Toward a Philosophy of the Documentarian Dan Geva, 2018-04-03 The theme of this book is the documentarian what the documentarian is and how we can understand it as a concept Working from the premise that the documentarian is a special extended sign the book develops a model of a quadruple sign structure for and of the documentarian growing out of enduring traditions in philosophy semiotics psychoanalysis and documentary theory Dan Geva investigates the intellectual premise that allows the documentarian to show itself as an extremely sophisticated creative and purposeful being in the world one that is both embedded in its own history and able to manifest itself throughout its entire documentary life project as a stand alone conceptual phase in the history of ideas Performing New Media, 1890-1915 Kaveh Askari, Scott Curtis, Frank Gray, Louis Pelletier, 2014-05-29 Essays examining the effects of media innovations in cinema at the turn of the twentieth century affected performances on screen as well as beside it In the years before the First World War showmen entrepreneurs educators and scientists used magic lanterns and cinematographs in many contexts and many venues To employ these silent screen technologies to deliver diverse and complex programs usually demanded audio accompaniment creating a performance of both sound and image These shows might include live music song lectures narration and synchronized sound effects provided by any available party projectionist local talent accompanist or backstage crew and would often borrow techniques from shadow plays and tableaux vivants The performances were not immune to the influence of social and cultural forces such as censorship or reform movements This collection of essays considers the ways in which different visual practices carried out at the turn of the twentieth century shaped performances on and beside the screen

Subject to Reality Shilyh Warren, 2019-05-16 Revolutionary thinking around gender and race merged with new film technologies to usher in a wave of women s documentaries in the 1970s Driven by the various promises of second wave feminism activist filmmakers believed authentic stories about women would bring more people into an imminent revolution Yet their films soon faded into obscurity Shilyh Warren reopens this understudied period and links it to a neglected era of women s filmmaking that took place from 1920 to 1940 another key period of thinking around documentary race and gender Drawing women s cultural expression during these two explosive times into conversation Warren reconsiders key debates about subjectivity feminism realism and documentary and their lasting epistemological and material consequences for film and feminist studies She also excavates the lost ethnographic history of women s documentary filmmaking in the earlier era and explores the political and aesthetic legacy of these films in more explicitly feminist periods like the Seventies Filled with challenging insights and new close readings Subject to Reality sheds light on a profound and unexamined history of feminist documentaries while revealing their influence on the filmmakers of today
