intellectual and emotional energies Robert Browning John Woolford, Daniel Karlin, 2014-09-11 Robert Browning 1812-89 rivals Tennyson as the major Victorian poet with such important works as Dramatic Lyrics, Dramatic Romances and Lyrics Men and Women, Dramatic Personae and the monumental The Ring and the Book. He is known for his development of the dramatic monologue in which he recreated the world of Renaissance Italy and provided subtle and complex explorations of character. Here Daniel Karlin and John Woolford provide a thematic survey of Browning's often difficult work using key poems as a common point of reference. The themes covered include styles, genres, the mind, the world, interaction and criticism. This excellent survey will be of value to students of Victorian literature and modernism. The Dramatic Imagination of Robert Browning Richard S. Kennedy, Donald S. Hair, 2007 Browning's Beginnings Herbert F. Tucker Jr., 1980-12-31 Browning's Beginnings was first published in 1980. Minnesota Archive Editions uses digital technology to make long unavailable books once again accessible and are published unaltered from the original University of Minnesota Press editions. Browning's Beginnings offers a fresh approach to the poet who among major Victorians has proved at once the most congenial and most inscrutable to modern readers. Drawing on recent developments in literary theory and in the criticism of romantic poetry, Herbert F. Tucker Jr. argues that Browning's stylistic obscurity is the result of a principled poetics of evasion. This art of disclosure in deferring formal and semantic finalities constitutes an aesthetic counterpart to his open-ended moral philosophy of incompleteness. Browning's poems like his enormously productive career find their motivation and sustenance in his optimistic love of the future, a love that is indistinguishable from his lifelong fear that there will be nothing left to say. The opening chapters trace the workings of Browning's art of disclosure with extensive and original interpretations of the unduly neglected early poems Pauline, Paracelsus and Sordello and place special emphasis on Browning's attitudes toward poetic tradition and language. A chapter on Browning's attitudes toward poetic tradition and language. A chapter on Browning's plays identifies dynamics of representation in Pippa Passes, Strafford and King Victor and King Charles. Tucker discusses the pervasive analogy between Browning's ideas about poetic representation and about representation in its erotic and religious aspects and shows how the early poems and plays illustrate correlative developments in poetics and in the exploration and dramatic rendering of human psychology. The remaining chapters follow the poetic psychology of Browning to its culmination in the great poems of his middle years. Exemplary readings of selected dramatic lyrics and monologues suggest that the ways of meaning in Browning's mature work variously bear out the sense of endlessness or perpetual initiation that is central to his poetic beginnings. Tucker thus contends that the romantic and the Victorian Browning have more in common than is generally supposed and his book should appeal to students of both periods. Its discussion of general literary issues, poetic influence, closure, representation and meaning in application to particular texts should further recommend Browning's Beginnings to the nonspecialist reader interested in poetry and poetic theory. Browning and Wordsworth John Haydn Baker, 2004 This book will be of interest to students of English literature, particularly those working on Bloomian influence.

theory Wordsworth or Browning as well as to more senior scholars working on poetry of the Romantic and Victorian periods The work will also interest those working on the deeply ambiguous figure of the later Browning simultaneously the most popular poet in the country after Tennyson and one of the most uncompromisingly complex and his vexed relationship with the reading public

BOOK JACKET The Female Sublime from Milton to Swinburne Catherine Maxwell, 2001 This innovative study of vision gender and poetry traces Milton's mark on Shelley Tennyson Browning and Swinburne to show how the lyric male poet achieves vision at the cost of symbolic blindness and feminisation Drawing together a wide range of concerns including the use of myth the gender of the sublime the lyric fragment and the relation of pain to creativity this book is a major re-evaluation of the male poet and the making of the English poetic tradition The female sublime from Milton to Swinburne examines the feminisation of the post-Miltonic male poet not through cultural history but through a series of mythic or classical figures which include Philomela Orpheus and Sappho It recovers a disfiguring sublime imagined as an aggressive female force which feminises the male poet in an act that simultaneously deprives and energises him This book will be required reading for anyone with a serious interest in the English poetic tradition and Victorian poetry

Browning, Victorian Poetics and the Romantic Legacy Dr Britta Martens, 2013-05-28 Taking an original approach to Robert Browning's poetics Britta Martens focuses on a corpus of relatively neglected poems in Browning's own voice in which he reflects on his poetry his self-conceptualization and his place in the poetic tradition She analyzes his work in relation to Romanticism Victorian reactions to the Romantic legacy and wider nineteenth-century changes in poetic taste to argue that in these poems as in his more frequently studied dramatic monologues Browning deploys varied dramatic methods of self-representation often critically and ironically exposing the biases and limitations of the seemingly authoritative speaker Browning The poems thus become devices for Browning's detached evaluation of his own and of others poetics an evaluation never fully explicit but presented with elusive economy for the astute reader to interpret The confrontation between the personal authorial voice and the dramatic voice in these poems provides revealing insights into the poet's highly self-conscious conflicted and sustained engagement with the Romantic tradition and the diversely challenging reader expectations that he faces in a post-Romantic age As the Victorian most rigorous in his rejection of Romantic self-expression Browning is a key transitional figure between the sharply antagonistic periods of Romanticism and Modernism He is also as Martens persuasively demonstrates a poet of complex contradictions and an illuminating case study for addressing the perennial issues of voice authorial authority and self-reference
