The Rhetoric and Medicalization of Pregnancy and Childbirth in Horror Films Courtney

Patrick-Weber,2020-06-15 In The Rhetoric and Medicalization of Pregnancy and Childbirth in Horror Films Courtney Patrick Weber argues that the medicalization of pregnancy and childbirth traumatizes pregnant people in a number of ways even as many people believe the shift toward medicalization has improved conditions for pregnant people Patrick Weber analyzes a selection of horror films including The Void and Black Christmas to demonstrate not only evidence of this trauma on a visceral level but also how horror films can reflect and contribute to cultural conversations surrounding pregnancy and childbirth While horror films are often neglected as vital sources of intellect and analysis many of these films use their subversive viewpoints on cultural issues to offer a unique perspective that can ultimately help to shape the way society views them Patrick Weber reminds us that pregnancy and childbirth can be traumatic events both physically and emotionally as she discusses the current conversations surrounding the issue and critiques the advancement of medicalization Scholars of film studies gender studies rhetoric and medicine may find this book particularly useful Multiple Pregnancy Isaac

Alfreðsson,Katarina Tomaševski,1998 This publication is the second volume of Thematic Human Rights Guides published under the auspices of the Raoul Wallenberg Institute of Human Rights and Humanitarian Law The aim of the Guides as the title implies is to facilitate the use of international human rights standards by their systematic presentation Rather than reproducing full texts of various instruments substantive standards are grouped according to subject matter in order to enable users to quickly and easily locate the topic they may be looking for A detailed index with references to the many international instruments which address the same issue reinforces this thematic approach The choice of human rights and health for the second volume in this series highlights the aim of the Guides to map out the entire range of human rights and fundamental freedoms as they relate to a specific topic The sheer size of this volume illustrates the number and variety of human rights standards relevant for health Many of these standards have been generated by organizations dealing with health rather than human rights and quite a few are found under medical ethics rather than human rights Subsuming medical ethics under international human rights law is a novel development pioneered by the Council of Europe Elsewhere the two fields remain separate and the publication of this Guide is intended to overcome this separation Documents have been included which provide an understanding of human rights within the health profession such as guidance to medical doctors with regard to abortion adopted by the International Medical Association and those human rights safeguards that have been elaborated to prevent abuses by health professionals such as those concerning mental health. All of these standards provide a substantive background for inter professional dialogue on the evolving understanding of human rights. A Thematic Guide to Documents on Health and Human Rights reflects the full range of issues encompassed by human rights and health. Besides the right to health a wide range of rights and freedoms can be and is affected by the health sector. Priority has been accorded to the crucial human rights safeguards namely those specifying protection against undue limitations or restrictions upon human rights. Much as with any other human rights topic those safeguards are best developed for categories that are most vulnerable to denials and violations of their rights. Detainees prisoners victims of armed conflicts children and the mentally ill thus figure prominently.

COVID-19 and Women's Health, 2nd edition Stephen Kennedy, Laura A. Magee, Stacey A. Missmer, Jayashri Kulkarni, Vassiliki Benetou, Marianne Vidler, Chelsea Morroni, 2023-02-07 As a result of the Coronavirus disease COVID 19 pandemic the world is facing one of the greatest challenges we have experienced in over a century The economic consequences for society at large are potentially catastrophic The health and social care sectors have reacted by providing emergency care on an unprecedented scale while the scientific community has focused on developing new treatments and a vaccine to prevent future waves of the pandemic Evidence is emerging to suggest that certain conditions such as obesity and hypertension predispose some individuals to a worse outcome if they become infected and that women may be less likely to die from COVID 19 than men It is also currently believed that pregnant women are at no greater risk than the general population There is an urgent need to determine whether these early observations are correct Furthermore we need to be sure that pregnancy outcomes are not affected by COVID 19 and that SARS CoV 2 is not transmitted to the fetus during pregnancy or labour nor to the infant through breast milk There are so many questions that need to be answered to optimise care avoid harm reduce anxiety amongst women and their families and inform health professionals and policymakers We also need to understand the unintended consequences of the global lockdown on women s health in general For example have rates of domestic violence risen to what extent has women s mental health been affected and have women successfully adapted or devised new coping mechanisms have women been denied access to gynaecological treatments during the lockdown including safe abortion and if so with what impact on their health and wellbeing has the female work force suffered disproportionately in economic terms have national and international recommendations and policies been sufficiently gender neutral have breastfeeding rates been adversely affected will COVID 19 make attainment of the UN SDGs more difficult etc In keeping with the Scope Mission of Frontiers in Global Women s Health this Research Topic aims to provide a multi disciplinary platform to answer important COVID 19 related questions that specifically impact upon women s health and wellbeing particular in resource poor settings The Topic Editors welcome a broad range of contributions including Original Research Reviews Commentaries Study Protocols and Systematic Reviews We would like to acknowledge Dr Nathalie MacDermott and Dr Rhiannon George Carey who have acted as coordinators and have contributed to the preparation of the proposal for this Research Topic Given the exceptional nature of the COVID 19 situation Frontiers is waiving all article publishing charges for COVID 19 related research in this Research Topic Please note that manuscripts must be submitted by the deadline of December 31st
