Mohlenbrock, 2006-06-27 Part armchair travelogue part guide book, this projected three-volume series divided into the western, central, and eastern United States will introduce readers to all 155 national forests across the country. This Land is the only comprehensive field guide that describes the natural features, wildernesses, scenic drives, campgrounds, and hiking trails of our national forests, many of which, while little known and sparsely visited, boast features as spectacular as those found in our national parks and monuments. Each entry includes logistical information about size and location, facilities, attractions, and associated wilderness areas. For about half of the forests, Robert H. Mohlenbrock has provided sidebars on the biological or geological highlights drawn from the This Land column that he has written for Natural History magazine since 1984. Superbly illustrated with color photographs, botanical drawings, and maps, this book is loaded with information, clearly written, and easy to use. This volume covers national forests in Alabama, Florida, Georgia, Illinois, Indiana, Kentucky, Maine, Michigan, Mississippi, New Hampshire, New York, North Carolina, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Puerto Rico, South Carolina, Tennessee, Vermont, Virginia, West Virginia, Wisconsin. The Routledge Companion to Twenty-First-Century Irish Writing Anne Fogarty, Eugene O'Brien, 2024-12-20 This Companion brings together leading scholars in the field of Irish studies to explore the significance of twenty-first-century Irish writing and its flourishing popularity worldwide. Focusing on Irish writing published or performed in the twenty-first century, this volume explores genres, modes, and styles of writing that are current, relevant, and distinctive in today's classrooms. Examining a host of innovative key writers, including Sally Rooney, Marion Keyes, Sebastian Barry, Paul Howard, Claire Kilroy, Micheal O'Siadhail, Donal Ryan, Marina Carr, Enda Walsh, Martin McDonagh, Colette Bryce, Leanne Quinn, Sinéad Morrissey, Paula Meehan, Ailbhe Ní Ghearbhuigh, and Doireann Ní Ghríofa, this text investigates the sociocultural and theoretical contexts of their aesthetic achievements and innovations. Furthermore, The Routledge Companion to Twenty-First-Century Irish Writing traces the expansion of Irish writing, offering fresh insight to Irish identities across the boundaries of race, class, and gender. With its distinctive contemporary focus and comprehensive scope, this multifaceted volume provides the first significant literary history of twenty-first-century Irish literature. Islands, Identity and the Literary Imagination Elizabeth McMahon, 2016-07-09 Australia is the planet's sole island continent. This book argues that the uniqueness of this geography has shaped Australian history and culture, including its literature. Further, it shows how the fluctuating definition of the island continent throws new light on the relationship between islands and continents in the mapping of modernity. The book links the historical and geographical conditions of islands with their potent role in the imaginaries of European colonisation. It prisms apart the tangled web of geography, fantasy, desire, and writing that has framed the Western understanding of islands, both their real and material conditions and their symbolic power from antiquity into globalised modernity. The book also traces how this spatial imaginary has shaped the modern man who is imagined as being the island's mirror. The interrelationship of the island fantasy, colonial expansion and the literary construction of place and history created a new man, the dislocated and alienated subject of post colonial modernity. This book looks at the contradictory images of islands from the allure of the desert island as a paradise where the world can be made anew to their roles as prisons as these ideas are made concrete at moments of British colonialism. It also considers alternatives to viewing islands as objects of possession in the archipelagic visions of island theorists and writers. It compares the European understandings of the first and last of the new worlds, the Caribbean archipelago and the Australian island continent to calibrate the different ways these disparate geographies unified and fractured the concept of the planetary globe. In particular, it examines the role of the island in this process, specifically its capacity to figure a graspable globe in the mind. The book draws on the colonial archive and ranges across Australian literature from the first novel written and published in Australia by a convict on the island of Tasmania to both the ancient dreaming and the burgeoning literature of Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islanders in the twenty-first century. It discusses Australian literature in an international context, drawing on the long traditions of literary islands across a range of cultures. The book's approach is theoretical and engages with contemporary philosophy which uses the island and the archipelago as a key metaphor. It is also historicist and includes considerable original historical research.

