Eye of the Sixties Judith E. Stein,2024-05-01 An evocative portrait of one of the most influential and enigmatic American art dealers of the 1960s Barbara Rose The New York Times In 1959 Richard Bellamy was a witty poetry loving beatnik on the fringe of the New York art world By 1965 he was representing Mark di Suvero had been the first to show Andy Warhol s pop art and had introduced the new genre of installation art An eccentric art dealer and founder of the Green Gallery on Fifty Seventh Street Bellamy helped discover many of the innovative successors to the abstract expressionists including Claes Oldenburg James Rosenquist Donald Judd Dan Flavin Walter de Maria and many others But uninterested in anything more than showing the artists he loved Bellamy slowly slid into obscurity while fellow dealers such as Leo Castelli and Sidney Janis capitalized on the stars he helped find Based on decades of research and on hundreds of interviews with Bellamy s artists friends colleagues and lovers Judith E Stein s Eye of the Sixties rescues the legacy of the elusive art dealer and tells the story of a counterculture that became the mainstream Ranging from the Beat orbits of Provincetown to white glove events like Guggenheim s opening gala from Norman Mailer s parties to historic downtown Happenings Richard Bellamy s story is a remarkable window on the art of the twentieth century and the making of a generation s aesthetic Judith E Stein s engrossing impressively researched consistently readable and often entertaining tale restores a crucial figure to his rightful place in the annals of postwar American art Lilly Wei Art in America By using Belamy s unlikely ascent as a prism Ms Stein brings to vibrant life a corner of the culture that was as outrageous as it was visually revolutionary Ann Landi The Wall Street Journal A man of shrewd and impeccable taste Bellamy s role in promoting the often misunderstood art of abstract expressionism pop and minimalism was profound This is an endearing and illuminating work of biography A shadowy figure of the 1960s art world is gloriously revealed Kirkus Reviews

Art After the Bomb Darrell D. Davisson,2008 This book is requisite reading material for any person claiming to be an educated and informed member of the global community Our understanding in the West of the Eastern cultures specially the different cultures involving the Muslims is alarmingly low The book strives to offer a view from the ground a keyhole perspective that offers the readers a close and personal peek into some of the ethical underpinnings and the philosophical guiding parameters that inform the Muslim and the Eastern mind There are over 1.3 billion Muslims in the world It would be a serious intellectual fallacy to assume that they are all homogenous or to be more preposterous assume they are all terrorists It is extremely tragic that it took the Iranian hostage crisis to teach us about Shia Islam and 9/11 to teach us about Wahabi Islam Properly acquired knowledge not just what we learn from the media will allow us to be anticipatory and rational rather than being reactive and emotional For the Muslim reader specially the children and the youth the book strives to offer a deeper understanding of Islam beyond the boundaries of ritual Islam into the wide open space of spiritual and intellectual Islam To inspire them to appreciate and live up to the wonderful legacy of Islam and not to be mired down into some deviant interpretations of people with questionable motives The book is designed to encourage the process of tearing down walls and building bridges We share common dreams aspirations and challenges We share a common globe and a common destiny The author believes that there are no clashes of civilizations just clashes of ignorance and misunderstanding

Video Art Historicized Malin Hedlin Hayden, 2016-03-03 Video art emerged as an art form that from the 1960s and onwards challenged the concept of art hence art historical practices From the perspective of artists critics and scholars engaged with this new medium art was seen as too limiting a notion Important issues were to re think art as a means for critical investigations and a demand for visual reconsiderations Likewise art history was argued to be in crisis and in need of adapting its theories and methods in order to produce interpretations and thereby establish historical sense for moving images as fine art Yet as this book argues video art history has evolved into a discourse clinging to traditional concepts ideologies and narrative structures manifested in an increasing body of texts Video Art Historicized provides a novel insightful and also challenging re interpretation of this field by examining the discourse and its own premises It takes a firm conceptual approach to the material examining the conceptual theoretical and methodological implications that are simultaneously contested by both artists and authors yet intertwined in both the legitimizing and the historicizing processes of video as art By engaging art history s most debated concepts canon art and history this study provides an in depth investigation of the mechanisms of the historiography of video art Scrutinizing various narratives on video art the book emphasizes the profound and widespread hesitations towards but also the efforts to negotiate traditional concepts and practices By focusing on the politics of this discourse theoretical issues of gender nationality and particular themes in video art Malin Hedlin Hayden contests the presumptions that inform video art and its history The Concrete Body Elise Archias, 2016-12-06 Cover Half title Title Copyright Contents Acknowledgments Introduction When the Body Is the Material 1 Hurray for People Yvonne Rainer 2 Concretions Carolee Schneemann 3 Reasons to Move Vito Acconci Coda Forming the Senses Notes Bibliography Index A B C D E F G H I J K L M N O P R S T U V W Y Z Illustration Credits The Contingent Object of Contemporary Art Martha Buskirk, 2005-02-18 An exploration of transformations in the nature of the art object and artistic authorship in the last four decades In this book Martha Buskirk addresses the interesting fact that since the early 1960s almost anything can and has been called art Among other practices contemporary artists have employed mass produced elements impermanent materials and appropriated imagery have incorporated performance and video and have created works through instructions carried out by others Furthermore works of art that lack traditional signs of authenticity or permanence have been embraced by institutions long devoted to the original and the permanent Buskirk begins with questions of authorship raised by minimalists use of industrial materials and methods including competing claims of ownership and artistic authorship evident in conflicts over the right to fabricate artists works Examining recent examples of appropriation she finds precedents in pop art and the early twentieth century readymade and explores the intersection of contemporary artistic copying and the system of copyrights trademarks and brand names characteristic of other forms of commodity production She also investigates the ways that connections between work and context have transformed art and institutional conventions the impact of new materials on definitions of medium the role of the document as both primary and secondary object and the significance of conceptually oriented performance work for the intersection of photography and the human body in contemporary art Buskirk explores how artists active in the 1980s and 1990s have recombined strategies of the art of the 1960s and 1970s She also shows how the mechanisms through which art is presented shape not only readings of the work but the work itself She uses her discussion of the readymade and conceptual art to explore broader issues of authorship reproduction context and temporality professional art training in the American university Singerman's book reveals the ways we have conceived of art in the past hundred years and have institutionalized that conception as atelier activity as craft and finally as theory and performance Nearly every artist under the age of fifty in the United States today has a Master of Fine Arts degree Howard Singerman's thoughtful study is the first to place that degree in its proper historical framework and ideological context Arguing that where ar
