfe, Honggang Yang, 1996 Anthropological Contributions to Conflict Resolution consists of ten essays that make vividly apparent the variety of ways that anthropological approaches and perspectives can be of practical worth in the resolution of conflicts The essays represent various subdisciplines in anthropology including legal and political anthropology economic anthropology cross cultural studies interpretive approaches and social network approaches Conflicts and potential conflicts at many levels are the subjects of the essays One contributor uses an ethnographic account of Sikh separatists in Punjab India to explore fighting resulting from the intertwining of religion and politics Another essay discusses the role that anthropology played in conceptualizing the legal reforms on an island in the remote western Pacific in relation to the recent emergence of alternative dispute resolution Conflicts over the commons in an American suburb are examined as are harmony ideology and adversarial ideology as they are used for both freedom and control at a manufacturing plant The introductory essay includes a discussion of network models in regard to conflict resolution and the epilogue cites an agenda for applied research in the area Local Science Vs. Global Science Paul Sillitoe, 2009 Technological capability has led through Euro American global domination to the muting of other cultural views and values even threatening their continued existence There is a growing realization that the diversity of knowledge systems demand respect some refer to them in a conservation idiom as alternative knowledge banks The scientific perspective is only one We now have many examples of the soundness of local science and practices some previously considered primitive and in need of change However this book goes beyond demonstrating the soundness of local science and arguing for the incorporation of others knowledge in development to maintain that we need to look quizzically at the foundations of science itself and further challenge its hegemony not only over local communities in Africa Asia the Pacific and elsewhere but also the global community Publisher Anthropology and Food Policy Della E. Netwars John Arquilla,David Ronfeldt,2001-11-05 Netwar like cyberwar describes a new spectrum of conflict that is emerging in the wake of the information revolution Netwar includes conflicts waged on the one hand by terrorists criminals gangs and ethnic extremists and by civil society activists such as cyber activists or WTO protestors on the other What distinguishes netwar is the networked organizational structure of its practitioners with many groups actually being leaderless and their quickness in coming together in swarming attacks To confront this new type of conflict it is crucial for governments military and law enforcement to begin networking themselves A Bibliography of the Kalenjin Peoples of East Africa
