Present Imperfect Andrew van der Vlies, 2017-05-26 Present Imperfect asks how South African writers have responded to the end of apartheid to the hopes that attended the birth of the new nation in 1994 and to the inevitable disappointments that have followed. The first full length study of affect in South Africa's literature it understands disappointment both as a description of bad feeling and as naming a missed appointment with all that was promised by the anti colonial and anti apartheid Struggle. A disappointment. Attending to contemporary writers treatment of temporality genre and form it considers a range of negative feelings that are also experiences of temporal disjuncture including stasis impasse boredom disaffection and nostalgia. Present Imperfect offers close readings of work by a range of writers some known to international Anglophone readers including J M Coetzee Nadine Gordimer Ivan Vladislavic and Zo Wicomb some slightly less well known including Afrikaans language novelists Marlene van Niekerk and Ingrid Winterbach and others from a new generation including Songeziwe Mahlangu and Masande Ntshanga. It addresses key questions in South African studies about the evolving character of the historical period in which the country now finds itself. It is also alert to wider critical and theoretical conversations looking outward to make a case for the place of South African writing in global conversations and mobilizing readings of writing marked in various ways as South African in order to complicate the contours of World Literature as category discipline and pedagogy. It is thus also a book about the discontents of neoliberalism the political energies of reading and the fates of literature in our troubled present. English Journal, 1973 1974-75 NCTE Guide to Teaching Materials for English, Grades 7-12 National Council of Teachers of English, 1974 Catalog of Copyright Entries, Third Series Library of Congress. Existential Utopia Michael Marder, Patricia Vieira, 2011-11-24 Radical political thought of the 20th century was dominated by utopia but the failure of communism in Eastern Europe and its disavowal in China has brought on the need for a new model of utopian thought This book thus seeks to redefine the concept of utopia and bring it to bear on today s politics The original essays contributed by key thinkers such as Gianni Vattimo and Jean Luc Nancy highlight the connection between utopian theory and practice The book reassesses the legacy of utopia and conceptualizes alternatives to the neo liberal technocratic regimes prevalent in today s world It argues that only utopia in its existential sense grounded in the lived time and space of politics can distance itself from mainstream ideology and not be at the service of technocratic regimes while paying attention to the material conditions of human life Existential Utopia offers a new and exciting interpretation of utopia in contemporary culture and a much needed intervention into the philosophical and political discussion of utopian thinking that is both accessible to students and comprehensive

Marxism and the Movies Mary K. Leigh, Kevin K. Durand, 2013-09-28 The work of Karl Marx is revered in social philosophy political science and literary criticism but there is an area where Marxism seems not to have penetrated That area is the study of popular culture especially the cinema where Marxism provides a useful lens through which seemingly disparate films can be explored As a whole the new essays assembled here approach a wide cross section of cinematic history and provide analysis of blockbusters cult hits comedies suspenseful dramas and history making films within a framework of power power relations and class struggle The collection brings to popular culture studies the same scholarly weight that attends the work of Aristotle or Plato or Derrida and at the same time presents that scholarship in an accessible style

Structure and Agency in Young People's Lives Magda Nico, Ana Caetano, 2021-05-12 Structure and Agency in Young People's Lives brings together different takes on the possible combinations of agency and structure in the life course thus rejecting the notion that young individuals are the single masters of their lives but also the view that their social destinies are completely out of their hands How did I get here This is a question young people have always asked themselves and is often asked by youth researchers There is no easy and single answer The lives that are told on one hand and their interpretation on the other may have the underlying idea of own doing or the idea of social determinism or more accurately and frequently a combination of the two This collection constitutes a comprehensive map on how to make sense of youth's biographies and trajectories it questions and reshapes the discussion on the role and responsibility of youth studies in the understanding of how people juggle opportunities and constraints and contributes to escaping what Furlong and Cartmel identified as the epistemological fallacy of late modernity in which young people find themselves responsible for collective failures or inevitabilities It can thus interest students researchers and professors youth workers and all of those who work for and with young people
