Party System Changes and Challenges to Democracy Danica Fink-Hafner, 2024-03-19 This open access book focuses on the nexus between party system stability and democratic consolidation using Slovenia as a case study Its findings are presented from a comparative perspective to illustrate the commonalities and differences found in research on Central European post socialist countries and former Yugoslav countries On the one hand Slovenia s characteristics including the characteristics of its transition to democracy are far more similar to those of Central European post socialist countries than Western Balkan countries On the other Slovenia shares some similarities with other parts of the former Yugoslavia especially its experiences with the political system of socialist self management elements of a market economy under socialism and war following the end of socialism albeit the conflict in Slovenia was very short and rather mild in comparison to those in other parts of socialist Yugoslavia Slovenia s experiences with rapid but limited democratic backsliding under the Jan a government March 2019 June 2022 were halted by the 2022 national election in contrast to the more widely known cases of Hungary and Poland where such backsliding took place incrementally over a longer period of time that included several election cycles

Popular Politics and the Path to Durable Democracy Mohammad Ali Kadivar, 2022-11-22 A groundbreaking account of how prolonged grassroots mobilization lays the foundations for durable democratization When protests swept through the Middle East at the height of the Arab Spring the world appeared to be on the verge of a wave of democratization Yet with the failure of many of these uprisings it has become clearer than ever that the path to democracy is strewn with obstacles Mohammad Ali Kadivar examines the conditions leading to the success or failure of democratization shedding vital new light on how prodemocracy mobilization affects the fate of new democracies Drawing on a wealth of new evidence Kadivar shows how the longest episodes of prodemocracy protest give rise to the most durable new democracies He analyzes more than one hundred democratic transitions in eighty countries between 1950 and 2010 showing how more robust democracies emerge from lengthier periods of unarmed mobilization Kadivar then analyzes five case studies South Africa Poland Pakistan Egypt and Tunisia to investigate the underlying mechanisms He finds that organization building during the years of struggle develops the leadership needed for lasting democratization and strengthens civil society after dictatorship

Popular Politics and the Path to Durable Democracy challenges the prevailing wisdom in American foreign policy that democratization can be achieved through military or coercive interventions revealing how lasting change arises from sustained nonviolent grassroots mobilization A Place to Live Vuyisile Msila, 2014-12-01 A Place to Live provides captivating insights into the rich tapestry of meaning that fashioned the Red Location into the township that it became and the many stalwarts that contributed to its vibrant and interesting history Vuyisile Msila has masterfully interwoven history with visual images and actual accounts of people's lived experiences to relate the picturesque and colourful story of the Red Location from the colonial to apartheid and post apartheid eras spanning a period of a hundred and ten years from 1903 to 2013 The Oxford Handbook of Political Consumerism Magnus Boström, Michele Micheletti, Peter Oosterveer, 2019 This handbook is currently in development with individual articles publishing online in advance of print publication At this time we cannot add information about unpublished articles in this handbook however the table of contents will continue to grow as additional articles pass through the review process and are added to the site Please note that the online publication date for this handbook is the date that the first article in the title was published online

Albert Luthuli Robert Trent Vinson,2018-08-09 In an excellent addition to the Ohio Short Histories of Africa series Robert Trent Vinson recovers the important but largely forgotten story of Albert Luthuli Africa's first Nobel Peace Prize winner and president of the African National Congress from 1952 to 1967 One of the most respected African leaders Luthuli linked South African antiapartheid politics with other movements becoming South Africa's leading advocate of Mahatma Gandhi's nonviolent civil disobedience techniques He also framed apartheid as a crime against humanity and thus linked South African antiapartheid struggles with international human rights campaigns Unlike previous studies this book places Luthuli and the South African antiapartheid struggle in new global contexts and aspects of Luthuli's leadership that were not previously publicly known Vinson is the first to use new archival evidence numerous oral interviews and personal memoirs to reveal that Luthuli privately supported sabotage as an additional strategy to end apartheid This multifaceted portrait will be indispensable to students of African history and politics and nonviolence movements worldwide

The Crisis of South African Foreign Policy Matthew Graham,2015-09-28 The emergence of a new democratic South Africa under Nelson Mandela was regarded as a high watermark for international ideals of human rights and democracy Much was expected of the ANC in power particularly that it would be able to translate its ideals into a coherent foreign policy for the African continent Yet its foreign policy since 1994 has been mired in accusations of incoherence contradiction and failure Here based on extensive archival research and interviews Matthew Graham offers new ways of interpreting South Africa's foreign policy by investigating the continuities and discontinuities of the ANC's international relations from exile to political power Charting the political intrigues during the country's transition from apartheid and the subsequent influences on Presidents Mandela and Mbeki The Crisis of South African Foreign Policy makes a vital contribution to our understanding of why post apartheid South Africa has failed to lead Africa on the world stage

The ANC's War against Apartheid Stephen R. Davis,2018-02-02 This study of the armed wing of the African National Congress also contributes significantly to scholarship on liberation movements more broadly Gary Baines author of South Africa s Border War For nearly three decades the armed wing of the African National Congress ANC known as Umkhonto we Sizwe MK waged a violent revolutionary struggle against the apartheid state in South Africa Stephen Davis works with extensive oral testimonies and the heroic myths that were constructed after 1994 to offer a new history of this movement Davis deftly addresses the histories that reinforce the legitimacy of the ANC as a ruling party its longstanding entanglement with the South African Communist Party and efforts to consolidate a single narrative of struggle and renewal in concrete museums and memorials Davis shows that the history of MK is more complicated and ambiguous than previous laudatory accounts would have us believe and in doing so he discloses the contradictions of the liberation struggle as well as its political manifestations

