50 YEARS OF CHANGING LIVES IN A CHANGING WORLD

NOVEMBER 2005

VOLUME 5

Love in the Face of Tragedy

Sometimes life doesn't go according to plan, but God is in control and will see us through. That's the way Anthony and Yolanda Love look at life now. They're grateful for what they have—a beautiful family and a roof over their heads. That's saying a lot for a family that just a month ago was fleeing north with a hurricane on their heels. At that time, this Carrollton family felt there were no certainties.

After spending a month at Hirsch Coliseum, they came in contact with the Shreveport-Bossier Rescue Mission and became one of several families the Mission would help move into more long-term housing.

"We were ready to get out of that shelter," said Yolanda. "It felt so good to no longer have to be around all those people, to feel safe and have privacy again," she said.

The Loves have made one trip back south to retrieve a few personal belongings, but plan to make their new home in Shreveport. As for the Rescue Mission and all of those who support it, the Loves are grateful. "We want to thank everyone. We can't thank you enough," Yolanda said.

In the frenzy that was to follow, we expanded our services to accommodate the 'new homeless' who found their way to the Shreveport Bossier area. In the first days following the evacuation of New Orleans, the Rescue Mission worked with Red Cross officials and First Assembly of God to provide meals for the evacuees at Hirsch Coliseum. Mission Director Henry Martin saw the need to move families out of the shelters and immediately set staff to work, preparing Mission-owned houses in the community and putting the wheels into motion to acquire more homes. Residents staying at the Mission stepped up to help, volunteering their time to serve meals at the shelters, fix up the homes, or do anything they could to help others in need. Within days, Rescue Mission staff members Kerry Hemphill and Mike Kennedy were set up at the Hirsch, getting to know the evacuees, and helping to match their needs for housing with available housing opportunities. "In all my years of Social Service work, I've seen
