Robert Penn Warren Reads Selected Poems:

Selected Poems of Robert Penn Warren Robert Penn Warren, 2001-03-01 John Burt's Selected Poems of Robert Penn Warren is more broadly representative of Warren's poetry than any previous selected gathering. More than two hundred poems from every phase grace the volume, a vehicle ideal for sampling or soaking in the finest of Warren's rich output. With each poem Burt has carefully located the version that constitutes Warren's final revision. His introduction gives an eloquent overview of the poet's career, touching on every published book of verse and highlighting significant lines. A selected collection in the truest sense, featuring several previously unpublished pieces, this treasure is at once new and familiar. At the heart of Warren's poetry is a celebration of man's intellect and imagination, his integral place within nature and his relationship to time and the past. Ultimately, joy coexists with the knowledge of life's many mysteries, including its tragedies. Selected Poems, a generous survey and a convenient compendium, is the shining portal to this greatly gifted poet. The

Collected Poems of Robert Penn Warren Robert Penn Warren, 1998-10-01 Winner of the C. Hugh Holman Award. A central figure in twentieth-century American literature, Robert Penn Warren (1905-1989) was appointed by the Library of Congress as the first Poet Laureate of the United States in 1985. Although better known for his fiction, especially his novel All the King's Men, it is mainly his poetry, spanning sixty years, fifteen volumes of verse, and a wide range of styles, that reveals Warren to be one of America's foremost men of letters. In this indispensable volume, John Burt Warren, his literary executor, has assembled every poem Warren ever published, with the exception of Brother to Dragons, including the many poems he published in The Fugitive and other magazines, as well as those that appeared in his small press works and broadsides. Burt has also exhaustively collated all of the published versions of Warren's poems, which in some cases appeared as many as six different times, with substantive revisions in every line, as well as his typescripts and proofs. And since Warren never seemed to reread any of his books without a pencil in his hand, Burt has referred to Warren's personal library copies. This comprehensive edition also contains textual notes, lists of emendations, and explanatory notes. Warren was born and raised in Guthrie, Kentucky, where southern agrarian values and a predilection for storytelling were ingrained in him as a young boy. By 1925, when he graduated from Vanderbilt University, he was already the most promising of that exceptional set of poets and intellectuals known as the Fugitives. Warren devoted most of the 1940s and 1950s to writing prose and literary criticism, but from the late 1950s he composed primarily poetry, with each successive volume of verse that he penned demonstrating his rigorous and growing commitment to that genre. The mature visionary power and technical virtuosity of his work in the 1970s and early 1980s emanated from his strongly held belief that only insofar as the work of art establishes and expresses a self can it engage us. Many of Warren's later poems, which he deemed some of his best, rejoice in the possibilities of old age and the poet's ability for continually expanding in a vital process of definition, affirmation, revision, and growth, a process that is the image, we may say, of the life process. Selected Letters of Robert Penn Warren Robert Penn Warren, 2013-12-16 In the last decade of his life Robert Penn Warren remained a vibrant force in American literature producing new works of poetry and nonfiction while also dealing courageously with the gradual decline of his health and the diminishment of his poetic powers Toward Sunset at a Great Height 1980 1989 the sixth and final volume of the author's selected letters provides crucial documentation of this period containing Warren's correspondence with friends family fellow writers editors critics and the scholars studying his works Warren published several volumes of poetry including Being Here 1980 Rumor Verified 1981 and Chief Joseph of the Nez Perce 1983 and returned to nonfiction prose with Jefferson Davis Gets His Citizenship Back 1980 and the memoir Portrait of a Father 1988 His letters reveal that he tried to begin writing a novel but was unable to make substantial progress on it and that from 1985 on he became increasingly dissatisfied with his new poems Until his death at age eighty four however Warren maintained an active correspondence filled with news about his writings and travels accounts of the lives of his wife and children and a stoic attitude about his own physical decline as well as a solicitousness regarding the health of others such as his brother Thomas and sister Mary He communicated with rising young scholars and encouraged younger poets he admired Toward Sunset at a Great Height offers rich insights into the closing chapter of Robert Penn Warren's professional and personal life making it an essential resource for understanding the full scope of the author's contribution to American letters

At least since the dawn of the Romantic era it has been assumed that the poet lives a lonely life isolated in his garret Nevertheless writers are not always hermits and misanthropes As human beings they crave the company of other human beings as artists they need the stimulation of other artists This book brings to light Warren's most important literary associations during his long and active life

Selected Letters of Robert Penn Warren Volume three provides an indispensable glimpse of Warren the writer and the man covering a crucial decade in his life Edited by Randy Hendricks and James A Perkins and introduced by William Bedford Clark this collection of largely previously unpublished letters and newly discovered material documents Warren's time at the University of Minnesota his writing and publication of the Pulitzer Prize winning novel All the King's Men his appointment as Consultant in Poetry at the Library of Congress and his divorce from Emma Cinina Brescia and subsequent marriage to the writer Eleanor Clark The period 1943 1952 also saw the publication of A Poem of Pure Imagination World Enough and Time The Ballad of Billie Potts At Heaven's Gate and Selected Poems 1923 1943 Warren's letters shed new light on those works and on his close relationship with his editors Lambert Davis and Albert Erskine Included too is correspondence concerning Warren's collaboration with Robert Rossen on the movie production of All the King's Men which received the Academy Award for best picture in 1949 The list of friends and colleagues with whom Warren communicated reads like a roll call of major
