Catalog of the Melville J. Herskovits Library of African Studies, Northwestern University Library (Evanston, Illinois) and Africana in Selected Libraries Melville J. Herskovits Library of African Studies, 1972 Prehistoric Man in the Ciskei & Transkei Robin M. Derricourt, 1977 Whose History Counts June Bam, Lungisile Ntsebeza, Allan Zinn, 2018-11-29 Originally planned as a fact based book on the pre colonial history of the Eastern Cape in the true tradition of history this ground breaking book focuses on epistemological and foundational questions about the writing of history and whose history counts Whose History Counts challenges the very concept of pre colonial and explores methodologies on researching and writing history The reason for this dramatic change of focus is attributed in the introduction of the book to the student led rebellion that erupted following the Rhodes Must Fall campaign which started at the University of Cape Town on 9 March 2015 Key to the rebellion was the students opposition to what they dubbed colonial education and a clamour for among others a decolonised curriculum This book is a direct response to this clarion call The Spectator , 1925 The Cambridge History of Africa J. D. Fage, Roland Oliver, 1975 Historical Dictionary of South Africa Christopher Saunders, Peter Limb, 2020-12-15 As the most influential and powerful country on the entire continent of Africa an understanding of South Africa's past and its present trends is crucial in appreciating where South Africans are going to and from where they have come South Africa changed dramatically in 1994 when apartheid was dismantled and it became a democratic state Since 2000 when the previous edition appeared further big changes occurred with the rise of new political leaders and of a new black middle class There were also serious problems in governance in public health and the economy but with a remarkable popular resilience too This third edition of Historical Dictionary of South Africa contains a chronology an introduction and an extensive bibliography The dictionary section has more than 600 cross referenced entries on important personalities as well as aspects of the country's politics economy foreign relations religion and culture This book is an excellent resource for students researchers and anyone wanting to know more about South Africa Representations of Gender From Prehistory To the Present NA NA, 2016-04-30 Focusing primarily on visual forms of representation but also including material on literary representation this volume brings together studies as apparently disparate as the iconography of power in Mediterranean prehistory and clothing and cultural meaning in the First and Second World Wars

What draws these chapters together is the common focus on how the scholar of the twenty first century can pursue the interpretation of past representational cultural production from a gendered perspective The fruit of research by academics from the fields of archaeology classics and ancient history art history and social history and from both sides of the Atlantic this volume is a fascinating introduction to a developing field

A History of Southern Africa Alois S. Mlambo, Neil Parsons, 2018-09-08 From early human civilisation to today this book illuminates the history of southern Africa Interweaving social cultural and political history archaeology anthropology and environmentalism Neil Parsons and Alois Mlambo provide an engaging account of the region s varied past Placing African voices and agency at centre stage rather than approaching the subject through a colonial lens A History of Southern Africa provides an engrossing narrative of the region This textbook is ideal for both undergraduate and postgraduate students of History and African Studies and will provide an essential grounding for those taking courses in the history of southern Africa Its lively and accessible approach will appeal to anyone with an interest in global history

The Archaeology of Southern Africa Peter Mitchell, 2024-06-06 Some of humanity s earliest ancestors lived in southern Africa and evidence from sites there has inspired key debates on human origins and the emergence of complex cognition Building on its rich rock art heritage archaeologists have developed theoretical work that continues to influence rock art studies worldwide with the relationship between archaeological and anthropological data central to understanding past hunter gatherer pastoralist and farmer communities alike New work on pre colonial states contests models that previously explained their emergence via external trade while the transformations wrought by European colonialism are being rewritten to emphasise Indigenous agency feeding into efforts to decolonise the discipline itself Inhabited by humans longer than almost anywhere else and with an unusually varied complex past southern Africa thus has much to contribute to archaeology worldwide In this revised and updated edition Peter Mitchell provides a comprehensive and extensively illustrated synthesis of its archaeology over more than three million years

Humans at the End of the Ice Age Lawrence Guy Straus, Berit Valentin Eriksen, Jon M. Erlandson, David R. Yesner, 2012-12-06 Humans at the End of the Ice Age chronicles and explores the significance of the variety of cultural responses to the global environmental changes at the last glacial interglacial boundary Contributions address the nature and consequences of the global climate changes accompanying the end of the Pleistocene epoch detailing the nature speed and magnitude of the human adaptations that culminated in the development of food production in many parts of the world The text is aided by vital maps chronological tables and charts

Human origin sites and the World Heritage Convention in Africa - N° 33 Nuria Sanz, 2012 Uses examples of artistic work in all media in order to show how contemporary artists have adapted their vision in a manipulation of modern materials to satisfy mankind s needs for spiritual satisfaction through art

A Future in Flames Danielle Clode, 2010 This well informed and deeply personal account analyzes bushfires from various angles and examines the possibility of limiting their disastrous effects With fires being a constant and ongoing part of Australian history ecology and culture this study shows that despite repeated disasters throughout the last two centuries surviving bushfires today has become no easier than during the first European settlements With rigorous factual research this record outlines Australia's significant fires and discusses the aftermath of each Topics also include climate change arson fire behavior firefighting strategies and the psychology of survival The Rock Art of Africa A.R. Willcox, 2018-01-29 It has long been known that all forms of art rock paintings carvings and scribings and also portable sculpture are present at various locations throughout Africa This book was the first inclusive survey and brings together in one volume accounts of African rock art which were previously scattered in scholarly monographs journals and travellers tales The range of the coverage is geophysically comprehensive from the Atlas Mountains to the Cape of Good Hope The art styles are set into a firm chronological framework and are displayed against a background of human physical and cultural evolution Considerable discussion is also devoted to the varied purposes which the paintings and carvings served in the communities which produced them looking at the differing interpretations fully and fairly A fascinating collection of illustrations some in colour truly reflects the variety of forms in which African rock art is manifested Originally published 1984 Seeing and Knowing Geoffrey Blundell, Christopher Chippindale, Benjamin Smith, 2016-06-16 Using the pioneering research of David Lewis Williams as a foundation contributors from around the world examine how the availability of ethnographic analogies or lack thereof affect the interpretation of rock art Projectile Technology Heidi Knecht, 2013-06-29 Artifacts linked to projectile technologies traditionally have provided the foundations for time space systematics and cultural historic frameworks in archaeological research having to do with foragers With the shift in archaeological research objectives to processual interpretations projectile technologies continue to receive marked attention but with an emphasis on the implications of variability in such areas as design function and material as they relate to the broader questions of human adaptation The reason that this particular domain of foraging technology persists as an important focus of research I think comes in three parts A projectile technology was a crucial part of most foragers strategies for survival it was functionally specific and it generally was fabricated from durable materials likely to be detected archaeologically Being fundamental to meat acquisition and the principal source of calories projectile technologies were typically afforded greater time investment formal modification and elaboration of attributes than others Moreover such technologies tend to display greater standardization because of constraints on size morphology and weight that are inherent to the delivery system The elaboration of attributes and standardization of form gives projectile technologies time and space sensitivity that is greater than most other foraging technologies And such sensitivity is immensely valuable in archaeological research
