Historical Dictionary of Ancient South America

Martin Giesso, 2018-03-12 South America is a vast relatively isolated landmass that includes 12 independent countries and one region Guyane Française with diverse ethnic groups speaking hundreds of different languages and dialects and extraordinary creativity Indigenous people have occupied its different habitats while transforming the landscape and themselves with extraordinary dedication and success This dictionary opens a window to these peoples through many entries in an integrated approach that allows to connect the multiple facets of indigenous life before 1492 This second edition of Historical Dictionary of Ancient South America contains a chronology an introduction appendixes and an extensive bibliography The dictionary section has over 700 cross referenced entries on important personalities politics economy foreign relations religion and the culture of ancient South America This book is an excellent resource for students researchers and anyone wanting to know more about ancient South America

Early New World Monumentality Richard L. Burger, Robert M. Rosenswig, 2012-05-20

In studies of ancient civilizations the focus is often on the temples palaces and buildings created and then left behind both because they survive and because of the awe they still inspire today From the Mississippian mounds in the United States to the early pyramids of Peru these monuments have been well documented but less attention has been paid to analyzing the logistical complexity involved in their creation In this collection prominent archaeologists explore the sophisticated political and logistical organizations that were required to plan and complete these architectural marvels They discuss the long term political social and military impacts these projects had on their respective civilizations and illuminate the significance of monumentality among early complex societies in the Americas Early New World Monumentality is ultimately a study of labor and its mobilization as well as the long term spiritual awe and political organization that motivated and were enhanced by such undertakings Mounds and other impressive monuments left behind by earlier civilizations continue to reveal their secrets offering profound insights into the development of complex societies throughout the New World

Remote Sensing in Archaeology James R. Wiseman, Farouk El-Baz, 2007-04-03 Archaeology has been transformed by technology that allows one to see below the surface of the earth This work illustrates the uses of advanced technology in archaeological investigation It deals with hand held instruments that probe the subsurface of the earth to unveil layering and associated sites underwater exploration and photography of submerged sites and artifacts and the utilization of imaging from aircraft and spacecraft to reveal the regional setting of archaeological sites and to assist in cultural resource management

Ecosystem and Biodiversity of Amazonia Heimo Mikkola, 2021-03-10 The Amazonia is the largest continuous river basin and rainforest ecosystem in the world In all aspects it is a natural wonder and the rainforest with its billions of trees is a vital carbon store that slows down the advance of global warming It is home to one million indigenous people and some three million species of plants and animals There have been many climate fluctuations during the last 55 million years of its existence but never before have the lungs of the world been at greater risk than they are today due to uncontrolled fires expanding agriculture and heavy industrial development in the forms of oil drilling mining and large hydroelectric dams Over twelve chapters this book describes the anthropological biological and industrial problems facing the Amazonia and seeks to find new solutions

At Home on the Waves Tanya J. King, Gary Robinson, 2019-02-18 Contemporary public discourses about the ocean are routinely characterized by scientific and environmentalist narratives that imagine and idealize marine spaces in which humans are absent In contrast this collection explores the variety of ways in which people have long made themselves at home at sea and continue to live intimately with it In doing so it brings together both ethnographic and archaeological research much of it with an explicit Ingoldian approach on a wide range of geographical areas and historical periods

The Cultural Dynamics of Shell-Matrix Sites Mirjana Roksandic, Sheila Mendonça de Souza, Eggers Sabine, Meghan Burchell, 2014-05-15 The excavation of shell middens and mounds is an important source of information regarding past human diet settlement technology and paleoenvironments The contributors to this book introduce new ways to study shell matrix sites ranging from the geochemical analysis of shellfish to the interpretation of human remains buried within Drawing upon examples from around the world this is one of the only books to offer a global perspective on the archaeology of shell matrix sites A substantial contribution to the literature on the subject and essential reading for archaeologists and others who work on this type of site Barbara Voorhies University of California Santa Barbara author of Coastal Collectors in the Holocene The Chantuto People of Southwest Mexico

