Prehistory Of The Mediterranean:

The Prehistory of the Mediterranean David H. Trump, 1980 The Archaeology of Mediterranean Prehistory Emma Blake, A. Bernard Knapp, 2008-04-15 This book offers a comprehensive introduction to the archaeology of Mediterranean prehistory and an essential reference to the most recent research and fieldwork Only book available to offer general coverage of Mediterranean prehistory Written by 14 of the leading archaeologists in the field Spans the Neolithic through the Iron Age and draws from all the major regions of the Mediterranean s coast and islands Presents the central debates in Mediterranean prehistory trade and interaction rural economies ritual social structure gender monumentality insularity archaeometallurgy and the metals trade stone technologies settlement and maritime traffic as well as contemporary legacies of the region s prehistoric past Structure of text is pedagogically driven Engages diverse theoretical approaches so students will see the benefits of multivocality Islands in Time Mark Patton, 2013-01-11 Islands in Time explores the ecological and cultural development of prehistoric island societies It considers the prehistory of the Mediterranean and offers an explanation of the effects of isolation on the development of human communities Evidence is drawn from a broad range of Mediterranean islands including Cyprus Crete and the Cyclades Malta Lipari Corsica and Sardinia Human Mobility and Technological Transfer in the Prehistoric Mediterranean Evangelia Kiriati, Carl Knappett, 2016-12-24 The diverse forms of regional connectivity in the ancient world have recently become an important focus for those interested in the deep history of globalisation This volume represents a significant contribution to this new trend as it engages thematically with a wide range of connectivities in the later prehistory of the Mediterranean from the later Neolithic of northern Greece to the Levantine Iron Age and with diverse forms of materiality from pottery and metal to stone and glass With theoretical overviews from leading thinkers in prehistoric mobilities and commentaries from top specialists in neighbouring domains the volume integrates detailed case studies within a comparative framework The result is a thorough treatment of many of the key issues of regional interaction and technological diversity facing archaeologists working across diverse places and periods As this book presents key case studies for human and technological mobility across the eastern Mediterranean in later prehistory it will be of interest primarily to Mediterranean archaeologists though also to historians and anthropologists

Mediterranean Prehistoric Heritage Ian Hodder, Louise Doughty, McDonald Institute for Archaeological Research, 2007 Drawing on the experience of the Temper project Training Education Management and Prehistory in the Mediterranean and wider examples from the Mediterranean this volume explores the issues inherent in managing interpreting and presenting prehistoric archaeological sites The first section of the book contains thematic chapters on conservation visitor management and interpretation public participation and issues of managing sites within their cultural landscape the second section focuses on archaeology and education and the politics of national curricula and presents detailed case studies Written by academics and those working in the fields of archaeology architecture heritage management and education this volume will be invaluable to students and practitioners alike

The Making of the Middle Sea Cyprian Broodbank, 2024-10-17 The Mediterranean has been for millennia one of the global cockpits of human endeavour World class interpretations exist of its Classical and subsequent history but there has been remarkably little holistic exploration of how its societies culture and economies first came into being despite the fact that almost all the fundamental developments originated well before 500 BC Mediterranean archaeology is one of the worlds richest sources for the reconstruction of ancient societies yet this book is the first to draw in equal measure on ideas and information from the European western Asian and African flanks as well as the islands at the Mediterraneans heart to achieve a truly innovative focus on the varied trajectories and interactions that created this maritime world The Making of the Middle Sea is extensively illustrated and ranges across disciplines subject matter and chronology from early humans and the origins of farming and metallurgy to the rise of civilizations Egyptian Levantine Minoan Mycenaean Phoenician Etruscan early Greek and ultimately pan Mediterranean

On the Ocean Barry W. Cunliffe, 2017 The story of the contest between humans and the sea played out in the Mediterranean and the Atlantic from early prehistory until AD 1500

Space and Time in Mediterranean Prehistory Stella Souvatzi, Athena Hadji, 2013-10-15 Space and Time in Mediterranean Prehistory addresses these two concepts as interrelated rather than as separate categories and as a means for understanding past social relations at different scales The need for this volume was realised through four main observations the ever growing interest in space and spatiality across the social sciences the comparative theoretical and methodological neglect of time and temporality the lack in the existing literature of an explicit and balanced focus on both space and time and the large amount of new information coming from prehistoric Mediterranean It focuses on the active and interactive role of space and time in the production of any social environment drawing equally on contemporary theory and on case studies from Mediterranean prehistory Space and Time in Mediterranean Prehistory seeks to break down the space time continuum often assumed rather than inferred into space time units and to uncover the varying and variable interrelations of space and time in prehistoric societies across the Mediterranean The volume is a response to the dissatisfaction with traditional views of space and time in prehistory and revisits these concepts to develop a timely integrative conceptual and analytical framework for the study of space and time in archaeology