Atlas of Imagined Places Matt Brown, Rhys B. Davies, 2021-09-28 WINNER Edward Stanford Travel Writing Awards 2022 Illustrated Travel Book of the Year HIGHLY COMMENDED British Cartographic Society Awards 2022 From Stephen King's Salem's Lot to the superhero land of Wakanda from Lilliput of Gulliver's Travels to Springfield in The Simpsons, this is a wondrous atlas of imagined places around the world. Locations from film, TV, literature, myths, comics and video games are plotted in a series of beautiful vintage-looking maps. The maps feature fictional buildings, towns, cities and countries, plus mountains and rivers, oceans and seas. Ever wondered where the Bates Motel was based? Or Bedford Falls in It's a Wonderful Life? The authors have taken years to research the likely geography of thousands of popular culture locations that have become almost real to us. Sometimes these are easy to work out, but other times a bit of detective work is needed, and the authors have been those detectives. By looking at the maps, you'll find that the revolution at Animal Farm happened next to Winnie the Pooh's home. Each location has an extended index entry plus coordinates so you can find it on the maps. Illuminating essays accompanying the maps give a great insight into the stories behind the imaginary places, from Harry Potter's wizardry to Stone Age Bedrock in The Flintstones. A stunning map collection of invented geography and topography drawn from the world's imagination. Fascinating and beautiful, this is an essential book for any popular culture fan and map enthusiast.

Atlantic Afterlives in Contemporary Fiction S. Ahlberg, 2016-04-08 Atlantic Afterlives in Contemporary Fiction offers fresh readings of what has been called transatlantic literature. In selected twentieth and twenty-first century texts, it discovers a shift from oceanic, place-based knowledge to an atmospheric, placeless circulation of information. Consonant with the displacements of the Information Age this book reads contemporary narrative as it imagines and navigates today's virtual spaces An important conclusion of the book is that intellectual resources are finite and should be used sustainably Thus arguing against a conventional comparative approach this book proposes reading practices that resist the tendency toward an oversupply of reworked literary contexts that seems bent on matching the reach of the World Wide Web Instead the book reimagines place as a practice in the way it is communicated and narrated Ultimately this book empowers the reader to reimagine a future for narrative in the Information Age

The Absolute Book Elizabeth Knox, 2021-02-09 A bewitching epic fantasy about a revenge killing a mysterious scroll box that has survived centuries of fires and the book that changed everything Intricately plotted and gorgeously written The Absolute Book is a cinematic tale that is by turns dark and dreamlike yet ultimately hopeful Deborah Harkness New York Times bestselling author of A Discovery of Witches An instant classic It is everything fantasy should be The Guardian Taryn Cornick believes that the past her sister's violent death and her own ill conceived revenge is behind her and she can get on with her life She has written a successful book about the things that threaten libraries insects damp light fire carelessness and uncaring but not all of the attention it brings her is good A policeman Jacob Berger questions her about a cold case Then there are questions about a fire in the library at her grandparents house and an ancient scroll box known as the Firestarter as well as threatening phone calls and a mysterious illness Finally a shadowy young man named Shift appears forcing Taryn and Jacob toward a reckoning felt in more than one world The Absolute Book is epic action packed fantasy in which hidden treasures are recovered wicked things resurface birds can talk and dead sisters are a living force It is a book of journeys and returns from contemporary England to Auckland New Zealand from a magical fairyland to Purgatory Above all it is a declaration of love for stories and the ways in which they shape our worlds and create gods out of mortals The Oxford History of the Novel in English Simon

Gikandi,2016-10-03 Why did the novel take such a long time to emerge in the colonial world And what cultural work did it come to perform in societies where subjects were not free and modes of social organization diverged from the European cultural centers where the novel gained its form and audience Answering these questions and more Volume 11 The Novel in Africa and the Caribbean since 1950 explores the institutions of cultural production that exerted influence in late colonialism from missionary schools and metropolitan publishers to universities and small presses How these structures provoke and respond to the literary trends and social peculiarities of Africa and the Caribbean impacts not only the writing and reading of novels in those regions but also has a transformative effect on the novel as a global phenomenon Together the volume s 32 contributing experts tell a story about the close relationship between the novel and the project of decolonization and explore the multiple ways in which novels enable readers to imagine communities beyond their own and thus made this form of literature a compelling catalyst for cultural transformation The authors show that even as the novel grows in Africa and the Caribbean as a mark of the elites mastery of European form it becomes the essential instrument for critiquing colonialism and for articulating the new horizons of cultural nationalism Within this historical context the volume examines works by authors such as Chinua Achebe Nadine Gordimer George Lamming Jamaica Kincaid V S Naipaul Zoe Wicomb J M Coetzee and many others Book Dealers' Weekly ,1925
