The Archaeology of V. Gordon Childe Vere Gordon Childe, 1994-07 Although V. Gordon Childe died 36 years ago he remains the world's most renowned prehistorian. His What Happened in History first published in 1942 is probably the most widely read book ever written by an archaeologist. His influence and reputation endure despite the fact that many of the theoretical ideas he propounded as well as his interpretations of European and West Asian prehistory have been profoundly modified or even rejected since his death. With contributions from such distinguished prehistorians as Kent V. Flannery, David Harris, Leo S. Klejn, John Mulvaney, Colin Renfrew, Michael Rowlands, and Bruce Trigger, The Archaeology of V. Gordon Childe is an attempt to evaluate Childe's achievement from different, partly national perspectives and to assess how far and why his work remains significant today. The contributors examine such persistent themes in Childe's thought as the nature of culture and the role of diffusion in cultural evolution and debate the question of whether Childe anticipated processual archaeology in his famous models of the Neolithic and Urban Revolutions. Also included are evaluations of Childe's early career in Australia, his relations with Soviet archaeology (including a previously unknown letter from Childe to Soviet archaeologists), and his impact on American archaeology.

Computer Vision - ACCV 2014 Workshops C.V. Jawahar, Shiguang Shan, 2015-04-10 The three-volume set consisting of LNCS 9008, 9009, and 9010 contains carefully reviewed and selected papers presented at 15 workshops held in conjunction with the 12th Asian Conference on Computer Vision ACCV 2014 in Singapore in November 2014. The 153 full papers presented were selected from numerous submissions. LNCS 9008 contains the papers selected for the Workshop on Human Gait and Action Analysis in the Wild, the Second International Workshop on Big Data in 3D Computer Vision, the Workshop on Deep Learning on Visual Data, the Workshop on Scene Understanding for Autonomous Systems, and the Workshop on Robust Local Descriptors for Computer Vision. LNCS 9009 contains the papers selected for the Workshop on Emerging Topics on Image Restoration and Enhancement, the First International Workshop on Robust Reading, the Second Workshop on User-Centred Computer Vision, the International Workshop on Video Segmentation in Computer Vision the Workshop My Car Has Eyes Intelligent Vehicle with Vision Technology the Third Workshop on E Heritage and the Workshop on Computer Vision for Affective Computing LNCS 9010 contains the papers selected for the Workshop on Feature and Similarity for Computer Vision the Third International Workshop on Intelligent Mobile and Egocentric Vision and the Workshop on Human Identification for Surveillance Fire and Hearth Sylvia J. Hallam,2014 Originally published by the Australian Institute of Aboriginal Studies this facsimile edition of Professor Sylvia J Hallam s classic 1975 work Fire and Hearth includes a substantial Afterword by the author and a Preface by Emeritus Professor John Mulvaney The book has been produced in light of the considerable new interest in the subject of Aboriginal land management before European settlement in Australia The land the English settled was not as God made it It was as the Aborigines made it Such is the challenging claim which opens Sylvia Hallam s majestic pioneer memoir on the interconnections between Aboriginal society Country and the varied applications of deliberate firing from the Preface by Professor John Mulvaney Subject History Anthropology Ethnography Australian Studies Aboriginal Studies Land Conservation On the Periphery of the Periphery Samuel Sweitz,2011-11-17 This book examines from an archaeological perspective the social and economic changes that took place in Yucatán Mexico beginning in the 18th century as the region became increasingly articulated within global networks of exchange Of particular interest is the formation and ultimate supremacy of the hacienda system in Yucatán and the effect that new forms of capitalist organized production had on native Maya social organization Household archaeology and spatial analysis conducted on the grounds of the former Hacienda San Juan Bautista Tabi provides the data for analyzing the results of this change on the daily lives and existence of those individuals incorporated within the hacienda system The use of archaeological excavation to place the lives of local individuals within the context of larger global processes makes this book a worthy contribution to the study of archaeology The Final Report of the National Reservoir Inundation Study: Technical reports ,1981 Ancient Maya State, Urbanism, Exchange, and Craft Specialization Kazuo Aoyama,1999 An exhaustive analysis of political and economic change right through the sequence of Maya civilization based on the direct evidence of chipped stone assemblages from a wide variety of contexts in two regions The acquisition of raw materials the production of tools and the use of tools are all fully considered for what they can tell us about long distance political and economic relations and local economic organization An unexpected bonus of the study was information on the use of chipped stone in warfare The full dataset is provided electronically Complete text in English and Spanish

Perspectives on Ancient Maya Rural Complexity Samuel V. Connell,Gyles Iannone,2003-12-01 Settlement archaeology in the Maya area has focused much of its attention on the polar extremes of the settlement continuum As a result of this urban rural bias a whole range of complex rural settlements remain under explored The chapters in this volume highlight the variable quality of these middle level settlements Formative Mesoamerican Exchange Networks with Special Reference to the Valley of Oaxaca Jane W. Pires-Ferreira,1975-01-01 For this volume archaeologist Jane W Pires