trabalhos de psicologia junguiana arqueologia e arte apresentados no XIX Moitar que v o proporcionar uma vis o da dimens o das bases e vertentes ancestrais ind genas existentes antes do descobrimento e uma revis o de um dos pontos principais do pensamento de Jung a Teoria dos Arqu tipos Global Archaeological Theory Pedro Paulo Funari,Andrés Zarankin,Emily Stovel,2006-04-07 Archaeological theory has gone through a great upheaval in the last 50 years from the processual theory which wanted to make archaeology more scientific to post processual theory which understands that interpreting human behavior even of past cultures is a subjective study This subjective approach incorporates a plurality of readings thereby implying that different interpretations are always possible allowing us to modify and change our ideas under the light of new information and or interpretive frameworks In this way interpretations form a continuous flow of transformation and change and thus archaeologists do not uncover a real past but rather construct a historical past or a narrative of the past Post processual theory also incorporates a conscious and explicit political interest on the past of the scholar and the subject This includes fields and topics such as gender issues ethnicity class landscapes and consumption This reflects a conscious attempt to also decentralize the discipline from an imperialist point of view to an empowering one Method and theory also means being politically aware and engaged to incorporate diverse critical approaches to improve understanding of the past and the present This book focuses on the fundamental theoretical issues found in the discipline and thus both engages and represents the very rich plurality of the post processual approach to archaeology The book is divided into four sections Issues in Archaeological Theory Archaeological Theory and Method in Action Space and Power in Material Culture and Images as Material Discourse The Global History of Paleopathology Jane E. Buikstra,Charlotte Roberts,2012-06-07 The first comprehensive global history of the discipline of paleopathology Foundations of Paleoparasitology Adauto Araújo,2014-01-01 Unprecedented initiative in the world the book compiles the available knowledge on the subject and presents the state of the art in paleoparasitology term coined about 30 years ago by Brazilian Fiocruz researcher Luiz Fernando Ferreira pioneer in this science which is concerned with the study of parasites in the past Multidisciplinary by essence paleoparasitology gathers contributions from social scientists biologists historians archaeologists pharmacists doctors and many other professionals either in biomedical or humanities fields With varied applications such as in evolutionary or migration studies their results often depend on the association between laboratory findings and cultural remains The book is divided into four parts Parasites Hosts and Human Environment Parasites Remains Preserved in Various Materials and Techniques in Microscopy and Molecular Diagnostics Parasite Findings in Archeological Remains a paleographic view and Special Studies and Perspectives Signed by authors from various countries such as Argentina USA Germany and France the book has chapters devoted to the discoveries of paleoparasitology on all continents Knowing the Day, Knowing the World Lesley Green,David R. Green,2013-12-05 Based on more than a decade of research in Palikur lands known as Arukwa in the state of Amap Brazil Knowing the Day Knowing the World reconsiders the dialogue between formal scholarship and Amerindian ways of knowing Beginning and ending with a public archaeology project in the region the book engages head on with Amerindian ways of thinking about space time and personhood Demonstrating that Palikur knowledges are based on movement and a careful theorization of what it means to be present in a place the book makes a sustained case for engaging with different ways of knowing It shows how this kind of research can generate rich dialogues about nature reality and the ethical production of knowledge The structure of the book reflects a gradual comprehension of Palikur ways of knowing during the course of field research The text enters into the ethnographic material from the perspective of familiar disciplines history geography astronomy geometry and philosophy and explores the junctures in which conventional disciplinary frameworks cannot adequately convey Palikur understandings Beginning with reflections on questions of personhood ethics and ethnicity the authors rethink assumptions about history and geography They learn and recount an alternative way of thinking about astronomy from the Palikur astronomical narratives and they show how topological concepts embedded in everyday Palikur speech extend to different ways of conceptualizing landscape In conclusion they reflect on the challenges of comprehending alternative cosmologies and consider the insights that come from allowing ethnographic material to pose questions of modernist frameworks Anais da Academia Brasileira de Ciências ,2008

Rethinking Agriculture Timothy P Denham,José Iriarte,Luc Vrydaghs,2016-07-01 Although the need to study agriculture in different parts of the world on its own terms has long been recognized and re affirmed a tendency persists to evaluate agriculture across the globe using concepts lines of evidence and methods derived from Eurasian research However researchers working in different regions are becoming increasingly aware of fundamental differences in the nature of and methods employed to study agriculture and plant exploitation practices in the past Contributions to this volume rethink agriculture whether in terms of existing regional chronologies in terms of techniques employed or in terms of the concepts that frame our interpretations This volume highlights new archaeological and ethnoarchaeological research on early agriculture in understudied non Eurasian regions including Island Southeast Asia and the Pacific the Americas and Africa to present a more balanced view of the origins and development of agricultural practices around the globe The World System and the Earth System Alf Hornborg,Carole L Crumley,2016-09-17 In this benchmark volume top scholars come together to present state of the art research and pursue a more rigorous framework for understanding and studying the linkages between social and ecological systems Contributors from a wide spectrum of disciplines including archaeology anthropology geography ecology palaeo science geology sociology and history present and assess both the evolution of our thinking and current state of the art theory and research Covering ancient through modern periods they discuss the complex ways in which human culture economy and demographics interact with ecology and climate change The World System and the Earth System is critical reading for all scholars and students working at the interface of nature and society Contributors Thomas Abel Bj rn Berglund Chris Chase Dunn Alfred Crosby Carole L Crumley John Dearing Bert de Vries Nina
