The Incorporative Consciousness of Robert Bly Victoria Frenkel Harris, 1992 Victoria Frenkel Harris traces the aesthetic journey of poet Robert Bly from his early structured works of mystical imagery and lyrical landscapes to his recent explorations of intimate relationships and male socialization Examining the various ways Bly's prose poems articulate his opposition to the Vietnam War and his recent writings manipulate more formal patterns in detailing the intricacies of human relationships Harris labels this evolution in form subject and imagery the incorporative consciousness incorporative because it assimilates Jungian psychological categories international poetic traditions and a compelling breadth of topics Harris relies in part on contemporary feminist theory to throw revealing new light on Bly's recent works Though sympathetic to Bly Harris finds that in spite of his affirmation of the interaction of psychic creative and intellectual energies in both sexes the poet's later erotic poems tend to objectify women in counterproductive ways Bly's idealization of woman as a Jungian universal Harris contends can blind him toward actual women Harris is at her best as she delimits with balance and precision the full complexity of the poet's work

Englishness and Post-imperial Space Milton Sarkar, 2016-02-08 Englishness and Post imperial Space The Poetry of Philip Larkin and Ted Hughes probes into the English mindset immediately after the British withdrawal from the colonies and examines how the loss of power and global prestige affected contemporary poetry particularly that of Philip Larkin and Ted Hughes Frustration and disillusionment even anger characterised the era and many of the literary works the period produced Most writers became insular and were obsessed with the English elements in their writing The great international and cosmopolitan themes of Eliot for instance were replaced by those of narrow domestic importance It is in such a context this book argues that Larkin and Hughes returned to the old England most notably to the themes of gradually vanishing pristine landscape and national myths and legends to the archetypal English customs and conventions It examines their poetry mainly from the perspective of Englishness a burgeoning area of academic interest Intricately connected with the values emanating from England as a geographical and socio cultural space Englishness as a concept is intrinsic to the identity of a people who gradually became globally powerful The loss of empire dealt a severe blow to this sense of the self This book explores the dynamics of the representation of this sense of loss and the frustration it produced in the poems of Larkin and Hughes Lofty Dogmas: Poets on Poetry (p) , 2005 Compiled by three noted poets this is an eclectic stimulating and informed selection of poets remarks on poetry spanning eras ethnicities and aesthetics The 102 selections from nearly as many poets reach back to the Greeks and Romans then draw on Chaucer Shakespeare Sidney and Milton on to Shelley Keats Coleridge and Poe then Hopkins Yeats Eliot Rilke and Pound concluding with many of our contemporaries including Hall Clifton Mackey Kunitz and Rukeyser The book is divided into three sections Musing concerns issues of inspiration Making issues of craft from diction to meter to persona and voice and Mapping the role of poetry and the poet Headnotes at the beginning of each selection provide background information about the poet and commentary on the significance of the selection There is also a useful appendix with a listing of essays arranged according to more specific topics As the poets write in their introduction This book was intended to deepen readers understanding of age old poetic ideas while at the same time pointing out new directions for thinking about poetry juxtaposing the familiar and the strange reconfiguring old boundaries and shaking up stereotypes
