The Chinese Communist Treatment of Counterrevolutionaries, 1924-1949 Patricia E. Griffin, 2015-03-08 During the period 1924 1949 amid civil war with the KMT war with the Japanese internal leadership disputes and other chaotic conditions rapid shifts occurred in the political culture of China Patricia Griffin contends that an understanding of how the Chinese Communists created a legal system at this time is essential to a grasp of more recent events Focusing on the Communists definition and treatment of counterrevolutionaries she describes and assesses the contribution of environment ideology and leadership in the development of legal techniques used by the Communists in their rise to power In this book translations of the major statutes concerning counterrevolutionaries during the period together with an account of the growth of counterrevolutionary law and the legal structure explain how the counterrevolutionaries were dealt with and how their treatment changed in response to external and internal stimuli The author analyzes the roles of ideology and experience as determinants of law toward counterrevolutionaries and in a final chapter discusses the implications of the early experience for future legal developments in China Her topic is of vital importance because of the politically sensitive nature of the subject matter and because of the time period examined Originally published in 1976 The Princeton Legacy Library uses the latest print on demand technology to again make available previously out of print books from the distinguished backlist of Princeton University Press These editions preserve the original texts of these important books while presenting them in durable paperback and hardcover editions The goal of the Princeton Legacy Library is to vastly increase access to the rich scholarly heritage found in the thousands of books published by Princeton University Press since its founding in 1905