Ferreira analyzed artifacts from the Valley of Oaxaca in order to understand more about prehistoric trade patterns in the region Using her analyses she was able to describe obsidian exchange networks iron ore mirror exchange networks and shell exchange networks in Early and Middle Formative Mesoamerica Integrating Zooarchaeology and Paleoethnobotany Amber VanDerwarker,Tanya M. Peres,2010-01-22 In recent years scholars have emphasized the need for more holistic subsistence analyses and collaborative publications towards this endeavor have become more numerous in the literature However there are relatively few attempts to qualitatively integrate zooarchaeological animal and paleoethnobotanical plant data and even fewer attempts to quantitatively integrate these two types of subsistence evidence Given the vastly different methods used in recovering and quantifying these data not to mention their different preservational histories it is no wonder that so few have undertaken this problem Integrating Zooarchaeology and Paleoethnobotany takes the lead in tackling this important issue by addressing the methodological limitations of data integration proposing new methods and innovative ways of using established methods and highlighting case studies that successfully employ these methods to shed new light on ancient foodways The volume challenges the perception that plant and animal foodways are distinct and contends that the separation of the analysis of archaeological plant and animal remains sets up a false dichotomy between these portions of the diet In advocating qualitative and quantitative data integration the volume establishes a clear set of methods for 1 determining the suitability of data integration in any particular case and 2 carrying out an integrated qualitative or quantitative approach Going West? Agathe Reingruber,Zoï Tsirtsoni,Petranka Nedelcheva,2017-04-21 Going West questions how the Neolithic way of life was diffused from the Near East to Europe via Anatolia The contributors have focused their studies on the vast area of the Eastern Balkans and the Pontic region between the Bosphorus and the rivers Strymon Danube and Dniestr offering an overview of the current state of research regarding the Neolithisation of these areas and also providing useful starting points for future investigations Using previous studies as a basis for fresh research this volume presents exciting new interpretations by analyzing recently discovered materials and applying modern methods of interdisciplinary investigations Food in Ancient Judah Cynthia Shafer-Elliott,2014-09-11 First published in 2013 The study of food in the Hebrew Bible and Syro Palestinian archaeology has tended to focus on kosher dietary laws the sacrificial system and feasting in elite contexts More everyday ritual and practice the preparation of food in the home has been overlooked Food in Ancient Judah explores both the archaeological remains and ancient Near Eastern sources to see what they reveal about the domestic gastronomical daily life of ancient Judahites within the narratives of the Hebrew Bible Beyond the findings the methodology of the study is in itself innovative Biblical passages that deal with domestic food preparation are translated and analysed Archaeological findings and relevant secondary resources are then applied to inform these passages Food in Ancient Judah reflects both the shift towards the study of everyday life in biblical studies and archaeology and the huge expansion of interest in food history it will be of interest to scholars in all these fields Excavations at Santo

Domingo Tomaltepec Michael E. Whalon, 1981-01-01 In 1974 Michael E Whalen excavated the Formative site of Tomaltepec a village with houses public buildings and a large cemetery Here he reports on the results of the excavation and provides a regional perspective on Formative period development in the Valley of Oaxaca Archeology and Volcanism in Central America Payson D. Sheets, 2014-07-03 Scientists have long speculated on the impact of extreme natural catastrophes on human societies Archeology and Volcanism in Central America provides dramatic evidence of the effects of several volcanic disasters on a major civilization of the Western Hemisphere that of the Maya During the past 2 000 years four volcanic eruptions have taken place in the Zapotit n Valley of southern El Salvador One the devastating eruption of Ilopango around A D 300 forced a major migration pushing the Mayan people north to the Yucat n Peninsula Although later eruptions did not have long range implications for cultural change one of the subsequent eruptions preserved the Cer n site a Mesoamerican Pompeii where the bodies of the villagers the palm thatched roofs of their houses the pots of food in their pantries even the corn plants in their fields were preserved with remarkable fidelity Throughout 1978 a multidisciplinary team of anthropologists archeologists geologists biologists and others sponsored by the University of Colorado s Protoclassic Project researched and excavated the results of volcanism in the Zapotitan Valley a key Mesoamerican site that contemporary political strife has since rendered inaccessible The result is an outstanding contribution to our understanding of the impact of volcanic eruptions on early Mayan civilization These investigations clearly demonstrate that the Maya inhabited this volcanically hazardous valley in order to reap the short term benefits that the volcanic ash produced fertile soil fine clays and obsidian deposits Quirigua Reports , 1979 Following the Mississippian Spread Robert A. Cook, Aaron R. Comstock, 2022-06-29 This book is the first to specifically trace the movement of Mississippian maize farmers throughout the US Midwest and Southeast By providing a backdrop of shifting climatic conditions during the period this volume also investigates the relationship between farmers and their environments Detailed regional overviews of key locations in the Mississippi Valley the Ohio Valley and the peripheries of the Mississippian culture area reveal patterns and variation in the expression of Mississippian culture and interactions between migrants and local communities Methodologically the case studies highlight the strengths of integrating a variety of data sets to identify migration The volume provides a broader case study of the links between climate change migration and the spread of agriculture that is relevant to archaeologists and anthropologists studying early agricultural societies throughout the world Key patterns of adaptation to and mitigation of the effects of droughts for example provide a framework for understanding the options available to societies in the face of climate change afforded by the time depth of an archaeological perspective Excavations at San José Mogote 2 Kent V. Flannery, Joyce Marcus, 2015-01-01 San Jos Mogote is a 60 70 ha Formative site in the northern Valley of Oaxaca Mexico which was occupied for a thousand years before the city of Monte Alb n was founded Filling 432 pages and utilizing more than 400 photographs and line drawings this book describes in detail more than 35 public buildings including men s houses
