Toward a More Visual Literacy Jennifer S. Dail,Shelbie Witte,Steven T. Bickmore,2018-05-04 Technology and multimodal texts must be included as part of the literacies we teach in 21st century schools Implementing multiple modes of literacy requires that teachers shift their focus toward multiple genres and modes of text This shift to the visual requires that teachers consider how students read images in the classroom address visual literacy and engage students in constructing visual texts Students already live and communicate in a virtual world connected by expansive networks and many also read young adult literature Given this researchers and practitioners in the field examine ways texts written for students can be combined with digital tools to craft more critical conversations around literary response and digital media consumption and production This book explores ways adolescents read engage and construct meaning within the world around them and examines how teachers can leverage the use of young adult literature with digital practices within their classrooms

Alternating Narratives in Fiction for Young Readers Perry Nodelman,2017-04-17 This book is about the implications of novels for young readers that tell their stories by alternating between different narrative lines focused on different characters It asks if you make sense of fiction by identifying with one main character how do you handle two or more of them Do novels with alternating narratives diverge from longstanding conventions and represent a significant change in literature for young readers If not how do these novels manage to operate within the parameters of those conventions This book considers answers to these questions by means of a series of close readings that explore the structural educational and ideological implications of a variety of American British Canadian and Australian novels for children and for young adults

Crossing Textual Boundaries in International Children's Literature Lance Weldy,2011-01-18 As the first part of the title indicates my interest in looking at intertextuality and transformation still maintains a prominent place throughout this book as well If we believe that no text is an island then we will understand that the relationships between and within texts across the years become a fascinating place for academic inquiry I included the word boundaries into the title because we never get tired of voicing our opinions about texts which traverse relegated boundaries such as genre or medium Not only am I interested in discussing what these changes across boundaries mean socially historically and culturally but also what they mean geographically which accounts for the second part of my title I am very excited that this book will be placing even more emphasis on children's literature in an international scene than my first book did in the sense that I have added more scholars on an international level I hesitate to list the nationalities of all of the contributors here because quite a few have themselves crossed international boundaries in different ways by either studying abroad or finding permanent residency in foreign countries Nevertheless the writers have lived extensively in or identify as being from Australia Canada England Finland Germany Greece Iceland Ireland Israel Norway Spain Sweden Turkey the United States of America and Wales Introduction A Passion for Print Kristine Mahood, 2006-03-30 Get teens excited about reading by using your own love of books along with a good dose of market savvy This simple upbeat guide is packed with practical guidelines and a wealth of exciting ideas for promoting books and reading through everything you do from collection building designing the space and creating a Web site to booktalking readers advisory and special events A practical step by step approach Promoting books and reading is one of your most important roles but reaching teens and inspiring them to read can be a challenge especially now when teens have so many other commitments and interests This guide will inspire you to build your book knowledge and combine it with marketing savvy to bring teens together with books and reading Drawing upon recent research on teens and libraries the author offers practical guidelines and a wealth of exciting ideas for environmental reading promotions collection building designing the space creating publicity materials and developing the web site as well as interactive promotions communication with teens readers advisory booktalking partnering with other organizations and book related activities and events Based on the author's experience and the experience of others who work with teens the book provides librarians and other educators with a simple handy and upbeat guide Grades 6-12 Teen Programs with Punch Valerie Ott, 2006-06-30 Looking for some fresh program ideas for your teen patrons Want to change those bored expressions on teen faces to eager smiles This guide offers a stimulating selection of program ideas that will appeal to teens between the ages of 12 and 18 throughout the year Recognizing that there is no such thing as a typical teenager the programs represent a broad range of interests from arts and crafts workshops to educational programs to purely recreational activities from serious to serious fun Programs for all seasons include Goth Gathering Intolerance Forum Night at the Oscars Library Fear Factor Find Your Future and Cyber Safety Everything you need to get started is here from the nitty gritty details like supply lists and approximate costs to practical step by step instructions Collection connections and ideas for promotion enhance the guide And there are also suggestions for those times when time is short and money is tight A wonderful combination of inspiration and practicality and of start to finish guidance for successful teen programming Grades 6-12 Teaching Literature to Adolescents Richard Beach, Deborah Appleman, Bob Fecho, Rob Simon, 2020-12-28 Now in its fourth edition this popular textbook introduces prospective and practicing English teachers to current methods of teaching literature in middle and high school classrooms This new edition broadens its focus to cover important topics such as critical race theory perspectives on teaching fiction nonfiction and drama the integration of digital literacy and teacher research for ongoing learning and professional development It underscores the value of providing students with a range of different critical approaches and tools for interpreting texts It also addresses the need to organize literature instruction around topics and issues of interest to today's adolescents By using authentic dilemmas and contemporary issues the authors encourage preservice English teachers and their instructors to raise and explore inquiry based questions that center on the teaching of a variety of literary texts both classic and contemporary traditional and digital New to the Fourth Edition Expanded attention to digital tools multimodal learning and teaching online New examples of teaching contemporary texts Expanded discussion and illustration of formative assessment Revised response activities for incorporating young adult literature into the literature curriculum Real world examples of student work to illustrate how students respond to the suggested strategies Extended focus on infusing multicultural and diverse literature in the classroom Each chapter is organized around specific questions that preservice teachers consistently raise as they prepare to become English language arts teachers The authors model critical inquiry throughout the text by offering authentic case narratives that raise important considerations of both theory and practice A companion website a favorite of English education instructors <http://teachingliterature.pbworks.com> provides resources and enrichment activities inviting teachers to consider important issues in the context of their current or future classrooms
