Robert Bridges, Poet Laureate Thomas Herbert Warren, 2017-02-18 Excerpt from Robert Bridges Poet Laureate Readings From His Poems A Public Lecture Delivered in the Examination Schools on November 8 1913

Undoubtedly the event of the vacation for us in Oxford the event of the year in the English literary world was the appointment of our neighbour the friend of many of us Mr Robert Bridges to be Poet Laureate The friend of many of us I ought to tell you at the outstart that I am an old friend and I speak with the partiality of an old friend You may discount my Opinion if you will proportionately But it is my belief that it is an event and an appointment of no small or brief importance I would begin with one word or rather really two words of congratulation I would congratulate Mr Bridges in your name and in the name of his university of which he has shown himself not only such a worthy but such a loyal and affectionate son And I would congratulate that other son of Oxford the Prime Minister and thank him for not having listened to those in Parliament and elsewhere who would fain have persuaded him to abolish this historic and picturesque office About the Publisher
