Copyright Office,1968 Education Reform and the Quest for Excellence Lok Sang Ho,Paul Morris,Yue-ping Chung,2005-11-01 This book investigates and analyses critical issues in education reform and discusses possible pitfalls in the current global drive to promote excellence Instead of documenting the successes and frustrations encountered by education reformers in specific jurisdictions this book aims to offer directions for education reformers and sets out to be prescriptive rather than descriptive While the cases covered here are focused on Hong Kong they are no less useful in throwing light upon the direction of education reform all over the world The first section of the volume Conceptual Framework provides the theoretical underpinnings for the design and implementation of education reform The next two sections Reform of Tertiary Education and Experiments Dilemmas and Risks in Secondary Schools look at reform at the tertiary and secondary levels in greater detail The final section Ideals vs Reality the Interplay of Diverse Interests and Diverse Perceptions looks at the conflicting goals and perceptions of different stakeholders with a concluding chapter that summarizes the main lessons to be learnt This book will be of interest to scholars educators parents policymakers politicians and all who are concerned about our younger generation and their future The editors Lok Sang Ho Paul Morris and Yue ping Chung are to be congratulated on producing a volume which is both hard hitting and insightful about education reforms in Hong Kong The range of experiences of the contributing authors contribute to a most interesting mix of perspectives about education reform The focus is squarely on Hong Kong in terms of general policy and reform issues followed by more specific chapters dealing with issues of graduate teachers English as a medium of instruction and the role of the media However the issues raised are very applicable to many countries This book is a valuable contribution to the literature on education reform Professor Colin J Marsh Curtin University Perth Western Australia

Race Neutrality Samuel L. Myers,Inhyuck Ha,2018-10-15 There are wide racial disparities in virtually every sphere of economic life African American workers earn less than whites They are more likely to be denied loans than whites Minority owned businesses are less likely to win lucrative bids on state and federal contracts than are white male owned businesses Black children are more likely than whites to be reported to child protective services for neglect or abuse There are even huge disparities in downing rates between blacks and whites What to do about these disparities There is a fundamental disagreement about the appropriate remedies to these varied indicators of racial inequality Part of the disagreement stems from differences in public perceptions about the underlying causes of the inequality But another form of disagreement relates to the opposition to the remedy of choice during much of the 1970s and 1980s Affirmative Action Race conscious remedies like affirmative action policies in hiring college admissions and business contracting suffer from legal and constitutional challenges compounded by hostility from the majority of Americans The alternative race neutral remedies attempt to address racial disparities without directly targeting benefits exclusively to racial minority group members In doing so race neutral remedies putatively help minorities without hurting majority group members The authors of Race Neutrality Rationalizing Remedies to Racial Inequality make the case that policy analysts should shift from a focus on whether a remedy is race conscious or not to a focus on the underlying problem that the alternative remedies is attempting to resolve This type of rethinking of the problem of racial inequality will reveal that sometimes race neutral remedies hold great promise in reducing disparities Often however race neutral remedies fail to do what they are intended to do The authors challenge the reader to think about why race neutral remedies while desirable on their face might fail to resolve protracted and persistent patterns of racial inequality in market and non market contexts Global Entrepreneurship, Institutions and Incentives Zoltán J. Ács, 2015-12-18 This book presents some of Zoltán J. Ács's most important contributions since the turn of the new millennium with a particular intellectual focus on knowledge spillover entrepreneurship It studies the evolution of global entrepreneurship and pays attention to the role of institutions and the incentives they create for economic agents who become either productive or unproductive entrepreneurs For productive entrepreneurs those that create wealth for themselves and for society the author offers a knowledge spillover theory of entrepreneurship as a new way to help understand the entrepreneurial ecosystem For those that create wealth only for themselves the author develops a theory of destructive entrepreneurship that undermines the entrepreneurial ecosystem The book also presents an explanation of the role of philanthropy in reconstituting wealth to complete the circuits of capital in the theory of capitalist development Finally the author examines several public policy issues including immigration and technology transfer This volume will be required reading for students and scholars of entrepreneurship economics and public policy 1967 Annual Supplement John B.
