Prehistoric Music Of Ireland:

Prehistoric Music of Ireland Simon O'Dwyer, 2004 The basis of this book is the beautiful prehistoric musical instrument collection of Ireland which is introduced with detailed descriptions and photographs The full story of Irish music from 8000 BC to AD 600 is discussed starting from the origins and the oldest surviving instruments A vivid picture of the way in which music enriched Irish culture is built up from references in Gaelic mythology and evidence from Western Europe and Scandinavia

The Ancient Music of Ireland Edward Bunting, 2000-01-01 This invaluable collection of Irish song is enriched by a 100 page preface and followed by 151 Irish airs arranged for piano with songs Irish names authors and dates of composition

Women and Music in Ireland Laura Watson, Ita Beausang, Jennifer O'Connor-Madsen, 2022 Explores the world of women's professional and amateur musical activity as it developed on and beyond the island of Ireland In a story which spans several centuries the book highlights representative composers and performers in classical music Irish traditional music and contemporary art music whose contributions have been marginalised in music narratives As well as investigating the careers of public figures this edited collection brings attention to women who engaged with and taught music in a variety of domestic settings It also shines a spotlight on women who worked behind the scenes to build infrastructures such as festivals and educational institutions which remain at the heart of the country's musical life today The book addresses and reconsiders ideas about the intersections of music gender and Irish society including how the national emblem of the harp became recast as a symbol of Irish womanhood in the twentieth century The book is divided into four parts Part 1 surveys women musicians in Irish society of the eighteenth and nineteenth centuries Part 2 discusses women and practice in Irish traditional music Part 3 studies gaps and gender politics in the history of twentieth century women composers and performers Part 4 situates discourses of women gender and music in the twenty first century The book's contributors encompass musicologists cultural historians composers and performers

The Ancient Music of Ireland Arranged for Piano Edward Bunting, 2011-04-20 Edward Bunting 1773 1843 the first systematic collector of Irish folksongs was educated as an organ and piano player in Belfast His life's work fell upon him at nineteen years old when he was commissioned as a scribe to notate performances at a gathering of traditional harp players in Belfast in July 1792 He was so inspired by the music that aided by some of the harpers he embarked immediately upon travels around northwest Ireland to collect some of the old songs already close to disappearing He published his first collection of Irish music four years later In that volume and two later ones he published almost 300 airs some of them according to tradition dating as far back as the tenth century and practically single handedly rescued his country's ancient music from oblivion The present collection the last of Bunting's three such gatherings contains 151 Irish airs arranged for piano with the Irish names of the airs their authors and where known their dates of composition Hard to find elsewhere this is an indispensable book not only for students or lovers of Irish music but also for students of general music history
