Mathilde Vialard,2024-02-26 Drawing on the recent academic interest in approaching health and wellbeing from a humanities perspective Sensation Novels and Domestic Minds investigates how the Victorians dealt with questions of mental health by examining literary works in the genre of sensation fiction The novels of Mary Elizabeth Braddon and Wilkie Collins two prominent writers of the genre often portray characters suffering from mental illnesses commonly diagnosed at the time among which are monomania moral insanity melancholia and hypochondria By studying the fictional works of Braddon and Collins alongside medical texts from the nineteenth century it sets out to investigate how these novels fictionally represented

real mental sufferings This book considers the different mental illnesses the characters of sensation novels develop inside and outside the home as they struggle to define their own identity against Victorian social expectations It demonstrates how these novels fictionalised the crisis of the leisured upper classes who spent most of their time at home and found themselves at odds with a society that increasingly separated the domestic and working environments while also considering the impact that a lack of a sense of domestic belonging could have on their mental health Sensation Novels and Domestic Minds further analyses the extent to which domesticity in its excess or lack could afflict the mental health of Victorian men and women through the fictional representation of suicidal thoughts and acts in the novels of Braddon and Collins Century Path,1905 Folk-memory Walter Johnson,1908 A for Andromeda to Zoo Time National Film and Television Archive (Great Britain),1994-02 No Marketing Blurb International Film and TV Year Book ,1981 International Film and TV Yearbook ,1982 British Film and Television Year Book ,1962 Screen International Film and TV Year Book ,1984 Kine weekly ,1961 People of Today ,2002 British Film and Television Year Book Peter Noble,1975 Includes section Who s who in British films and television varies British Film and Television Yearbook ,1962 The Author's & Writer's Who's who Edward Martell,1971 Yearbook of International Organizations ,1984-12 The Columbia Granger's Index to Poetry in Anthologies ,2007
