Ethics Benedictus de Spinoza,1957 The Road to Inner Freedom Nyanaponika Mahathera,1982 Inner freedom Thích Nhật Từ,2014-04-14 PREFACE One of the great social problems of our contemporary world is the large and growing population within prisons The hundreds of thousands of inmates a large percentage of them young men who committed offenses in their teen years create a financial and human burden that has reached staggering proportions In the state of California in the USA prison budgets now exceed the allotment for higher education Those of us who visit and teach in prisons appreciate the willingness of a Buddhist leader such as Ven Thich Nhat Tu to address this issue directly showing tenderness and compassion for a group that are so often treated with indifference He reminds us of how methods and policies affect the welfare of those who have violated concrete prohibitions of communities As a Buddhist teacher he approaches this group with reference to individual conduct and uses the counsel and advice based on precepts of his tradition In the teaching he has used gentle and sensitive instruction aimed at the development of qualities and capacities latent in the individual listeners abilities that can help them face their situation Thus his goal has been to assist the inmates by giving help that will assist them in mastering some of the difficulties that are involved in prison life providing them with new knowledge to use as a part of their mental life It is difficult to fully comprehend the impact of his presence when he visits the facilities For many inmates after a long period of being away from family and friends there are no visitors no letters and no attention from loving and caring people When Ven Thich Nhat Tu enters to talk with them and spend time teaching and listening he is seen as an individual but also in an iconic fashion as the very embodiment of morality and compassion His message gives solace there can be an Inner Freedom even in the face of a daily life that is restricted For many of the inmates the hardest task is to live with the guilt they feel over their actions actions that caused harm and sorrow to others It is at this basic level of experience that the teachings provide the necessary quality for remorse to give the power to receive hold and absorb understanding of reality and the possibility of inner transformation It is a message that can have application to all of us as we face the problems of our past and present life Lewis Lancaster Emeritus Professor University of California Berkeley Adjunct Professor University of the West The Ethics Benedictus de Spinoza,1957 The Ethics of Spinoza Benedictus de Spinoza,1976 The seventeenth century Dutch philosopher views the ability to experience rational love of God as the key to mastering the contradictory and violent human emotions Growing in Inner Freedom Philip St. Romain,2010-08-07 40

Jacques Ellul, 2011-06-02 Pointing to the many contradictions between the Bible and the practice of the church Jacques Ellul asserts in this provocative and stimulating book that what we today call Christianity is actually far removed from the revelation of God Successive generations have reinterpreted Scripture and modeled it after their own cultures thus moving society further from the truth of the original gospel The church also perverted the gospel message for instead of simply doing away with pagan practice and belief it reconstituted the sacred set up its own religious forms and thus resacralized the world Ellul develops several areas in which this perversion is most obvious including the church's emphasis on moralism and its teaching in the political sphere The heart of the problem he says is that we have not accepted the fact that Christianity is a scandal we attempt to make it acceptable and easy and thus pervert its true message Ultimately however Ellul remains hopeful For in spite of all that has been done to subvert the message of God the Holy Spirit continues to move in the world Christianity writes Ellul never carries the day decisively against Christ I'm Not Going Down This Road Again Lady Dee, 2017-06-26 My book begins the barriers that cause breakups in marriages and relationships I tell my story of how God restored me through my separation and divorce You have to get rid of the junk in your trunk such as anger bitterness revenge low self esteem hostility resentment rejection trust and ability of letting go Through Jesus you can start healing and renewing your mind and spirit through forgiveness edification and a positive mental attitude that brings peace restoration and joy Once you have sought the kingdom then there is joy at the end of the tunnel To know that in order to live a peaceful and joyful life one must through the love of God put themselves on the right track and cut off all vices Joyful living is achieved through Godly thinking The most important condition of a joyful life is obeying God's standards for your life by simply practicing what we have heard and seen Examples of the fruits of the spirit are love joy peace long suffering gentleness goodness faith meekness and temperance Living virtuous lives in accordance to Gods plan takes discipline and obedience God tells us in Galatians 5 25 to not only live in the Spirit but walk in the Spirit and it continues in verse 26 which is telling us not to be vain in glory provoking one another and envying one another God points out that we have three great weapons to arm ourselves in pursuit of his kingdom faith hope and divine love Provides an update on my life today dating and enjoying life at the fullest Being happy and at peace with myself

The Road I Travel C. Raymond Holmes, 2011 If you desire to remain faithful to the end follow the road that C Raymond Holmes chose to travel the road that leads to life His deep riveting study of biblical spirituality combined with personal experiences from his own walk with God have resulted in an unshakable experience of faith one that he longs to impart

On Cultural Freedom Jeffrey C. Goldfarb, 1982 In this timely study Jeffrey C Goldfarb explores the nature and prospects of cultural freedom by examining the conditions that favor or threaten its development in the political East and West Goldfarb who examines conditions in the Soviet Union the United States and their respective European allies focuses most closely upon Poland and the United States He investigates a wide range of concrete cases including the Polish opposition movement and Solidarity the migration of artists the American television and magazine industries American philanthropy and communist cultural conveyor belts From these cases Goldfarb derives a definitive set of sociological conditions for cultural freedom critical creativity which resists systematic constraints continuity of cultural tradition and a relatively autonomous public realm for the reception of culture Cultural freedom Goldfarb shows is not a static state but a process of achievement Its parameters and content are determined by social practice in cultural institutions and by their relations with other components and the totality of social structure So defined cultural freedom is transformed from an ideological concept into one with real critical and analytical power Through it we can appreciate the invisible nature of constraint in the West and the unapparent but acting supports of cultural freedom existing in socialist countries Most importantly Goldfarb s conclusions provide a framework for understanding more clearly than before the circumstance of cultural freedom in both East and West so that citizens may utilize their full creative abilities as they address the problems of the present day