Rural Resistance in South Africa Thembela Kepe,Lungisile Ntsebeza,2011-10-14 Drawing on scholarship from multiple disciplines this volume presents a fresh understanding of the Mpondo uprising in South Africa focusing on its meanings and significance in relation to land rural governance politics and the agency of the marginalized

Public History and Culture in South Africa Ali Khangela Hlongwane,Sifiso Mxolisi Ndlovu,2019-04-11 The post apartheid era in South Africa has in the space of nearly two decades experienced a massive memory boom manifest in a plethora of new memorials and museums and in the renaming of streets buildings cities and more across the country This memorialisation is intricately linked to questions of power liberation and public history in the making and remaking of the South African nation Ali Khangela Hlongwane and Sifiso Mxolisi Ndlovu analyse an array of these liberation heritage sites including the Hector Pieterse Memorial and Museum the June 16 1976 Interpretation Centre the Apartheid Museum and the Mandela House Museum foregrounding the work of migrant workers architects visual artists and activists in the practice of memorialisation As they argue memorialisation has been integral to the process of state and nation formation from the pre colonial era through the present day

Political Culture of the Russian 'Democrats' Alexander Lukin,2000-03-23 The Political Culture of Russian Democrats examines the origins and development of the world view of those who call themselves democrats in Russian in the last years of the USSR The book develops a distinct approach to the study of political culture and applies it to a specific social group members of the democratic movement in Soviet Russia The author examines the emergence of the ideas of Russian democrats during the Gorbachev era in Soviet politics and traces the development of those beliefs in the post Soviet era The book argues that the liberal and democratic terminology of western politics were assimilated by Russian political culture with the terms acquiring a different meaning

On the Cross Road of Polity, Political Elites and Mobilization Barbara Wejnert,Paolo Parigi,2016-12-21 This volume discusses the various interrelations

that exist within and between social and political phenomena An Ambulance on Safari Melissa Diane Armstrong, 2020-10-22 During the apartheid era thousands of South African political activists militants and refugees fled arrest by crossing into neighbouring southern African countries Although they had escaped political oppression many required medical attention during their period of exile An Ambulance on Safari describes the efforts of the African National Congress ANC to deliver emergency healthcare to South African exiles and in the same stroke to establish political legitimacy and foster anti apartheid sentiment on an international stage Banned in South Africa from 1960 to 1990 the ANC continued its operations underground in anticipation of eventual political victory styling itself as a government in waiting In 1977 it created its own Health Department which it presented as an alternative medical service and the nucleus of a post apartheid healthcare system By publicizing its own democratic policies as well as the racist practices of healthcare delivery in South Africa the Health Department won international attention for its cause and provoked widespread condemnation of the apartheid state While the global campaign was unfolding successfully the department's provision of healthcare on the ground was intermittent as patients confronted a fledgling medical system experiencing various growing pains Still the legacy of the department would be long as many medical professionals who joined the post apartheid Department of Health in South Africa had been trained in exile during the liberation struggle With careful attention to both the international publicity campaign and on the ground medical efforts An Ambulance on Safari reveals the intricate and significant political role of the ANC's Health Department and its influence on the anti apartheid movement Local Theories of Argument Dale Hampe, 2021-03-26 Argumentation is often understood as a coherent set of Western theories birthed in Athens and developing throughout the Roman period the Middle Ages the Enlightenment and Renaissance and into the present century Ideas have been nuanced developed and revised but still the outline of argumentation theory has been recognizable for centuries or so it has seemed to Western scholars The 2019 Alta Conference on Argumentation co sponsored by the National Communication Association and the American Forensic Association aimed to question the generality of these intellectual traditions This resulting collection of essays deals with the possibility of having local theories of argument local to a particular time a particular kind of issue a particular place or a particular culture Many of the papers argue for reconsidering basic ideas about arguing to represent the uniqueness of some moment or location of discourse Other scholars are more comfortable with the Western traditions and find them congenial to the analysis of arguments that originate in discernibly distinct circumstances The papers represent different methodologies cover the experiences of different nations at different times examine varying sorts of argumentative events speeches court decisions food choices and sound explore particular personal identities and the issues highlighted by them and have different overall orientations to doing argumentation scholarship Considered together the essays do not generate one simple conclusion but they stimulate reflection about the particularity or generality of the experience of arguing and therefore the scope of our theories Revisiting Metaphors in International Relations Theory Michael P. Marks, 2018-01-08 This book presents an analysis of how metaphors are essential elements in the study of international relations. It acknowledges the fact that theory and practice in international relations often rest on common metaphorical concepts which have implications for the ways people around the world pursue their lives. Because of the increased attention metaphors have received as integral elements in political discourse, there is a need to investigate metaphorical concepts that are not neutral in their implications for understanding international relations. Inasmuch as government policy is shaped by metaphorical concepts that originate in the academic realm and given that scholarly works are therefore partially involved in inspiring policy, the author subjects a range of metaphors in international relations theory to critical interrogation.
