,1919 Integrated Architecture Liangyong Wu,2013-12-01 Integrated Architecture is both a historical and contemporary work The book was first published in 1989 by Wu Liangyong one of contemporary China's most influential architects and theoreticians with the title A General Theory on Architecture His eminence is also recognised by the international architectural community above all the group of architectural and urban planning theoreticians battling for a more decisive reform to the concepts methodologies and practices presiding over the construction and requalification of the contemporary metropolis I first met professor Wu Liangyong in 2005 at the Faculty of Architecture at the Tsinghua University of Beijing his Faculty Wu Liangyong founded the school in 1949 at the age of 24 together with Liang Sicheng the father of modern Chinese architectural studies From this moment more than sixty seven years ago professor Liangyong has remained a central figure in Beijing's academic community He remains a constant source of inspiration not only national to education reforms and above all theoretical methodological and operative research into architecture the city and the territory He is a rare figure present throughout a lengthy historical period witness the world over to tumultuous upheavals in society and its cities A period whose most dramatic and exalting manifestations were perhaps to be found in China a period of war of hope of revolutions of great leaps forward of presumptions horrors errors new leaps forward and incomprehensible economic growth of irreversible social and cultural metamorphoses and what interests us most as architects of staggering urban growth and territorial transformations The intellect of this minute and genteel figure held fast against the storms of history The observation of events and the humanist and scientific principles of his personal culture continuously nourished an increasingly more effective reflection on the meaning of architecture in today's world He also clearly saw its inextricable ties to the substance of the city and the impossibility to substitute the figure of the architect scientist humanist and artist A few years after our meeting having absorbed direct lessons from Wu's work as an architect and theoretician I proposed an Italian translation of an anthology of his writings The material was to be drawn from his many books and essays on architecture and the city published continuously over the course of his incomparable career Professor Wu Liangyong responded with a challenge in lieu of this anthology of texts he proposed a full translation in Italian and English of a book published twenty years ago 1989's A General Theory on Architecture Given the pace of cultural debate it would not have been out of place to imagine a book firmly sedimented in history I understood instead that it was a milestone in the expression of Wu Liangyong's ideas a benchmark that in all likelihood served as the starting point for his later theories even the most recent Published in other fundamental essays they range across the vast field of human settlements touching on all components of the man made environment Lucio Valerio Barbera Contested Architectural Pasts and Futures of a Regional City, Geelong, Australia Mirjana Lozanovska,Ursula de Jong,2024-10-03 This collection of essays highlights current debates for cities undergoing urban renewal focussing on regional cities as places that lead change Like many regional cities Geelong is grappling with the legacy of its industrial architectural heritage and identity This in depth study of the city of Geelong examines theories and

realities from the speculative to the mundane critical to change pre-empted by deindustrialisation While this book argues that architecture and the built environment are key to urban renewal an intersectional perspective on Geelong as a place raises contested pasts and territories This brings attention to the dispossession of First Nations people by British colonisers as well as the exploitation of immigrant communities in industrial production Informed by positions on design futures decolonising and cultural urbanisms adaptive re-use and the post-industrial city the chapters in this book expand an interdisciplinary field relevant to scholars and practitioners in heritage and conservation urban design community engagement and place making more generally

Urban Landscape Perspectives Giovanni Maciocco, 2008-02-01 Urban Landscape Perspectives explores how landscape terminology can be usefully brought into the urban debate The articles are by scholars who have a particular interest in and experience of the city project at various operative scales They include theoretical reflections on the landscape as an eminently project-like figure The book describes new methods and approaches dealing with the contemporary environment whether it is from the point of view of the city or the landscape

Computer-Aided Architectural Design: The Next City - New Technologies and the Future of the Built Environment Gabriela Celani, David Moreno Sperling, Juarez Moara Santos Franco, 2015-06-15 This book constitutes the refereed proceedings of the 16th International Conference on Computer Aided Architectural Design Futures CAAD Futures 2015 held in So Paulo Brazil in July 2015 The 33 revised full papers presented were carefully reviewed and selected from 200 submissions The papers are organized in topical sections on modeling analyzing and simulating the city sustainability and performance of the built space automated and parametric design building information modelling BIM fabrication and materiality shape studies

Planting New Towns in Europe in the Interwar Years Helen Meller, Heleni Porfyriou, 2016-06-22 The key theme of the papers in this book concerns the prospects of building new urban environments and creating new societies in Europe during the interwar years The contributions do not focus on the system of government communist fascist or democratic but rather on what actually got built by whom and why and how the international communication of ideas was filtered through the prism of local concerns and culture As such the volume serves to tease out connections between urban form and social aspirations and between the moral basis of social planning and how it was interpreted Did the new towns of the interwar years actually create a planned society where visions met realities aided by the design of new urban forms This is one of the principal questions investigated by the contributors here in all the different political contexts of their chosen new towns The Figure of Knowledge Sebastiaan Loosen,Rajesh Heynickx,Hilde Heynen,2020-10-01 It is a major challenge to write the history of post WWII architectural theory without boiling it down to a few defining paradigms An impressive anthologising effort during the 1990s charted architectural theory mostly via the various theoretical frameworks employed such as critical theory critical regionalism deconstructivism and pragmatism Yet the intellectual contours of what constitutes architectural theory have been constantly in flux It is therefore paramount to ask what kind of knowledge has become important in the recent history of architectural theory and how the resulting figure of knowledge sets the conditions for the actual arguments made The contributions in this volume focus on institutional geographical rhetorical and other conditioning factors They thus screen the unspoken rules of engagement that postwar architectural theory ascribed to Journal of the American Institute of Architects American Institute of Architects,1913
