Rhoads,2020-05-07 Rivers are important agents of change that shape the Earth s surface and evolve through time in response to fluctuations in climate and other environmental conditions They are fundamental in landscape development and essential for water supply irrigation and transportation This book provides a comprehensive overview of the geomorphological processes that shape rivers and that produce change in the form of rivers It explores how the dynamics of rivers are being affected by anthropogenic change including climate change dam construction and modification of rivers for flood control and land drainage It discusses how concern about environmental degradation of rivers has led to the emergence of management strategies to restore and naturalize these systems and how river management techniques work best when coordinated with the natural dynamics of rivers This textbook provides an excellent resource for students researchers and professionals in fluvial geomorphology hydrology river science and environmental policy      Report Pennsylvania.
